Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, July 25. [To the Editor of The Times:] We signed the peace treaty Wednesday and at the same time scrapped three cruisers that we were building. Ramsay MacDonald had bragged on us. Every time some nation declares their good feeling for us we have a conference, get the cameras together and sign something. Every time we declare our love for some of them they get their architects together and build something. The bigger you are the easier you fall for the old flattery.

Claremore, Okla., has ordered 300 feet of garden hose and two months' rations of sandwiches. They are either going out for the endurance record or the next Democratic convention.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

WAR FLARE IMMINENT

Moscow Fears Armed Clash

Atrocities by Chinese and White Russians Along Railway Reported

Latter Said to be Extremely Active in Directing Invasions

MOSCOW, July 25. (AP)—Disturbing reports of atrocities by Chinese military and White Russian bands along the Chinese Eastern Railway continue to reach Moscow, creating grave apprehensions in the minds of soviet leaders lest provocative acts force the Red army to rescue soviet citizens.

Mass arrests, beatings and tortures of soviet citizens were said to have become a daily occurrence while police raiding all habitations along the Chinese Eastern Railway were inflicting severe punishment on Russian laborers who had not reported for work since the break in diplomatic relations.

CLASH FEARED

Soviet citizens and employees of the railway were reported to be desperately attempting to return to Russian territory. Forty Russians arrested at Pogranitchnaya, according to the reports, were sent in chains without food to Harbin. In all several hundred Russians had been arrested.

Official circles are particularly perturbed by reports that white Russians have become extremely active in organizing armed bands which, according to the latest information, were crossing the border. It is feared that an armed clash might result from this incursion at any moment.

ARMS IN BAGGAGE

The official Tass news agency stated tonight that Russian customs officers at Blagovyeshchensk had discovered a quantity of arms and other contraband in the baggage of the staff of the Chinese Consulate prior to their departure following rupture of relations.

Some of the baggage marked "consular archives" was stated to have contained forty-two rifles, a large quantity of cartridges, coins of several countries, about ten pounds of gold dust, twenty pounds of silver bullion and 30,000 soviet rubles. The contraband was confiscated.

CHINA EXPECTS PEACE NEGOTIATIONS TO SUCCEED

SHANGHAI, July 25. (AP)—China expects that its dispute with Russia will be settled soon by direct negotiations, probably in Moscow without intervention by any third power. It is thought that this method will have the approval of the soviet government.

Foreign Minister C. T. Wang today announced that his government is awaiting indication of the Russian attitude and that Chu Zao-Ynag, Chinese Minister to Finland, will leave Nanking Saturday for Moscow by way of Hegoin. Minister Chu will have full powers to represent China in any negotiations. By traveling through Manchuria he will be able to observe at first hand conditions along the Chinese Eastern Railway and may have opportunity for conversations with Gen. Chang Tso-Hsiang, Governor of Kirin, and Consul-General B. N. Meinikov, who have been unofficially reported as already in communication.

The day brought the usual crop of reports of firing along the border and of soviet airplanes operating over Chinese territory. Foreign Minister Wang, however, belittled similar reports and said that stories of arrests on both sides of the border merely were actions of local officials which did not affect the major issues.

CHINA DISCLAIMS AID FROM WHITE RUSSIANS

(Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune.)

SHANGHAI, July 25. (Exclusive) Following a semiofficial report from Moscow confirming a rumor of the execution of sixteen White Russians captured while engaging in anti-soviet activities on the Amur River frontier, with the asserted help of Chinese authorities, Dr. C. T. Wang, Minister of Foreign Affairs, said:

"It is not true that the Chinese government engaged White Russians in Manchuria to assist in hostile activities toward the soviet government. This is obviously propaganda. The report of the execution of White Russians does not concern China."

PIRU FIRE BREAKS BOUNDS

Ventura County Oil Wells Periled as Flames Defeat Great Reinforced Army of Fighters

PIRU, July 25. (Exclusive)—Still out of control late today, the fourth since the start, the fire that already has ravaged 3000 acres of watersheds in Eastern Ventura county is threatening to enter Piru Canyon and destroy the oil wells and ranch properties there. Many of the wells belong to E. L. Doheny. Instead of relieving some of the men that have been fighting fire almost continuously since late Sunday, another call for more men was made today.

Approximately 400 men now are on the east and west lines battling the flames where they can be reached over the fifteen-mile fronts. In many places the country is so rugged that the men cannot get at the flames. The east line of the fire was in Reasoner Canyon at an early hour today, while the west, on Hopper Mountain, was far inside the Santa Barbara National Forest. Early today it looked for a time as though the fighters would have the west side of the fire under control, but later in the day the flames broke loose again and were running rapidly along that front and burning in Modela Canyon all the way to Reasoner.

One man, Jose Aranda of Fillmore, received injuries this morning in Hopper Canyon when a hot rock rolled down on him. George Mellmer was overcome by smoke.

It is learned that the first call for aid was answered with fifty men joining the county forces on top of Hopper Mountain. The United States Forest Service later sent a call for men and fifty were sent from the Limoneira and twenty-five from the citrus association. The Legion sent fifty men and the Oxnard Citrus Association, thirty-seven. E. L. Doheny, whose property is threatened in Piru Canyon, sent sixty men to aid. Last night 150 men from various sections of the county were marshaled. The Shell Oil Company of Ventura sent thirty.

The flames today entered the Temescal Canyon region as far as Piru Creek and burned in Hopper Canyon to the head of Nigger Creek across Modela. Blanchard and Lime canyons and into Reasoner. There are oil wells in Lime Canyon and it is believed that these were destroyed by the flames.

FIRE RAVAGES TEN GREAT FORESTS

SPOKANE, July 25. (AP)—Fire ravaged the timber of Washington, Idaho and Montana tonight, the flames licking down great trees in ten forests. Foresters reported more than 10,500 acres had been burned.

A general call for fire fighters was sent out from Missoula today. Men were dispatched from

DROUGHT SITUATION MENACING

Eastern States as Well as European Countries Seriously Need Rain

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—Agricultural production in the East, in common with the work in other sections of the country and in Europe, is being seriously affected by prolonged drought. Millions of acres under cultivation in New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and other eastern sections are wilting under intense heat and the only relief is irrigation—for those farmers fortunate enough to have installed the system.

On Long Island 300,000 acres of potatoes, garden truck, vineyards and orchards have been affected, and reports from upper New York State and New England farmers indicate a similar condition in their sections.

Berger Fights for His Life

CANADA WILL AID TIGHT LID

Revenue Minister Agreeable to Help, But Says 100 Per Cent of Rum Runners Americans

OTTAWA, July 25. (AP)—W. D. Euler, Minister of National Revenue, today declared that Canada is quite willing to keep Canadians out of the business of running liquor to the United States and offered to engage in "any reasonable measure of co-operation" with the United States government to prevent bootlegging across the border.

The offer was made in a statement in which Euler charged that practically 100 per cent of the rum runners are American citizens, and stated that less than 50 per cent of the liquor consumed in the United States comes from Canada.

He said the Canadian government is prepared to enact legislation dealing with Canadian citizens or Canadian boats engaged in illegal liquor traffic. Canada, he declared, spends $1,000,000 a year to prevent liquor smuggling from friendly countries which do not prohibit clearances.

"Canada is quite willing to keep Canadians out of the business of running liquor into the United States," he said.

"Moreover, if the United States authorities will insist on clearances for their own boats to enable them to check and control their own people and the violation of the United States law, the Canadian government is quite ready to consider any further reasonable measure of co-operation with them."

TOKIO HOP ONLY WAITS FAIR SKIES

Bromley Completes Final Tests in Flight Over Region Near Tacoma

TACOMA FIELD, TACOMA, July 25. (AP)—The City of Tacoma is ready for the hop to Tokio.

Following a test flight today during which Lieut. Harold Bromley flew the famous plane over Tacoma, Seattle, Olympia and Pierce county communities, last-minute preparations were started for the first nonstop hop across the Pacific.

"A perfect trip," Bromley smilingly declared as he descended from the cockpit as the huge craft was being swung back under the temporary hangar.

"The motor performed excellently. I am ready for the jump as soon as I get a favorable weather report."

Weather reports from over the proposed route to Tokio continued unfavorable late today. It was admitted, however, that should a more favorable report be received during the night there is a probability that Lieut. Bromley may take to the air at dawn on his great adventure.

A last-minute complication arose late today when the ramp which is being constructed to aid Bromley in the take-off was declared to be unsuitable as it now stands. Herb Fahy, chief test pilot for the Lockheed factory, arrived with his wife in a fast monoplane about 2:30 p.m. After inspecting the ramp and field with Bromley, Fahy declared that the ramp is much too steep to be of assistance in the take-off.

Broiling East Has No Relief, Forecasts Say

NEW YORK, July 25. (Exclusive) New York atmosphere stuck in the air today and dripped down over the ears. It was thick and hot, and not even overcast skies and a rainstorm brought relief.

The thermometer reached 82 deg., but the pressure of the humidity made it seem much worse than that. Forecaster James P. Starr said the heat wave will survive the week-end.

CHICAGO, July 25. (Exclusive)—News likely to cheer the corn growers but distressing to city dwellers was gleaned from the weather man's official pronouncement tonight. Chicago and the Central States are in for a thorough broiling tomorrow, Forecaster J. R. Lloyd indicated. He wouldn't be surprised to see the temperature go to 95 deg. or more.

Plane and Pilot Licensing Brisk

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—Eighty new airplane pilots, 627 student pilots, 62 airplane mechanics and 119 new airplanes were licensed by the Department of Commerce during the week ending the 13th inst.

The Commerce Department announced today that these figures indicate that licensing of new aircraft is at the rate of 6188 a year, pilots at the rate of 4160 a year, and student pilots at the rate of 20,000 a year.

Of the planes licensed, New York led with forty-eight, while Illinois and Ohio took second place with nine each.

BYRD AIDES GET DATA

Antarctic Radio Waves Checked

Measurement and Pictures of Kennelly Layer Made in Frigid Waste

Commander Delighted With Success and Skill in Perilous Mission

BY RUSSELL OWEN

[Copyright, 1929, by New York Times Company and St. Louis Post-Dispatch. All rights for publication reserved throughout the world.]

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) July 25. (Exclusive)—Measurements of what is known as the Kennelly Heaviside layer, which affects the propagation of radio waves by reflection, have been made by Lieut. Malcolm H. Hanson of the Naval Research Laboratory with very satisfactory results. The work entailed a trip ten miles out on the barrier in uncertain weather, and a stay there of forty-eight hours while observations and photographs were made.

Traveling on the barrier in the winter darkness, particularly with an overcast sky and the possibility of storm, is anything but pleasant. There is no place in the world where it is so easy to get lost, because there are no landmarks, but the party came back safely, although the visibility was poor.

WILL COLLECT DATA

Hanson has been preparing for this trip for some time and will make several trips to continue the observations and to collect data under various seasonal conditions. Plans and preparations for this important work were made at the Naval Research Laboratory months before the expedition departed.

The measurements already show that the layer is much higher than in the United States; that, in fact, a signal sent out and reflected downward travels several hundred miles. The photographs Hanson already has developed show also remarkable fluctuations indicating rapid movement of the reflecting layer. Detailed study and calibration of the oscillograms will show just how high the layer is, and also show some light on the causes of variations in the radio waves which prevail over the Antarctic.

SAFETY INSURED

The first attempt to get out was made during our recent spell of very cold weather when the thermometer hovered around 70 deg. below zero, and showed a desire to stay there for several days. But Hanson was eager to go and Commander Byrd was willing to assume the risk because of the valuable scientific results to be obtained, but mainly after every possible precaution was taken to insure their safety.

Whenever his men have to take risks for furthering science the commander personally sees that every possible thing is done to prevent mishap.

"The motor performed excellently. I am ready for the jump as soon as I get a favorable weather report."

Weather reports from over the proposed route to Tokio continued unfavorable late today. It was admitted, however, that should a more favorable report be received during the night there is a probability that Lieut. Bromley may take to the air at dawn on his great adventure.

A last-minute complication arose late today when the ramp which is being constructed to aid Bromley in the take-off was declared to be unsuitable as it now stands. Herb Fahy, chief test pilot for the Lockheed factory, arrived with his wife in a fast monoplane about 2:30 p.m. After inspecting the ramp and field with Bromley, Fahy declared that the ramp is much too steep to be of assistance in the take-off.

MAN AIDS DOGS

There were three men in the party—Hanson, Joe Degenahl, as navigator, and Norman Vaughan in charge of four dogs. Norman, who is a husky fellow, hitched himself ahead of his dogs and with skis on pulled with them all the way out and all the way back. They left about noon on Friday. The sky was overcast, but the moon shone through the clouds directly ahead of them in the east and was a great help in navigating. Hanson had also rigged up a searchlight attached to a small battery, and with this managed to pick up the flags on the eastern trail.

After passing the flags along the first three miles other flags were set up about 500 yards apart along the old trail to the Rockefeller Mountains. By a squint at the moon now and then and Degenahl's checking up now and then with the

Mound City Pilots Determine to Outlast Oncoming Houston Rivals

Here is the status of the endurance flyers at 3 a.m. central standard time.

Houston—Monoplane, Billion Dollar City; pilots, Glenn L. Loomis and Joseph Glass; 305 hours and 11 minutes.

Minneapolis—Monoplane, the Minnesota; pilots, Owen Haughland and Capt. P. L. Crichton, 89 hours and 39 minutes.

ST. LOUIS, July 25. (AP) — Approaching the end of their second week of sustained flight, Dale (Red) Jackson and Forest O'Brine tonight were looking toward a new goal of 500 hours in their record-breaking performance in the monoplane St. Louis Robin.

With their earnings mounting hourly and the motor of their plane running "like a race horse," the flyers gave no indication of forsaking their temporary home in the sky.

At 11:17 p.m. (C.S.T.) they had been up 304 hours and had beaten the endurance record of the Argeleno by fifty-seven hours.

ENCOUNTER SHOWERS

Cloudy skies and intermittent showers caused the flyers to drop to a lower altitude as they circled Lambert-St. Louis Field this afternoon, but they soared away tonight after taking on a new supply of fuel. A downpour in another section of the city missed them. It was the first inclement weather the flyers had experienced since they took off the 13th inst.

Notes dropped by the St. Louis flyers indicated they are in good spirits and Jackson, who carefully inspected the motor today, said it was functioning perfectly.

In one note Jackson commented on a newspaper article he read quoting Dr. A. C. Legas, flight surgeon, as saying that he expected Jackson, who perspires freely, to lose about twenty pounds on the flight and for O'Brine to lose about ten pounds.

DOCTOR ALL WRONG

"Tell Doc he's wrong," Jackson said. "I'm not getting thin. I'm gaining weight. My pants are getting too tight for me."

With the announcement of additional daily rewards, the flyers now are being compensated at the rate of $2673 for each twenty-four hours they go in excess of the old record.

O'Brine and Jackson were watching closely the progress of their rival endurance plane, the Billion Dollar City at Houston, Tex., and expressed determination to outlast the Texas flyers. The Houston plane, however, is more than 100 hours behind them.

A telegram from Glenn Loomis and Joe Glass, pilots of the Houston plane, was received last night and sent up to Jackson and O'Brine this morning. It read: "Good luck, boys, but use discretion. We only have one good mag. (magneto.) Loomis and Glass, Plane Billion Dollar City."

Jackson and O'Brine tossed overboard the following reply: "Stay with her boys. That one mag. may do it. O'Brine and Jackson, St. Louis Robin."

The telegrams referred to the fact that the St. Louis Robin has two magnetos, which are used alternately, while the Billion Dollar City has but one.

DESIGNER HOPEFUL

The possibilities for a 500-hour flight were given added impetus tonight when Arthur Nutt of Buffalo, designer of the air-cooled six-cylinder Curtiss Challenger motor, said the engine had operated 500 hours at full throttle in block tests

KILAUEA WAKES WITH ROAR

Hawaiian Volcano Erupts Spectacularly With Tall Fountains of Fire Playing in Crater

HILO (T. H.) July 25. (AP)—The volcano Kilauea began erupting today at 6:30 a.m., and became increasingly active as the day advanced. The demonstration started with four fountains of fire. Two others, shooting flames 200 feet, joined in the pyrotechnics within the giant bowl of the Halemaumau crater.

Smoke, pouring from the crater 4000 feet above the sea, overhung the peak of Mauna Loa, nearly 3000 feet higher on the volcanic mountain.

Hundreds of the residents of Hilo drove automobiles the thirty-five miles close to Kilauea to observe its fifth eruption since May, 1924, when the volcano came to life after more than a century of inactivity.

Like most of its predecessors, the present eruption of Kilauea is confined to the floor of its great fire pit, Halemaumau. The fountains of molten lava shoot from the pit floor, 1300 feet below the rim, which has a diameter of nearly 3500 feet.

The floor of the crater was covered with a lake of lava during the afternoon. The four fountains which first began to play threw lava 150 feet high. Later a foun-

Three cones of molten rock formed on the Kau side within the crater, the major cone widening as its base. The others were also growing. The old black mass of the February eruption was completely covered by the new discharge.

A heavy rain did not deter spectators from watching the eruption. They approached to within a few yards of the crater's edge.

NATIONS TO BE TOLD OF PACT

America Announces Antiwar Treaty Now in Effect

Envoys Will Transmit News to Thirty-nine Capitals

Briand Replies to Message of Congratulations

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—Secretary Stimson tonight instructed American diplomatic representatives in thirty-nine capitals of the world to inform the governments to which they are accredited of the formal deposit of Japan's ratification of the Kellogg Antiwar Treaty and that the treaty now is effective.

The Secretary's action was taken in conformity with Article III of the treaty, stipulating that the American government would inform other adhering nations formally when the treaty became binding upon them.

MOSCOW TO BE TOLD

The French government, which negotiated adherence of the soviet government, is to communicate the information to Moscow. The American Embassy at Paris was instructed to deliver the information to the Afghan Minister there, since the new government in Afghanistan is not recognized by the United States and has no diplomatic representative in Washington.

BRIAND REPLIES

Foreign Minister Briand of France today replied to the message of congratulations sent him yesterday by Secretary Stimson in connection with the co-operation which he contributed in the formation of the treaty.

"The solemn ceremony which has just taken place in Washington is the crown of the negotiations in which our two governments have collaborated in a close communion of ideas and in the spirit of trust and friendship which characterizes their relations," M. Briand said in part. "Permit me to express the wish that the collaboration of the United States and France, so valuable to the peace of the world, may grow even closer."

In the Salmon, Challis and Boise forests of Southern Idaho, strong fires wiped out timber that had been killed by the bark beetle.

Fires near Mareus, Wash., which had been controlled last night, broke out of control late today, and flames lashed over 1000 acres tonight.

FIRE IN NORTH BRINGS GIGANTIC LOSS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25. (Exclusive)—Fifty million broadfeet of timber have been burned in the forest fire in Modoc National Forest, in Northeastern California, according to word received today by the United States forest service.

As yet the fire, covering 5000 acres of timber and 3000 acres of underbrush, has not been brought under control, but it is hemmed in by 300 fire fighters and its spread is being checked.

According to the forest service, an extremely low humidity of 8 per cent is handicapping the fire fighters and as long as this continues there is little hope of extinguishing the fire.

BLAZE NEAR CHINO GETS OUT OF CONTROL

CHINO, July 25. (Exclusive)—The fire in the Chino Hills, which was brought under control last night, broke out anew at 9 a.m. today and burned over about 300 acres more before it was again checked at 5 p.m. During the entire period, about 8000 acres of grazing land and some grain fields were burned over. No structures were burned but one harvester outfit was ruined.

EARLY PARLEY ON NAVIES SEEN

Meeting of Powers Before Next Spring Expected

Senator Hale Cites Import of Assent on Parity

Commander of Legion Wires Protest to Hoover

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—Likelihood of a preliminary naval limitation conference by world powers before next spring is being discussed today in governmental and diplomatic quarters, on study and comparison of the pronouncements in that connection made yesterday by President Hoover and Prime Minister MacDonald.

Official information on the subject is entirely lacking. The White House, State Department and Navy Department all refrained from comment on the prospective international meeting referred to by the British Prime Minister. Unofficial views were expressed frequently, however, that in postponing the construction of three cruisers Mr. Hoover is looking forward to such a gathering well in advance of the close of the present fiscal year, June 30, 1930. By that time the first five vessels authorized by the fifteen-cruiser law must be laid down, unless an international agreement on naval limitation has been reached meanwhile.

FURTHER DATA WITHHELD

Elaboration of Mr. Hoover's announcement concerning the suspension of work on parts of this year's building program was declined at the White House. His action yesterday was in response to a similar move in London by Mr. MacDonald.

At the State Department Secretary Stimson defined the principle of parity of naval strength as agreed on in the discussions between Mr. MacDonald and Ambassador Dawes to be respected by the two governments. He said it means an absolute equality of fighting strength in the fleets of the two nations, applying to all categories of ships. Heretofore it applied only to capital ships, in accordance with conclusions of the 1922 arms conference.

ADDITIONAL COMMENT

One other member of the Cabinet made a brief addition to official comments. Secretary Adams said in response to questions of newspaper correspondents that Navy preparation of detailed plans of the cruisers will be continued, that some material for their construction already has been purchased and that no orders already placed for materials have been canceled. He declined to amplify.

One section of Mr. MacDonald's address to the House of Commons is construed by observers here as presaging a preliminary conference before next June. In this, the Premier said the powers signatory to the Washington 1922 treaty have been kept informed of the Anglo-American discussions and that "as soon as the way is clear" a preliminary conference will be called in the hope of reaching an agreement of a comprehensive character.

STIMSON STATEMENT

The doctrine of parity was the subject of extensive comment, especially after Mr. Stimson issued a formal statement late today concerning it. This read:

"The doctrine of parity which was adopted by the Washington conference in 1922 between the American and British fleets as to capital ships was not a doctrine of warfare but a doctrine of statesmanship. It does not look to a future combat between those two fleets, but has an exactly opposite purpose, namely to prevent such a conflict. Its immediate purpose is to prevent those two navies from building against each other and to accomplish, instead, a reduction of their respective naval power.

"It thus represented an agreement that they should not regard each other as possible enemies in that they agreed not to take the step which potential enemies would take as the very first step against each other, namely, to try to outbuild the other fleet.

DOCTRINE COMMENDED

"The doctrine of parity as thus used instead of being an impossible or futile doctrine is supremely intelligent. In fact, it is the only doctrine by which two proud, independent nations in the positions occupied by Britain and America could agree to be friends and eliminate the thought of war between them.

"This beneficent principle now is proposed to be extended and agreed to as the principle which should control the relations of the British and American navies not only as to capital ships, but cruisers and the other categories of vessels which constitute these navies."

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, who opposed the time clause placed in the cruiser bill forcing immediate construction of the cruisers, indorsed the President's action in announcing that construction work on three cruisers would be suspended.

HOOVER ACTION PRAISED

"To those of us who opposed the naval construction program during the last Congress," said Senator Harrison, "The action of President Hoover in suspending the construction of three naval cruisers is most gratifying.

"I don't know just why the construction of the three cruisers in the government shipyards is suspended while the work on the two to be built in private shipyards is continued. We tried to make that impossible in the consideration of the naval construction program, but failed. The President deserves the approval in this instance of the American people."

Senator Oddie of Nevada, a Republican member of the Senate Naval Committee, today said he regards the question of parity as but one angle of the problem presented, and that the United States should regard as well possible combinations of strength that might be allied against this country.

Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee took the position that the cruiser bill, passed last session, is directory rather than mandatory upon the President so far as the first year's program is concerned. He believes, however, that the section authorizing the President to suspend the program "in the event of an international agreement" would require an agreement ratified by the Senate.

HALE AIRS HIS VIEWS ON SITUATION

PORTLAND (Me.) July 25. (AP)—The most important feature in relation to recent developments in limitation of naval armament, in the opinion of Frederick Hale, of this city, chairman of the United States Senate Committee on Naval Affairs, is the assent of Prime Minister MacDonald to the principle of naval parity with the United States.

"That naval parity we have insisted upon in the past and still insist upon," Senator Hale said in a prepared statement tonight. "Great Britain at the present time, in cruisers built and building, has a very decided superiority over us. That superiority must be ironed out if we are to have naval equality. As was clearly shown in the debate on the cruiser bill in Congress with their construction of the fifteen 10,000-ton cruisers authorized in the bill passed last winter, we shall not reach equality with Great Britain in this class of ships.

"To reach equality when the fifteen new cruisers shall have been completed Great Britain will have to scrap many of her ships already built or in process of building. This without regard to the two cruisers which have not yet been started and whose construction Mr. MacDonald has stated is not to be given up."

LEGION LEADER ENTERS OBJECTION

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—Paul McNutt, national commander of the American Legion, telegraphed President Hoover today protesting against any action on the Chief Executive's part which might prevent America regaining naval parity with Great Britain.

DIPLOMATS GIVEN SURPRISE

Realization That Naval Question Will be Handled Outside of League Causes Astonishment

LONDON, July 25. (Exclusive)—The diplomatic world was astonished today, on more careful reading of Prime Minister MacDonald's statement in the House of Commons yesterday on naval negotiations, to realize that the whole naval question is to be dealt with outside the League of Nations and preparatory commission on disarmament.

This is a direct contradiction of yesterday, is interpreted as a sure sign that the conversations between Gen. Dawes and Prime Minister MacDonald have reached such a point that there is reasonable prospect of agreement on reduction and that it therefore would be foolish to continue building ships which might have to be scrapped. At the same time it must be realized that this reciprocal gesture covers a very small part of the reduction envisaged by the statesmen of each country.

The conversations are being continued and it is hoped that matters will have reached such a point in October, when Prime Minister MacDonald visits America, that he and President Hoover may be able to conclude an Anglo-American agreement which will be the first stage of a larger scheme. Calling of a five-power conference will follow immediately and it is expected here that it will convene in Washington.

GREATER ACTIVITY PREDICTED NEXT YEAR

HONOLULU, July 25. (AP)—Explaining the eruption of Kilauea which began today on the Island of Hawaii, Prof. Thomas A. Jaggar, Jr., who has studied the volcano for several years, said:

"The present eruption comes during a shorter interval than the eruption of last February, which followed the January, 1928, activity. This means that the gas pressure beneath the floor of the Halemaumau crater is increasing, forcing molten lava to the surface.

"It may be that the activity will continue for some time, but it is possible that the eruption will be as short lived as was the last one. In the latter case we look for an eruption in the near future that will bring full activity.

"By the end of 1930 the eleven-year cycle of activity which is characteristic of both Kilauea and Mauna Loa will be reached. Then the activity which evidently is beginning to return to Kilauea should reach its height. The cycle will end in 1935. Judging from past eruptions, the activity should continue until then."

Prof. Jaggar said he will return to his station at the Kilauea volcano observatory tomorrow.

ated Vatican State, St. Peter's Square having been included in this under the recent agreement. The Pope has still to make his exit from Vatican State to Italian territory, but it is not known when he will do this.

After the impressive procession the silver bugles blew. As the Pope turned to bless the crowds with the monstrance in his hands so deep a rush fell over the immense throng that the cry of an infant was heard across the square. Then from the Baldachina altar, high on the steps of St. Peter's, the Papal blessing was extended.

MULTITUDE KNEELS

The multitude, kneeling at the moment of the blessing, uttered a sharp, vibrant cheer at its conclusion. After the Pontiff retired within the Vatican more than half an hour was required for the crowd to disperse, while occasional cheers sounded.

Workmen clambered over the facade lighting scores of oil lamps, which showed the milling thousands in the square. The wooden barriers were knocked down to give speedier exit.

at the factory. Nutt said the test was not "exactly comparable" to an air test because in the air the motor, although throttled down, bears the weight of a plane and crew aloft.

Jackson in a note said: "The old motor hasn't changed a bit that I can see. Seems like it runs a lot easier. No vibration at all. With a light load we can fly at 1275 to 1300 R.P.M. (propeller revolutions per minute.) The only work it gets is refueling and that not very long."

HOUSTON SHIP CONFRONTED BY TWO VITAL PROBLEMS

HOUSTON (Tex.) July 25. (AP)—As the endurance plane Billion Dollar City wound up its eighth full day of flying, two problems confronted Joe Glass and Glenn L. Loomis, pilots of the craft: bad weather and the question, how long will they have to face a 100-hour handicap against them and in favor of the St. Louis Robin.

The Texas flyers remain determined to outdo the boys who are trying to wear out a perfectly good motor in the Mississippi region, but that 100-hour lead will gape at them until the Robin pilots give up. Only then can they figure what it will take to ruin a real mark.

The Houston flyers this afternoon began to scheme in an effort to get away from a storm hazard. They asked permission to take an official watchman aboard their craft rather than be compelled to stay within sight or sound of the airport after their barograph will have run down. A mid-air transfer of the official from the refueling ship was suggested.

In the event that the National Aeronautical Association will not permit a third man to enter the plane, they asked Jack Berretta, Texas governor of the aeronautical body, whether the refueling crew and four watchmen could be moved to another locality in the event of predicted bad weather.

Efforts are being made to reach Berretta in San Antonio by long-distance telephone to get a ruling, the Houston pilots saying it will be impossible to fly through a bad ground fog or severe electrical disturbance at night and keep in such a restricted area.

MINNEAPOLIS FLYER GOING ALONG WELL

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) July 25. (AP)—The endurance airship Minnesota had been in the air 77h. and 20m. at midnight tonight when the pilots, Owen Haughland and Capt. P. D. Crichton, signaled that all was well. The flyers took on fuel and food shortly before 6 o'clock, after spending most of the afternoon cruising over the field.

LAWS WIPED OUT BY COURT

Total of 1493 Connecticut Enactments Lost Through Decision of State Tribunal

HARTFORD (Ct.) July 25. (Exclusive)—The Supreme Court by a decision handed down today wiped 1493 laws off the statute books, creating a situation which, while undoubtedly only temporary, will cause great confusion throughout the State until remedied.

The court ruled the law in clear cut fashion that all bills passed by a General Assembly, to become effective, must be signed by the Governor within three days after the close of the legislative session. In 1493 instances, measures to which the Governor affixed his signature after expiration of this legal time limit have been placed upon the statute books and accepted as the law of the State.

It is believed here tonight that Gov. Trumbull will call a special session of the Legislature as soon

BREMEN OPENS LINER CONTEST

Shipping Concerns Announce Plans for Boats

Competition May Develop Ocean Rate War

Features of German Vessel Give More Speed

NEW YORK, July 25. (Exclusive) The Bremen, Germany's new ocean-going Dachshund has started something more than a race for speed. By nicking almost nine hours off the Atlantic crossing record the North German Lloyd express liner has stirred the maritime nations of the world into a carnival of passenger shipbuilding that is likely to have them nipping at one another's heels in a rate war before it ends.

American, British and French shipping men have been looking the Bremen over from top to bottom since it tied up at its Brooklyn pier, and today they were interviewed as to their reactions.

COST $50,000,000

"We will stick to our original assertion," said Joseph E. Sheedy, executive vice-president of the United States Lines. "The Bremen made a great record. Let it have its party now, but we are going to build two trans-Atlantic super-liners that will surpass in speed, size and appointments any ship existing, under construction or contemplated. They will be ready for service in three years."

The two new liners, it was said, will cost about $50,000,000. The French Line is impressed but not worried over the Bremen's record. Jean Tiller, assistant managing director of the line, arrived the day after the Bremen on the Ile de France. This is what he had to say today:

"We are going to build a fast ship. I will not state her proposed speed, but she is going to be much faster and larger than anything afloat today. The plans are now being completed and her keel soon will be laid."

CUNARD KEEL DOWN

The Cunard Line already has a keel down and as soon as its engineers decide on the method of propulsion they will reveal some of the plans for Britain's entry into the shipbuilding contest. Company officials here and officers of the Mauretania have closely examined the Bremen, but this afternoon no one cared to discuss details of their new liner.

Here are some of the features that make the Bremen a front-page boat, fit for show window purposes:

Except for superstructure she resembles a gigantic battle cruiser. Her stern is exactly like the cruiser type with lines dropping straight to the water line instead of the former undercurve. This, her officers say, gives her stability in all kinds of weather and prevents pitching in following the sea.

BULBOUS BOW

A speed feature is her "bulbous" bow, that is, a large blister on each side, just above the water line, extending fifty feet and tapering off aft. The pear-shaped surface is widest near the keel and is a radical departure from the usual knife-edge bows. It gives her a rather ungraceful head-on appearance, but the blunt face prevents the boat from pitching as the weight of the water on this bulge is sufficient to steady the entire craft. It also serves to keep her propellers under water during heavy seas and they will not churn in the air as do those of most other vessels.

This, her officers say, gives the Bremen additional speed, forcing the back-wash deep under the ship so that she cuts through the water with a minimum of spray.

RUDDER FEATURE

The Bremen's rudder, it was explained, is another secret of her speed. It is shaped like the wing of an airplane on the streamline principle and serves to increase its effectiveness in steering and to reduce eddies and currents which interfere with the propellers. The new-type rudder was invented by Dr. Max Oertz of Hamburg. The Bremen was the first large ship to try it out.

Everything about the Bremen is planned to cut down wind resistance. Her egg-shaped funnels, large enough to fit over the top of a four-story apartment house—looked almost like knives as she steamed into Quarantine last Monday. It may be necessary to raise them eight feet above their present height her officers said, as passengers had complained of the smoke.

The corbers of her superstructure have been rounded off and are tapering instead of square in order to lessen wind resistance. Even her great anchors, weighing thousands of pounds, rest snug in a nest cut into the side of the ship in order that the streamline effect may be obtained.

Gounded Ship Again on Way

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25. (Exclusive)—Panama Mail line officials were advised late today that the steamer Venezuela, en route from this city to New York via Los Angeles, was refloated this afternoon after going aground earlier in the day on Salmedina Bank, eighteen miles from Cartagena. None of the 110 first-cabin passengers or the crew of eighty-two was discommoded, according to advices from Capt. Peter Hansen. The ship is said to be proceeding on its journey to New York via the Panama canal.

They were sentenced to one year in jail and fines of 1000 gold dollars each. The court further ordered confiscation of "the Wheel" property, valued at $25,000 in gold.

Her Parentage Wags Royal Tongues

CINDERELLA'S PAST AIRED

(Copyright, 1929, by New York World)

PARIS, July 25. (Exclusive)—European royal circles are humming with gossip following the discovery that the wife of Prince Peter of Montenegro, Princess Violet, is the daughter of a London policeman, Sergt. Emil Wegner, of the criminal investigation department of Scotland Yard.

Although Prince Peter and Miss Wegner were married in Paris in April, 1924, nobody has known until now that she is an English girl. She spoke French so fluently, having spent several years as a dancer in a Parisian cabaret, that she had been taken universally for a French girl.

ROYAL "IN-LAWS"

The policeman's daughter is the sister-in-law of Queen Helena of Italy. Her husband's brother-in-law was the Grand Duke Nicholas, uncle of the Czar and commander-in-chief of the Russian armies during the World War. Her other relations-in-law fill pages in the Almanach de Gotha and in the records of royal families.

Prince Peter of Montenegro is the second son of King Nicholas, the fighting King of the country, who lost his throne when his country was swallowed up by Serbia after the war and went into the makings of the modern state of Jugo-Slavia. His elder brother is the dashing Prince Danilo, who recently entered suit against an American motion-picture producing company on the grounds that the personality of a licentious prince pictured in the "Merry Widow" film had been given the screen name of Danilo. He asserts that the film producers picked on him as the most suitable prototype of the cynical, pleasure-loving debauchee shown in the film.

LIVING IN EXILE

The Montenegrin royal family have been living as exiles in various European capitals since the war. They depend for their income on the liberality of King Alexander of Jugo-Slavia, who is Prince Peter's cousin. Nominally the allowance accorded Peter and his brother, Danilo, is about $1000 monthly, but both have lodged frequent complaints at Belgrade that half the time the Jugo-Slav King forgets to send them their checks.

Mother Wegner, who is a bespectacled kindly lady of about 60 years of age, is the one who let the cat out of the bag by telling a Paris hotel man that the King of Sweden played tennis with her daughter last spring at Monte Carlo. The hotel man informed the press. The Paris reporters were skeptical until Mrs. Wegner showed them a photograph of Prince Peter in gala uniform with the inscription "To My Darling Mother."

REGRETS SPEAKING

"I wish I had never spoken at all about my daughter," she declared when she found herself the center of a Paris sensation.

"My daughter has to be very careful. She has all sorts of people to consider. There is, for instance, the Queen of Italy. Pa and I, we are not supposed to talk about her stage career. She wants everybody to forget about that," said Mrs. Wegner, naively.

Still, she did not hold back the information that Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin had taken tea with Princess Violet, their daughter, on the Riviera last spring.

Princess Violet's beauty is well known in Europe. In Berlin they sell postcards with her likeness, as she and her husband constantly travel from one capital to the other.

Miss Violet Wegner met Prince Peter while traveling about with a theatrical road company. He followed her everywhere until she accepted his proposal of marriage at San Remo and came to Paris with him to be married in the Greek Orthodox Church of that city in 1924.

Clinic Head Tells Britons Only Top and Bottom Classes Now Drink

MANCHESTER (Eng.) July 25. (AP)—Dr. William Mayo of the Mayo Clinic of Rochester, Minn., thinks the temperance movement is doing very well in the United States.

Speaking today at the annual breakfast of the National Temperance League he declared: "The great middle class in America is no longer drinking. The class at the top and the dregs at the bottom are still at it.

"The saloon is gone and no one wants it back. Liquor is scarce and what there is is not safe."

GENTLE RAINS SOAK ARIZONA

Farmers and Stock Raisers Elated at Downpour

All Parts of State Report Heavy Showers

Slight Damage to Roads in Some Sections

PHOENIX, July 25. (AP)—Breaking a long drought in most sections of the State, all parts of Arizona were visited by rain today, water gauges recording from .20 to one inch of precipitation.

Leaders in agricultural and livestock interests estimated tonight that the rain is worth approximately $1,000,000 to the two industries.

Phoenix received .81 of an inch in the business section, and slightly more than an inch in the outlying districts.

Douglas reported the heaviest rainfall since 1903, for the time it fell. The rain lasted but an hour there, with the gauges showing .54 of an inch. A heavy electrical storm accompanied the precipitation in the border city, lightning striking the city electrical plant during the height of the storm. Damage to the plant is estimated at $500.

Water flowed over the Douglas sidewalks, and the railroad tracks were submerged for half a mile west of the city. Considerable highway damage is reported in Cochise county.

Miami and Globe reported an inch of rain had fallen.

More than 100 feet of roadway on the Oracle highway was washed away, and traffic in the Tucson section was delayed for several hours during the run off.

The Prescott district reported a steady downpour as falling for several hours.

Forest Service stations in the watersheds in the northern part of the State all reported showers.

Approximately half an inch fell in Yuma and the Yuma Valley.

Very little damage is reported to highways, with the exception of Pima and Cochise counties, as in most parts of the State the rainfall was gentle, and was quickly soaked up by the bone-dry soil.

German Envoy's Immunity Plea Draws Barrage

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25. (Exclusive)—A bitter and vehement attack on Dr. Hans A. Kroll, acting German Consul-General here, for claiming diplomatic immunity when cited to appear in Police Court in Palo Alto for speeding, is launched in tomorrow's issue of the California, German-language newspaper. The paper is owned and published by Henry P. Budde and is edited by R. E. Rehbach.

The editorial demands that the German government recall Dr. Kroll immediately, calls him a "jumnox" and a bungler, and states that San Francisco's German colony unanimously is in favor of his recall.

LONELIEST SPOT GOAL OF THREE

Scientists Leave on Trip of 12,000 Miles for Long Stay in Desolate Region

WASHINGTON, July 25. (Exclusive)—Beginning a 12,000-mile journey to take charge for three years of a unique "scientific observation post" in one of the loneliest spots in Africa three young American scientific workers left Washington today. They are Louis O. Sordahl, Mrs. Sordahl and A. G. Frollard.

By way of New York, London and Cape Town, they will journey to Mt. Brukkaros near Keetsmanshoop, Southwest Africa, where the National Geographic Society and the Smithsonian Institution maintain a solar observatory. The object of the work at this station is to obtain accurate records of variations in the sun's heat as it reaches the earth. These records are sent to Washington and there are compared with similar records made at stations in Southern California and Chile. Through these comparisons it is hoped that accurate weather forecasts can be made many months in advance.

Before Mt. Brukkaros was chosen a search was made among the driest places of the Old World, including spots in Afghanistan, Morocco and Egypt.

LABOR TREK TO CANADA UNDER BAN

Immigration Halted When Reports Indicate Crops Will Be Poor

MONTREAL (Que.) July 25. (Exclusive)—Orders to discontinue all movement of immigrants to Canada for employment have been issued, Dr. W. J. Black, director of colonization for the Canadian National Railways, stated here today when asked for a statement respecting the report that the immigration movement had been stopped.

This action was taken, Dr. Black said, after serious consideration of the situation which has arisen as a result of the unfavorable crop reports from Western Canada and the consequent unlikelihood of the need of any further labor for haying, harvesting and threshing in the prairie provinces.

The restrictive order applies to all classes coming for employment from all European countries, except a small number of juveniles and domestics for whom employment is readily available. It is the first occasion since the war that such drastic caction has been found necessary before the close of the normal season of activity.

INDIAN MELODIES

GREEN pathways through the forest, sunlight on far canyon walls, tepees on the peaceful greensward by a stream—strange tribal ceremonies, love songs of brave and maiden, thunderous choruses of conflict and victory—this is the setting and the action of the 28th Episode of the Forest Lawn Series of Musical and Dramatic Presentations. Tune in on this program of extraordinary interest.

KHJ - TONIGHT - 8 TO 9

"Full many a gem of purest ray serene,
The dark, unfathomed caves of ocean bear;
Full many a flower is born to blush unseen,
And waste its sweetness on the desert air."

So wrote the Poet Gray in his famous Elegy, inspired by the beauty and peacefulness of the village church of Stoke Poges, in England. This little church, where Gray now rests, was the inspiration for the quaint and humble loveliness of the Little Church of the Flowers, in Forest Lawn Memorial-Park, itself a poem of love, beauty, hope, faith.

A beautifully illustrated Art Book, "Chimes," descriptive of the works of art in Forest Lawn, may be obtained by sending 25 cents to partially cover printing cost. A very frank booklet, "The Truth About Burial Customs and Costs," will be sent free on request.

The Little Church of the Flowers so named because of the banks of bloom and blossom that grace its cloisters the whole year 'round. Here, amid the tracery of ferns and the fragrance of joyous flowers, happy birds trill their joy.

This is a temple to the love of a smiling, kindly, friendly Christ, to the spirit of His greatest commandment: "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another."

SNOOK MURDER-DEFENSE HINTED

Derangement by Love Potion Intimated as Plea

Jurors Quizzed on Attitude Toward Sex Angle

Ohio Professor on Trial for Co-ed Slaying

COLUMBUS (O.) July 25 (Exclusive)—A new angle was injected into the trial here today of Dr. James T. Snook, charged with the murder of Theora K. Hix, 25-year-old medical student at Ohio State University, when the defense intimated that it will base its case upon the declaration that the former university professor was temporarily deranged by a drug.

The defense attorneys quizzed all the temporary jurors seized in the trial and repeatedly made reference to a "love potion," answers to questions concerning it resulting in the dismissal of two of the tentative jurors.

Francis W. Cavenaugh seated on the jury yesterday was dismissed by the prosecution, which exercised the first of its allotted four peremptory challenges, while Mrs. Leona Given was excused by the defense upon the use of one of its sixteen challenges.

The jury, tentatively filled during the morning, was left with two vacancies as the afternoon session closed while new jurors were being examined.

DRUG EXPERIMENTS

It appears fairly certain that Defense Attorney John P. Seidel and his colleagues, E. O. Ricketts and Max Seifert, will try to show that Theora and Snook experimented with drugs to which the doctor had access, and of which they both had considerable knowledge, and that, during their three-year liaison, they delved deep into erotics.

DEFENDANT CALM

Each of the six women questioned so far has expressed an open-mindedness to discuss without reservation the ordid sex details expected to be brought into the case. The only woman so far called who failed to qualify is Mrs. Clara Rhodes, who is opposed to capital punishment.

Dr. Snook sat in the room calmly taking notes during the morning period of court and during the afternoon took up his time reading a magazine.

RUM-RUNNING BUSINESS SOLD

Hi-Jacking and Other Evils Feared After Transfer of Liquor Trade

PORT COLBORNE (Ont.) July 25 (Canadian Press)—The largest liquor exporter at Bridgeburg has sold out his entire interests to a Detroit River rum-runner, it is authentically reported here.

The runner in question owns and has been operating eighteen launches. The reported sale, it is expected, will result in hi-jacking and other troubles when the Detroit party arrives.

WATERWAY HIT BY LAKE STATES

Six Unite in Objection to Mississippi Project

Memorial Against Diversion Given to Hoover

Navigation Endangered, Say Attorneys-General

WASHINGTON, July 25. (Exclusive)—The six lake States that have successfully fought Chicago's diversion of lake water for sanitation swung into action today to defeat the Mississippi Valley's project of a ship waterway from the lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.

A delegation of the lawyers in the suit against Chicago presented to President Hoover a memorial signed by the attorneys-general of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York objecting to a greater diversion of lake water than 1000 cubic feet per second for the navigation of the proposed waterway.

NAVIGATION NEEDS CITED

The memorial bases objections to a greater diversion than 1000 cubic second feet on the contention that greater depths in lake channels are required for lake navigation and that water taken from the lakes represents a loss of the power it otherwise would produce in the hydro-electric plants of Niagara Falls and the St. Lawrence River.

The memorial was presented by Gilbert Bettman, Attorney-General of Ohio, Wilber M. Brucker, Attorney-General of Michigan, Albert J. Daneher, assistant Attorney-General of New York, and Raymond T. Jackson, special assistant Attorney-General of Wisconsin. The President took the memorial under advisement without comment.

The attorneys-general were moved to make this representation by news reports that President Hoover has called on the War Department engineers for estimates of the amount of water needed for the lakes to the gulf waterway and of the expense of completing the project. These reports also stated that the President wants the Chicago-New Orleans channel opened within the next two years as the first step in his inland waterway program.

SUIT REVIEWED

After reviewing the suit brought by the six States which resulted in the recent Supreme Court decision enjoining the present 8500 cubic second feet diversion at Chicago for sanitation purposes the memorial says:

"In spite of the obvious limits upon the power of the Federal government to authorize abstraction of water from the Great Lakes for the needs of navigation, the sanitary district of Chicago has conceived a plan of improving the Illinois River as a waterway which will cause much larger continuous diversions than are necessary for navigation purposes—the plan of said sanitary district being to continue to pollute the Chicago River and thus to require diversions larger than are needed for navigation in order to purify or immunize the pollution which the sanitary district intends to create."

UP TO HUGHES

This refers to the principal controversy between the sanitary district and the complainant States in the present proceedings before Charles Evans Hughes, who was asked to recommend to the Supreme Court the amount of diversion to be allowed at Chicago upon completion of Chicago's artificial sewage disposal works.

The complainant States demand that Chicago be required to pour the effluent from the sewage disposal plants back into the lake. The sanitary district objects that such disposal would contaminate Chicago's drinking-water supply and contends for drainage of the effluent through the sanitary canal where it would be purified.

Millions Asked in Suit Against Mining Company

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25. (AP)—Charging fraudulent mining of Calaveras lands, a suit for $9,000,000 damages was filed in Federal court here today by Mary G. Philson, Stockton, against the Penn Mining Company, Inc., of Wyoming.

The plaintiff is a sister of the late Emmett Peter Gallagher, Stockton, on behalf of whose estate she filed the suit.

The papers declare the Penn Mining Company had property adjoining the Gallagher holdings at Camp Seco, near Angels Camp, Calaveras county, and that the Wyoming organization fraudulently took out some 100,000 tons of copper, gold and silver ore, worth around $3,000,000.

As is usual in the case of a mining damage suit, trebled damages are asked in this suit, making the total sought from the Penn Company $9,000,000.

Officer Doubts Suspect's Guilt

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25. (AP)—Duncan Matheson, captain of detectives, declared today he believed Joe Miller, arrested in Reno, was not involved in the Southern Pacific train hold-up at McAvoy, Contra Costa county, recently.

Miller, however, will be held in San Jose, it was indicated by county officials there, on the original charge that he participated in a $5800 robbery of a Santa Clara county rancher.

Powers Agree on Parley Seat

PARIS, July 25. (AP)—The principal powers interested in the Young reparations plan, with the exception of Belgium have agreed on the Hague as the seat of the conference of foreign ministers to put the plan into effect, Foreign Minister Briand announced today.

ike Different Woman," States Mrs. Fletcher

The Fargen treatment gave me relief after all other medicines failed and I can never say too much in praise of it.

MRS. EUGENIA FLETCHER

I was very weak and badly run down. My food didn't digest properly and gave me very little nourishment. I was never hungry, and the little I ate caused such gases and pains afterwards that I ate only the lightest diet. My strength and energy left me, and I seldom had the going out or entering anything that required the least exertion. I was extremely nervous, my sleep was broken, and I was usually tired out before the day was over. My color was sallow and I suffered continually with constipation and biliousness. Headaches made my days miserable.

I heard so much about what the Fargen treatment was doing for others that I decided to try it, and my condition improved almost immediately. I have taken six bottles of the medicine now, and feel like a different woman in every way. My appetite is fine, my food digests perfectly, and I can go well and strong. I can hardly realize I was ever so weak and run down. I can sleep the whole night through, get up in the mornings rested and refreshed, and ready for my housework or anything else that turns up. My color is healthy, and Mr. Fletcher is always telling me how well I look.

Fargen Soft Mass Pills are mild and dependable. My headaches and dizziness are over, my liver is regulated and my constipation and biliousness are ended. I am gaining weight daily, and feel better than I have felt in years. I am glad with all sufferers knew as much about this wonderful treatment as I do.

The above statement was recently made by Mrs. Eugenia Fletcher, of 2000 West Pico St., Los Angeles.

Druggists are daily calling on the medical Fargen representative at the Owl Drug Store, 6th and Hoover, to learn more about this remarkable new medicine. Fargen may also be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.]

LOG DRIVE ENDS MIDWEST EPIC

Last Timber Raft Rides Manistique River

Lumber Operations Shift to Pacific Coast

Event Recalls Bonanza Days of 'Eighties

MANISTIQUE (Mich.) July 25. (AP) Down swift waters of the Manistique River there swept today the last great drive of logs in the Great Lakes States, marking the end of bonanza lumbering which first brought wealth to Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Cramming the stream from bank to bank some 2,500,000 feet of pine, hemlock and hardwood was on its way to sawmills of this Upper Michigan city from the Driggs River, tributary to the circuitous Manistique. With it there passed in the Midwest the epic days of big-scale logging, with their heroic figures and traditions woven into the background of modern cities now thriving on new industries.

PINERIES GONE

Those who recalled the days when more than 100,000,000 feet of pine yearly was floated to sawmills of this city alone, saw in the present drive the final shifting of major lumber operations from the Midwest to the Pacific Northwest. As in Minnesota and Wisconsin, all but a few of the cities which once existed on the great pineries alone have turned to making paper, wood by-products or other industries alien to the one which gave them their first taste of prosperity.

The pineries have gone, and only on government or State reserves and a few scattered sections are there reminders of the "big timber" which first drew settlers to this territory. It was from one of these isolated sections that the logs en route to this city came.

BONANZA DAYS

Today 2,500,000 feet of logs brings a gasp from the layman, but to the veteran logger it is only a start. Three billion feet of pine alone have been driven down the Manistique since logging operations were started shortly before the Civil War.

Old-timers, watching the progress of this year's drive recall in it the halcyon days of the '80s and '90s—vast tracts of virgin timber which seemed inexhaustible—bloody brawls between lumberjacks—saloons crow between lumberjacks — saloons crowded—lives lost in log jams.

The Manistique River has never been a bad stream for log jams. It is deep all the way and there are no sand bars. Jams do occur, however, and it is in breaking these there comes the peril which has cost the lives of "river hogs," drivers of the past.

Dressed in heavy woolen clothing, feet clad in heavy calked boots, the driver leaps from log to log looking for the key log which holds the jam. With his "peavee" (crowbar-stick) he releases this log and then jumps for his life as the pent-up timber and water roars down in an avalanche. If the driver reaches the bateau (boat) or the shore, it means safety; if not, a funeral.

VETERAN IN CHARGE

Frank N. Cookson, typical "old school" lumberman, who received his first training on the Penobscot River in Maine as a boy of 14 years of age, is the man making the last drive on the Manistique.

Under the direction of Harvey Saunders, also a logging veteran, Cookson's crews cut the pine and hemlock last fall in an area previously shunned by timber operators because of its isolation. It was a thorough cutting, and it took the largest remaining stand of virgin pine in the State of Michigan.

The timber was hauled by teams in early winter to the banks of the Driggs River and piled to await the coming of spring. In April it was rolled off the skidways into the river and started on its way, traveling about thirty miles to the main stream. Here the logs were held back by booms until the flood stage passed on the Manistique.

When the water came back within its banks, they were started on their way again to be made into huge rafts with unfloatable hardwood further down the stream. The rafts now are making their final journey to the sawmills here, fifty miles away by water and only fifteen by road, due to the horseshoe curves of the Manistique.

The drive will end in August, writing "finis" to bonanza lumbering in the Midwest.

DOYLE AND WELLS AIM TO AID MERCY-SLAYER

(Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune.)

TOULIN (France) July 25. (Exclusive)—Communications received by authorities here today from Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and H. G. Wells indicate that both these distinguished British writers wish to testify in favor of Richard Corbett, the youth who shot and killed his mother to end her sufferings from cancer, when his trial starts in October.

Corbett, the son of an English father and French mother, was so distressed by his mother's sufferings that he shot her first and then himself in his home at Hyers near here last May. He recovered after several weeks in a hospital. The senior Corbett, who maintained a bank at Hyers, died some years ago. He was well-known to the British colony on the Riviera, particularly to Wells, who lives in the neighborhood of Hyers.

Glendale Boy Held in Fatal Oregon Crash

PORTLAND (Or.) July 25. (AP)—Theodore W. Shankland was killed and three women injured, one seriously, when two automobiles collided on the east side today. Witnesses said Shankland was driving at a high rate of speed on a through street when another car, driven by Warren Colson, 16 years of age, of Glendale, Cal., coming slowly into the intersection, collided with it.

Colson was arrested and charged with failure to stop at a through street. He said he is not familiar with Portland traffic regulations and did not see the stop sign in front of which another automobile had been parked.

Girl Confesses Brutal Slaying of Her Uncle

HOBOKEN (N. J.) July 25. (AP)—Lillian Russo, 21 years of age, today admitted to authorities that she had killed her uncle, John Russo, as the latter was packing his goods in the basement of his candy store, preparatory to moving on the orders of the girl's father.

The girl confessed she first shot her uncle with a double-barreled shotgun and then with a revolver, stabbed him with a knife, hit him with an ax, and finally clubbed him with the shotgun until the butt of the gun broke.

Authorities express the belief that she is shielding someone.

WICKERSHAM TO CLARIFY VIEWS

Law Commission Chief Hints of New Statement

He May Deal With Dry Law Again in September

Both Foes and Friends of Prohibition Puzzled

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—Chairman George W. Wickersham of President Hoover's law-enforcement commission may take occasion, in September, but not now, to amplify the prohibition enforcement suggestions he advanced in the letter read at the recent governors' conference at New London, Ct.

Many leaders in both wet and dry groups have expressed uncertainty as to the meaning of Mr. Wickersham's statement suggesting, in effect, that if the Federal and State governments effected a division of responsibility in prohibition enforcement, the laws might be modified so as to make them more readily enforceable.

At the conclusion of the commission's latest meeting here, he said he had "nothing to add at this time" to his letter, but intimated that he might clarify his views on his return for the next meeting here September 6.

REYNOLDS'S TRIAL ENDS ABRUPTLY

American Charged With Manslaughter in London Not Blamed for Tangle

LONDON, July 25. (AP)—The manslaughter trial of Richard Joshua Reynolds, wealthy 23-year-old American, came to an abrupt and sensational end today. The judge discharged the jury and adjourned the case for retrial when it was reported to him the jury foreman had been seen in conversation last night with two witnesses for the defense.

Justice Humphreys, the trial judge, said that under the circumstances the trial cannot proceed. It was shown him one of the defense witnesses seen talking to the foreman is a friend of that person.

The justice exonerated Reynolds of blame for what he termed "improper conduct" of the witnesses.

Preparations for a new trial starting tomorrow began immediately. There will be a new jury.

BLAST IN SOFT DRINK PARLOR STARTS FIRE

SACRAMENTO, July 25. (AP)—Preceded by a loud explosion, flames early this morning destroyed a soft drink parlor and pool room, in Lower Auburn, belonging to L. C. Christenson and spread to the Auburn Bakery, conducted in a building owned by Louis Procesi. Fire Chief S. G. Lukens estimated the damage at $15,000.

Extreme Cold Makes Sled Difficult to Pull compass a fairly straight trail was made.

MANY TUMBLES

They had many tumbles, owing to threatening skies and the darkness. It was almost impossible to see inequalities in the surface, and as there are many sastrugi (overhanging ridges of hard snow with sharp edges,) the skis frequently became hooked over them and down went the travelers. Hanson had packed his precious oscillograph on his back for fear the sled would tip over and it would be injured, but coming back he decided that he turned over oftener than the sled did. He also had some dry batteries inside his shirt, so they would not freeze, so his tumbles were painful as well as annoying.

The way led over trolling waves of the barrier surface which stretches for some distance to the east, and in the darkness it was difficult to tell whether one was going uphill or down. About 5 o'clock in the afternoon they reached the place where they decided to camp and found, to their surprise, that the weather had cleared enough so that when they looked back they could see the strong electric beacon on the radio tower blinking at them. When Carl Petersen, who was communicating with Hanson from the base, heard from them that they were at their destination, he blinked good-night in Morse with the light and shut it off.

NO PLACE TO SLEEP

Two tents were set up, in one of which Deganahl and Vaughan slept; in the other Hanson placed his many pieces of apparatus; when he had everything in place there was no space for him to sleep, but as he had twenty-four hours of hourly observation ahead of him, he did not worry about that.

Once or twice between observations he tried to curl himself around a primus stove in the middle of the tent, but after nearly knocking over the batteries and other pieces of apparatus he gave it up.

His instruments had been tested in a tent near the base before the trip was begun. Many other instruments were changed so that operations would not be affected by the cold. It was fortunate that this was done because his pitchpipe, which he couldn't change, froze up occasionally and had to be thawed out over the stove.

SIGNALS RECEIVED

Once he was set, he got into communication with Petersen, who had frequent schedules for sending out short waves. A synchronous contractor had been rigged up in the radio shop so that Petersen could send out short impulses at the rate of 180 a second, and six a second alternately. This, of course, necessitated his working steadily for about thirty-six hours. Four waves were used—eighty-two, sixty, forty-five and thirty-four—for the shorter waves are very unreliable for short-distance transmission. Hanson found that frequently the reflected signals from the reflected layer which traveled hundreds of miles before reaching him, were more distinct than the direct signals, and often signals were so blurred by fading from interference that they were almost unrecognizable.

VARIATIONS SHOWN

During this period he took oscillograms and photographs of the queer things that were happening to his waves, and obtained about 150, which show the extraordinary variation to which short-wave signals are subject.

As conditions here affect short waves which pass over the Antarctic between the various parts of the world, the photographs may throw a good deal of light on many puzzling phenomena. Sunlight is believed to have a direct connection with many phenomena connected with the Kennelly Heavyside layer, and as this is a period of winter darkness, he will now be able to compare conditions with those obtained as the sun returns and during the twenty-four-hour day.

DIVES THROUGH TENT

During the time Hanson was working, the other two helped him when it was possible. Deganahl did the cooking, while Vaughan took care of the dogs. Norman had an amusing experience with Dinny, his lead dog. He took Dinny to bed with him one night, letting him lie at the foot of his sleeping bag. In the morning Norman moved and waked the dog. Dinny decided that he wanted to go outside immediately. The entrances to the tents are like a long bag or sleeve tied in the end in order to keep snow out of the tent.

Dinny made one dive at this tied entrance, went into it with a bang and was snapped back into the tent. That astonished him a little, and he looked at it, made another dive for it and this time hit it so hard that he made a hole, and walked out wagging his tail as though proud of himself.

WARMER WEATHER

Despite their long trek in the snow, the dogs behaved themselves well both going out and coming. They finished in perfect condition. After Hanson had completed his work, he packed up the things he wanted to bring back and left some of his material in a tent and the antennae in place for the next experiment. Then the party started back. It had become much warmer and the sled moved more easily, but it was hard work, nevertheless, traveling over the rough snow. There were frequent tumbles.

One of the peculiarities of the Antarctic snow is that under extreme cold temperature it becomes almost like sand and hauling a sled over it is like dragging over dirt. But, with the rising temperature, the sled moved with less friction. Norman, in the lead at the head of his dogs, was able to follow the sled tracks made on the outward journey most of the time. The tracks frequently disappeared, however, and then the party went carefully and hunted around until they found a flag and Deganahl got compass bearings again.

CHICKEN FOR DINNER

Most of the time when on one of the ridges they could see the beacon light on the tower, and when they were about three-quarters of the way in Petersen blinked to them that there was a chicken dinner on the table and that they had better hurry if they wanted to get some. They arrived in camp after about four hours of tumbling and pulling to help the dogs, who were tired and ravenously hungry.

Commander Byrd was particularly well pleased when he heard of the scientific results of the trip, and also that the men had been able to find their way with such certainty over a surface which gives absolutely no indication of direction. It is easy to get off the track on dark obscure days, even while walking between the two main houses of the camp, a distance of only 200 yards.

Ohio Miss Leads World in Speed

CINCINNATI, July 28. (Exclusive)—Miss Marie Slattery, Cincinnati stenographer, is the new world's speed champion on a typewriter. In competition with 9000 typists she broke the world's record by running off seventy-five words a minute for fifteen minutes, working from strange dictation.

During the test she made a total of 5625 strokes on the keyboard, and returned the carriage 708 times.

SOVIET FEARS ARMED CLASH

soviet statement cites numerous occasions of White Russians crossing the frontier to wreck bridges, powder magazines and other destruction with the support of Chinese authorities.

It continues:

"Between July 17 and July 20 White Russians were captured while crossing the River Amur and sixteen were tried and subsequently executed. Among the sixteen were Duganov, asserted to be connected with the Mukden army, and Basharov of the Harbin police."

CHINESE REPORTED TO HAVE FIRED ON PLANES

LONDON, July 25. (AP)—Reuter's dispatches from Tokio this afternoon quoted a telegram from Manchuli, Manchuria, saying Chinese troops had fired on five soviet airplanes which appeared over the border town about 7 a.m. Later in the morning distant sounds of firing were heard but they died down shortly afterward.

The shooting is believed to have been caused merely by the excitability and nervousness of the Chinese troops. The newspaper Nichi, in a special dispatch from Manchuli, said Russian and Chinese troops opened fire on each other when sixteen Russian airplanes appeared over the city.

EARLY DEVELOPMENTS EXPECTED IN CHINESE CRISIS

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—The Chinese-Russian situation was being watched closely in official circles today with indications coming from some quarters that developments are expected within the next forty-eight hours.

Just what might be expected was not disclosed nor was any comment forthcoming after calls at the State Department by the British, Japanese, French and Italian ambassadors and the German charge d'affaires. Secretary Stimson is reported to have handed them identic communications on the situation but this lacked official confirmation.

It is known, however, that Secretary Stimson is making an active effort to continue the peace move he initiated last week.

The question of the return to the status prevailing before the Russians were dismissed from positions on the Chinese Eastern Railway is one phase of the subject holding attention of the interested powers and because of this a belief was expressed that the reported communications handed to the diplomats might have been on this subject.

ministration spokesmen in the Senate and a member of the Senate Finance Committee. He will remain here for the completion of the extra session of Congress because of the tariff bill, which now is being reshaped by the Finance Committee.

Should the Senator resign after October 5, next, Gov. Larson of New Jersey would be empowered under the law to appoint a successor. If the resignation is submitted on or before that date, however, the seat would be filled at the general State election in November.

The Governor has said that if the appointive right becomes his he will name David Baird, Jr., a Republican, for the unexpired term, ending on March 4, 1931.

Senator Edge once was engaged in business in Paris.

HOOVER'S HANDS OFF TARIFF BILL

Smoot Asserts President Not Fixing Rates

Committee Guided Only by Message to Congress

Republicans' Actions Being Closely Guarded

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—Chairman Smoot of the Senate Finance Committee said today that President Hoover is keeping his hands off the tariff bill as some of the more important of the House rates undergo revision.

The Senator asserted that in going over the House measure, the Republicans of the committee are acting independently except for the formula laid down by Mr. Hoover in his message to Congress.

SHOUSE MAKES REPLY

Meanwhile, from Chairman Jouett Shouse of the Democratic National Committee came a reply to Senator Smoot's attack yesterday on opponents of the tariff revisions proposed.

"It may be observed," said Mr. Shouse, "that the only retorts to the extortionate tariff schedules now being cooked up by the Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee in secret session, are declarations that the Democrats are 'engaged in a deliberate campaign of misrepresentation.'

The Finance Committee members closely guarded the results of their day's work, although it included action on two of the most controversial commodities in the tariff measure—bricks and cement. These two items received increases in tariff in the House bill along with shingles and sugar and the four have been singled out for discussions in the tariff campaign inside and outside of Congress.

SOME CUTS REPORTED

In his message to Congress, Mr. Hoover asked for "limited" tariff revision with particular emphasis on agricultural products. He also included other commodities which have been proven to have suffered as a result of inadequate tariff protection under the 1922 act.

Ward has emanated from the conference room of the Republicans that some reductions are being made in the increases voted by the House. But the members also qualify this by declaring there have been some additional increases. The consensus seems to be, however, that the bill will be revised downward.

Close votes among the Republicans on some of the rates have been indicated.

LONDON, July 25. (AP)—The House of Lords has thrown out the divorce decree granted Lady Patricia Ross by Scottish courts against Sir Charles Ross, the rifle inventor of Balnagowan, Scotland. The House of Lords tribunal found that the intermediate decree appealed from by Sir Charles on the question of misconduct should have been reversed.

The Ross divorce case has figured in British courts for two years. Lady Ross, daughter of Andrew Ellison of Louisville, Ky., instituted proceedings as a sequel to an East African hunting expedition, citing as co-respondent Mrs. Emily K. H. Dalzell, known socially in New York.

POLICY CHANGE IN EGYPT HINTED

Storm Raised in Britain Over Lord Lloyd's Dismissal

Labor Regime's Aim Believed More Self-Government

Real Story of Commissioner's Ousting to be Sought

LONDON, July 25. (AP)—The Labor government furnished a new sensation for Britons today by its almost unprecedented semipublic dismissal of one of the country's most important representatives abroad, Lord Lloyd, High Commissioner to Egypt. The storm raised in the House of Lords by this disclosed that a change that "might be all important" is possible with regard to the internal affairs of Egypt, long dominated by Britain.

The inside story of the resignation of Lord Lloyd has yet to be told, but Lord Birkenhead today described it as forced. General opinion is that Lord Lloyd's lack of sympathy with nationalistic aspirations of Egyptians was incompatible with a desire of the Labor government to give Egypt a larger measure of self-government. The relationship between Great Britain and Egypt long has been a bone of serious contention. From 1914 to 1922 Egypt was a British protectorate and since then British troops have been maintained in the country.

Efforts to force from the government revelation of the circumstances back of the sudden resignation of the British High Commissioner were vigorously made by Lord Salisbury and Lord Birkenhead in the House of Lords today, seconding similar efforts in the Commons yesterday. The story perhaps may be told in the lower house tomorrow when former Premier Stanley Baldwin will raise debate on the subject and Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson will reply.

Rumors tonight were that a Minister to Egypt might be named instead of a new High Commissioner and also that the troops in Egypt might be reduced in number and to the nature of civil police.

Soviets Grasp British Hand

LONDON, July 25. (AP)—The British government received today through the Norwegian government a reply to the British proposals for the resumption of full diplomatic relations between Moscow and London.

"LULU BELLE" TO BE PERFORMED

Dorothy Burgess Loaned by Fox for Belasco Role; Lon Chaney Ill, Out of "Bugle Call" Cast; Hedda Hopper Works at Pathe

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

The steady march from the theater stage to the studio lot, and from the studio lot back again, continues.

DOROTHY BURGESS

Now Dorothy Burgess, who first flashed across the cinema horizon in "Old Arizona," is going back to the stage—temporarily.

Miss Burgess falls heir to one of the dramatic prizes of the Pacific Coast season — the "high-yaller-gal" character of "Lulu Belle," which Lenore Ulric paraded in her throaty, rhythmic fashion on Broadway a season or so ago.

"Lulu Belle," a story of the Harlem belle and her loves, originally produced by David Belasco in New York, is coming to the Belasco Theater here, probably following the run of "The Little Accident."

Miss Burgess, under contract to Fox Films, where she recently completed "Pleasure Crazed," has been granted a leave of absence for the run of the play. It was while she was appearing in "The Squall" at the Belasco that her present film contract was signed, so her return to that theater seems entirely in keeping.

CHANEY TAKEN ILL, QUT OF "BUGLE CALL"

Trouper that he is, Lon Chaney finds that the attack of pneumonia which he suffered earlier in the year, has left him in such shape that he must take a rest for several weeks or perhaps a month or so.

LON CHANEY

Hence he will not start work this week at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in "The Bugle Call" as scheduled, and it is very probable that the film will go into production without him.

Chaney's condition is not serious, it is said and, although there was some talk at first of a minor operation, this is now been adjudged unnecessary.

Hedda Hopper Signed

A strong cast is being perfected for "The Racketeer," just starting production at Pathe studio and in which Robert Armstrong is featured as a New York "night-life pirate."

HEDDA HOPPER

Hedda Hopper was signed yesterday for an important character role, as well as John Loder, Paul Hurst and Kit Guard. Marilyn Morgan, one of the Pathe junior stock company girls, will play her first part in the picture.

Carol Lombard, of course, is seen opposite Armstrong, while Roland Drew is also featured. Incidentally, this is Armstrong's third picture in three months, the preceding two being "Big News" and "Oh, Yeah."

Eddie Phillips Promoted

Eddie Phillips feels that he has at last been graduated from college.

After many months as the dark-haired heavy in Universal's Collegian series, Eddie has moved his make-up box to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, where he is, for a change, to be seen in a musical-comedy film. This is "Road Show," in which Bessie Love and Charles King are featured and in which Jack Benny, Pollan Moran and Marie Dressler have parts.

Lloyd Moves to Paramount

The move of M. C. Levee from United Artists' studio, where he has been closely identified with the activities of Joseph Schenck, to Paramount as executive manager of that studio, would seem to link the fortunes of the two film organizations rather tightly.

Levee is a theatrical man of long experience and astute judgment. He takes up his new duties at Paramount immediately.

Edna Murphy at Warners'

Sometimes known as the "blond flapper," Edna Murphy, who just finished work in "Lummox," has gone to work at Warner Brothers' in "Second Choice" with Dolores Costello, Jack Mulhall and Chester Morris.

Edna plays opposite Edward Martindale, just signed for his part, and who was recently seen as the colonel in "The Desert Song."

College Realism Aim

No more can the college girls and films reputedly picturizing their boys give the "razz" to Paramount life, if studio executives follow the advice proffered by their new "collegiate" technical adviser.

Coach Rosa Bowen of Fairfax High School, Los Angeles, joined the studio staff yesterday to observe and advise on sequences in "Sweetie," Paramount's musical romance of campus life, in which a number of spectacular football plays are screened.

Ray Harris Moves

Ray Harris, who collaborated with Joseph Franklin Poland in the adaptation and dialogue of Poland's first starring story for Alan Hale, "Sailor's Holiday," joined First National yesterday on a contract to write and dialogue Vitaphone specials.

Harris was with Paramount for several years and authored many of the company's most successful comedies and comedy-dramas. Besides his work on "Sailor's Holiday," he also wrote for Ralph Block of Pathe an original story for William Boyd, in concert with Jack Jungmeyer.

Some New Comics

Jack White, producer of Educational comedies, says he has discovered a new pair of screen comics.

They are Monte Collins and Vernon Dent, who can, besides falling downstairs and tripping over the hall rugs, sing and dance. White announces he is going to feature them strongly during the coming year.

Ruth Clifford Signed

And still the roll of players in "Show of Shows" at Warner Brothers' grows larger. Ruth Clifford is the latest addition to the cast.

WAGNERIAN SOPRANO LISTED AT REDLANDS

Elsa Alsen, conceded to be one of the greatest Wagnerian sopranos, will appear at the Redlands Bowl in concert tonight, which will mark her second engagement for the Redlands Community Music Association.

When Mme. Alsen sang in the Redlands Bowl two years ago she attracted one of the largest and most enthusiastic audiences in the history of the association. Last season she returned as a special guest and spoke a few words of appreciation for the summer concerts. She has been a soloist with the Hollywood Bowl symphony orchestra and returns for two engagements this season. She now resides in Los Angeles part of the time.

NO HIGHER EDUCATION REQUIRED FOR ROLE

Sylvia Picker, who takes the part of the little freshman in "This Is College" at the Egan Theater, has never been to college. In fact, she said she would not go, much to the disappointment of her parents, who wished her to have all the benefits of higher education. But Sylvia had ideas of her own, and one of them was that the way to be a successful actress was to start early. Then she found herself right on the campus of "dear old Randall," the college part of "This Is College."

JUNGLE SCENE ERECTED

An African jungle hut, set in a picturesque background of bamboo trees, veldt grass, and wild palms, will be erected at Gay's Lion Farm, El Monte, as an added feature in connection with the daily arena exhibitions of Numa, lion motion-picture star, and his supporting troupe of 150 African lions. Native voodoo charms, shields, bows and arrows, and other curios from the wilds of Uganda and Abyssinia will be displayed.

A refreshment patio, similar to that described in "Trader Horn," will be opened in front of the jungle hut, serving iced cocoanut juice, lime rickeys, banana freezes and other cooling beverages of African origin.

DE MILLE FILM IS GREAT SHOW

Spectacular Producer Hurls Forth New Effects

'Dynamite' Provides Unique Sound-Action Thrills

Kay Johnson, Nagel and Bickford All Interest

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Thus, briefly and succinctly, not to say, perhaps, judicially, may the opinion be handed down that Cecil B. De Mille has done things in the new sound-talkie medium. And the "done things" really ought to be italicised to have the proper emphasis.

"Dynamite," his first venture into the realm of voice, harmony, hubbub, noise and what-not, had its premiere last night at the Carthay Circle Theater, and left no question in the minds of the experts who viewed it concerning its bringing the box-office bull's-eye.

Back to society, good old De Mille society, has the maker of many a sensational and spectacular film of the silence gone, and with new people and a new bag of tricks he has brought forth a winner.

"Dynamite" is not a 1000 per cent picture as to plot, but it is a show. Plenty happens and you don't have to believe it all if you don't want to, but the high spots are epochal.

I have looked at a goodly portion of this feature twice and I have twice found it interesting. I would not attempt to analyse the exact sources of its fascination. It is a sort of summary of everything that the talkies have offered so far, and a little more beside that. Somebody said of it that the only thing that was missing was Kari Dane with pursed lips getting ready to . . . well, never mind. What he did is a trade-mark established in the war front of "The Big Parade."

In any event, in "Dynamite" we have a subject so skillfully and colorfully treated and with such varied scenic and audible effects that a new thrill is evoked every few minutes.

The entire plot rests upon the shaky basis of a freak will, an expedient long used in picturedom. The substance of this will is that it demands marriage by a certain day of a light and superficial young society girl.

Her affections are centered in a man already wedded. She cannot marry him until he obtains a divorce from his wife, and there is not sufficient time for the trip to Reno. The heroine is forced therefore to choose another mate, if she wants to retain her millions. She chooses, and the man elected is a heavy-fisted coal miner about to be hanged on the charge of murder.

That is enough of the plot. It is the incident that matters.

From the starting moment there are stimuli to the attention. They constitute a veritable circus.

One of the very first events is an aero-wheel race that will, if I mistake not, become a stellar sport among the younger set. When did not De Mille set the fashion in bath tubs and sportively clad telephones?

The aero-wheel race is immensely clever. It brought a round of applause last evening, and it deserved this, because De Mille has made it a sound and sight triumph.

There are human touches a-plenty in the film. One bit right at the outset inspired enthusiasm, thanks to a fine bit of pathetic acting by the little youngster, Muriel McCormac. It represents her taking leave of her brother, the miner, sentenced to death.

Overwhelmingly sensational is the closing sequence . . . the mine cave-in. The results with sound are 100 per cent realism. It is the same sort of technical tour de force that established De Mille pictures in silence, like the Red Sea in "The Ten Commandments," his crash of auto and motorcycle in "Manslaughter."

The net judgment on "Dynamite" must be that De Mille has an amazing command of resources of sound and that he has exerted a vigorous pioneering spirit. "Dynamite" has no precedent for combining of talk with action and the dramatic influence of mere noise when it is needed. Incidentally the film brings forth a theme song that is as wailing as the "Prisoner's Song" and that will probably be nearly as popular when it gets around. This mournful ballad of sentiment is sung during the marriage ceremony, with the hammering on the gibbet for the condemned man going on the while.

Definitely, "Dynamite" is a picture of great and opulent high spots, and its plot, though possibly not for the sophisticated theatergoer, will appeal in the wide range of popularity.

The people are capable without exception. Kay Johnson's voice is especially enriching, and she knows the rules of acting. Hers is an admirable impersonation of a high-strung and impetuous heroine. It does much to sustain the reality of the picture. In the earlier days of silent films she might have had rather scant chance of success, but with the new requirements she will undoubtedly score brilliantly.

Charles Bickford is well cast. It is a bullish, cave-manniah role that he plays, and he has the physique for this. A certain roughness in his voice tends to lend high conviction to his impersonation. It is evident from this appraisal that talkies are causing alterations in our perception of players' gifts. I think this may be taken now as something well established.

Conrad Nagel is most effective in the part that he plays, and all things regarded—that is meeting the demands of the camera as well as the microphone—his is probably the most finished portrayal. I believe, though, it is overshadowed in prominence by those of Miss Johnson and Bickford.

Julia Faye marks with expression the role of the wife, though it is of less importance than the others. The dialogue in the scenes between her and Miss Johnson is particularly well spoken. Incidentally it is rather smart dialogue and was received with laughter.

Some portrayals to be well commended are those of Leslie Fenton and Barton Hepburn. Much depends on the scene they enact in carrying the story along and it is only a brief one. Tyler Brooke has some capital flashes.

"Dynamite" is accompanied by a short comedy subject, "Madame Q.," that is here and there very, very funny indeed. It is a take-off on courtroom plays, and the prize scene is where the girl accused of murder, feigning not to know how to handle a gun, suddenly turns out to be a real sharpshooter by killing a rat that runs through the jury box.

Carli Elinor presents an overture made up of the music associated with the American Indian. Miss Grosser, concert mistress of the orchestra, sings "By the Waters of the Minnetonka" during the progress of this.

The show at the Carthay Circle, with the De Mille picture dominant, is a show. And it opened in true dazzling Hollywood fashion last evening.

"HOTTENTOT" IS BOOKED

"The Hottentot," one of the favorite comedies of the theater-going public, having been filmed here before as a silent picture, and also having been produced on the stage, is to be the next attraction at Warner Brothers Theater, starting there as a Warner Brothers Vitaphone all-talking production on August 5. Playing the leading role in this hilarious comedy is Edward Everett Horton, popular Los Angeles actor, who also has taken the role on the stage.

Horton plays the part of Sam Harrington, who is supposed to be a great steeplechase rider but in reality has a terrific fear of horses. Through a series of ludicrous events he is forced to ride an unmanageable steed in a steeplechase in order to win the love of the girl, played by Patsy Ruth Miller.

Besides Edward Everett Horton and Patsy Ruth Miller the cast includes Edmund Breese, Gladys Brockwell, Edward Earle, Stanley Taylor, Otto Hoffman, Douglas Gerrard, Maude Turner Gordon and others. It was directed by Roy Del Ruth and adapted to the screen by Harvey Thew from the stage play by Victor Mapes and William Collier.

Charles Rogers, Mary Brian Featured in "River of Romance"

BY WHITNEY WILLIAMS

"The Fighting Coward" in 1924—now, in 1929, "River of Romance."

"River of Romance," which opened yesterday for a week's run at the Paramount Theater, is the latest screen adaptation of Booth Tarkington's travesty on Southern honor, "Magnolia"—honor, in this particular instance, as Gen'r'l Orlando Jackson puts it to Tom Rumford, being nothing more or less than a "man's fighting ability."

Richard Wallace directed this picture of the old South and throughout its length it evinces a clever directorial touch. Wallace is particularly deft when situations call for humorous treatment, and while in no sense of the word is the production a comedy, there is a vein of delightful lightness tracing its course through the plot.

The story opens with the arrival of Charles Rogers, as Tom Rumford—son of Maj. Rumford (Henry B. Walthall) a stickler for southern honor and a great believer in dueling—at his father's plantation. He has been to Philadelphia, with his uncle, for an education, and he returns without the fiery southern tendency to fight at the drop of a hat. When he refuses to engage in a duel with a rival for the hand of June Collyer, because that gentleman believes his honor has been betrayed at the hands of Rogers's fiancee, he is branded as a coward and leaves home. Mary Brian, the younger sister of June Collyer, is the only one who believes in him, and she begs him not to forsake his ideals.

In another town, Tom meets General Orlando Jackson, or, to be quite correct, the Notorious General Orlando Jackson, and saves his life when a man throws a knife at the general. A few minutes later, the Notorious Captain Blackie enters the gambling house where they are seated, and in a rough and tumble scrap which follows, Tom comes out victorious and proclaims himself the Notorious Colonel Blake. (He sees a Blake's Mustard label on a bottle and takes his name from that.)

So he is known up and down the river as the Notorious Colonel Blake and word of his exploits come to the ears of Magnolia, his father's plantation. His family, however, is quite ignorant of the fact that Tom is the Notorious Colonel Blake. And remembering his ideals and his promise to Mary never to forget them, his reputation is gained by a grand and supreme bluff, the notorious General Orlando Jackson playing the part of press agent de luxe and ballyhoo master for the reputation.

Of course, he returns finally, to participate with Mary in the first dance of her coming-out party. And in returning, meets his family and his former rival.

Interest in the first half of the production supersedes that of the last. There is a more sincere note and the action runs truer.

A tendency to overemphasize the speech of the South is quite apparent at all times, and detracts considerably from the general excellence. This circumstance may have been intended, but if so it does not click. This is true particularly in the dialogue of June Collyer. Of course, it is quite obvious that the speech and character of Maj. Hilary Patterson, Tom's rival, is burlesqued.

One of the most serious faults of the film is the miscasting of Rogers for the action that takes place after the plantation sequence. As the dreamer, in the opening scenes, he is ideally fitted for the role. But later the part becomes somewhat ridiculous. He is not the type for it.

Although Rogers is starred, honors are shared by Mary Brian and Wallace Beery, as General Orlando Jackson. In the struggle, however, Miss Brian forges to the front. As Lucy, she will be found to be a most satisfying southern belle, and doubtless her work in this production will be pronounced her finest. Beery returns to his old swaggering, bullying comedy role and makes a most hilarious General Orlando Jackson.

In addition to these three, the cast includes June Collyer, Henry B. Walthall, Fred Kohler, Walter McGrail, Natalie Kingston and Mrs. George Fawcett. It is a Paramount film.

"Song of Spain," a Tiffany-Stahl technicolor product, offers music and song in a picturesque setting, and Lois Wilson and Harrison Ford appear in a Christie talking play.

Guy Bates Post Soon Will Play in 'Masquerader'

Guy Bates Post will make his first appearance here with the Henry Duffy Players at the Hollywood Playhouse in his greatest success, "The Masquerader," starting August 5. The coming of Post to the Playhouse will bring here one of the foremost of stage stars in the play in which he has appeared over half the world.

In the play, which was founded on Katherine Cecil Thurston's novel of the same name, he appears in the dual roles of Cohan Chilcote and John Loder, two distant cousins who look exactly alike. "The Masquerader" has been the noted actor's most popular offering, although he has starred in such other plays as "Omar the Tentmaker," "The Nigger," "The Bird of Paradise" and others.

"ALIBI" HELD OVER AT PALACE THEATER

Roland West's all-talking production, "Alibi," now playing at the Broadway Palace Theater, will be held over for an additional week, it was announced.

The United Artists' underworld thriller, "Alibi," has not only to its credit a perfect speaking cast, it is said, but the recording and sound effects have set a new mark.

LOVE STORY MARKED BY DISTINCTION

'Wonder of Women,' New Part-Dialogue Film, Saga of Musician

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

". . . but the wonder is this: Can it be true someone like you Could love me . . . ?"

The lines are just those of a popular ditty, but they are the moving spirit behind "Wonder of Women." Clarence Brown's production which was screened yesterday at Loew's State Theater, to that unhappy moment when this magnificently directed photoplay contrived to speak—about half an hour from the end—I was prepared to shout from the housetops that here was one of the most beautiful romances of the year. My eulogy is now tempered with the helpful suggestion that you either leave the theater or readjust yourself to the shock of hearing these romantics talk out in their separate voices, once Mr. and Mrs. Stephan Tromholt return to their home by the water (at Frisen-am-Meer to find it made destitute by the passing of little Wulle-Wulle.

I may be wrong about this. In fact, it is very likely I am. While it seemed to me that the most stirring passages of this creation occurred in silence, it required no amplifying apparatus for me to detect sobs and fluttering handkerchiefs even after audibility had its fling. Therefore, since the picture obviously will please all of the people some of the time, I suggest that you pay your money and take your choice.

Based on Hermann Sudermann's novel, "The Wife of Stephan Tromholt," the vivid, penetrating flashes of the early reels recount the great love that came to a composer of classical music. Humorously, tenderly, poignantly, the episodes unfold his meeting with Brigitte, a widow with three children, his at-first studied indifference, and his realization at last that his fate as man and artist is forever bound to hers. In these two roles, Lewis Stone and Peggy Wood attain signal distinction; their characteristic poise, repression and ordered grouping weave a spell not readily shaken off. No one, either, can quarrel with their voices—as voices.

Their first encounter takes place on a train. Tromholt is bound for the town of Gustrau to appear in concert. He is bored with adulation; stumbling upon his fate alone in one of the compartments, he finds her lacking in this quality, and is immediately piqued. So much so, indeed, that he inflicts beer and cucumber salad upon his poor stomach with heroic disregard of consequences; and it is these consequences, resulting almost immediately, which lead to the lady's offer of assistance and bicarbonate of soda. Thus love came to these two.

The death of Wulle-Wulle, the woman's youngest child, is handled with rare artistic restraint; and those scenes leading up to the discovery of it by the mother achieve a moving power which Brown has never surpassed in all his directing. At the other extreme, the precious humor of Tromholt's uncomfortable jaunt in a pouring rain remains imprinted on the memory. It is the little details which count in "Wonder of Women."

Wally Albright, Jr., portrays the little boy. The other children are, at different ages, Carmencita Johnson, Anita Louise Fremault, Dietrich Haupt and Ullrich Haupt, Jr. Leila Hyams looks beautiful as Karen, the other woman; and Sarah Padden, George Fawcett, Blanche Friderici fill their roles capably.

Settings and mounting, barring an overemphasized seascape, compel admiration.

"Melon-Choly Blues," presented on the State stage, is a colorful and fast-moving revue headed by Milton Cole, Douglas Burley and Rube Wolf. It is anything but what its name signifies.

RHYTHMS OF BALLET WIN AT BOWL

Goossens Amiably Presents New Compositions for American Approval

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The second concert to be given this season at the Hollywood Bowl under the direction of Eugene Goossens was notable chiefly for novelties and ballets. "Portsmouth Point," a rollicking sea comedy by a very young Englishman named Walton, and a ballet scene from Bucharoff's "Sakhara" were the new compositions. Dukas's "La Perl," another musical poem of the dance, might also be called a novelty, as it is rarely heard. Other numbers were overture to "The Magic Flute," by Mozart; variations on a theme of Haydn's by Brahms and another ballet suite by Massenet.

As graceful movements with the baton and a princely bearing are large assets contributing to the popularity of this young conductor, it is in keeping that he should program ballets and they are invariably well received. The overture, "Portsmouth Point," by William Turner Walton, was not programmed as a ballet, but its rhythms were definite and it would make a delightful sailor's hornpipe. Goossens added to its charm by a few words of explanation in his perfect Oxford English.

Of the Bucharoff number, more might be said if there had been time for further rehearsing. Its orchestration was not entirely clear and, in fact, the men seemed to be making a very good effort at sight-reading most of the time. It is essentially an oriental dance and the musical figure of a nautch girl dominates the performance.

Mr. Goossens is evidently experimenting with the new Bowl shell and it is to be hoped that he will be able to make the unity of wind and strings move toward the ideal as he becomes accustomed to the new requirements. For last night's concert, he changed the harps over to the left facing the audience, moved the tympani nearer the center and put the brass and cymbals over on the right side.

Tonight "Carmen" in a concert-ized version will present Alice Gentle, Alexander Kisselburgh and Paul Althouse as soloists.

THE RETURN OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

It was quite dark before La, the high priestess, returned to the Chamber of the Dead with food and water for Tarzan. She bore no light, but through the stone grating above a tropic moon served dimly to illuminate the interior. The ape-man, crouching in the shadows, came forth to meet the girl as he recognized it was she.

"They are furious," were her first words. "Never before has a human sacrifice escaped the altar. They have searched the temple—all save this room, which they fear. Already fifty have gone forth to track you down. Come, let us see how far we can go toward liberty before I must return." Silently Tarzan followed her from the grisly spirit chamber.

She led him back to a place beneath the altar room. Ten minutes they groped their way down a secret, winding passage, coming to a closed door. Tarzan heard her fumble with a key. A metal bolt gave way and they entered. "You will be safe here until tomorrow night," she said. Then she went out and locked the door behind her.

Not even Tarzan's trained eyes could penetrate the utter blackness. Cautiously he felt his way about. Finally he stopped. A distinct draft of fresh air was blowing in somewhere between the massive stones. Carefully he tested several and was rewarded. One lifted out readily. To his surprise, he thought he discerned a faint glow directly ahead of him.

BANDIT STAGES THRILLER

Pipe Smoker's Nerve Wins Against Inexperienced Hold-up Man

VENICE, July 25.—A smoker who refused to throw up his hands for a bandit until he got his pipe drawing smoothly, three heavy-caliber revolvers, a fusillade of shots and a bullet which split apart and saved a woman's life—all these and many more elements of a fast-action thriller figured last night in an attempted hold-up at Lincoln Boulevard and Marco Place.

J. B. Klem, police reported, was inside his gas station lighting his favorite pipe when an unmasked youth, about 18 years of age, entered and pointed a gun. "Stick 'em up and open the cash register!" the bandit ordered.

Klem, police aver, continued reflectively to puff his pipe, paying not the slightest heed to the bandit. The pipe was slightly clogged somewhere in its plumbing and wouldn't draw. Klem worked on it in that deft way experts have, and finally got it going. He started to drop the match in an ash tray on his desk, but with the same motion grabbed up an unloaded revolver and struck the bandit's gun with it. He failed in his effort to knock the weapon out of the bandit's hand, but the youthful criminal turned and fled across Lincoln Boulevard. Perhaps he was impatient, police say, and feared Klem would waste more time lighting his pipe. Anyway he seemed to be in a big hurry to get away from the oil station.

Klem pursued, shoving bullets into his gun as he ran. Whether his pipe was still issuing smoke or not was not reported. He fired four shots at the fleeing youth, who returned two shots in apparent desperation.

Bert Watson, Venice police division inspector of licenses, resides 200 feet from the oil station, at 860 Marco Place. Watson ran out of his house with a gun in his hand, but slipped and fell near the door. A bullet from the now thoroughly impatient bandit whistled above Watson's head, right through the section of atmosphere he had occupied before he made the slip which turned out to be such a life-saving break.

The bullet, according to the police report, went through the glass of the door and split in half. Mrs. Watson, wife of the inspector, was at the telephone notifying police headquarters of the hold-up. The halves of the split bullet were dug out of the wall, one on each side of the telephone.

The bandit fired again as Watson recovered his feet. The inspector shot twice into a hedge behind which the youth darted. From this temporary hiding he dashed down the street, and Watson pursued him for two blocks but was outdistanced. A police car arrived, but the only clew uncovered was in the shape of an automobile parked near the oil station. Police believe another man, an accomplice, had driven this car, but had fled when the fast action was started by a pipe smoker's nervy bluff.

The bandit was described as an American of medium height and weight, wearing a dark cap, white sweater and corduroy trousers. He was stockily built.

Lake Elsinore to be Used for Storing Water

SAN DIEGO, July 25.—Lake Elsinore is to be made a holding reservoir under the Metropolitan Water District plan, it was made known today when Hydraulic Engineer H. N. Savage submitted his ten-day report on water development to the common council.

Lake Elsinore storage water, however, would be for the use of Riverside county, Engineer Savage said today. The lake at present contains much alkali but the induction and flow of fresh water from the Colorado River would eliminate the obnoxious features at present contained in the water, the engineer declared.

Engineer Savage said in his report that he is "advancing contact with the Metropolitan Water District by reviewing engineering reports comprehending main conduits and feature surveys from the Boulder Canyon Reservoir Basin to the Southern California coastal plains; also consideratio nof terminal storage reservoirs, including consideration of Lake Elsinore."

While Lake Elsinore would hold a large body of fresh water gone of it would be for use in San Diego, Engineer Savage said, as Riverside county, which is included in the Metropolitan Water District, would use it for watering the fertile Perris Valley.

Should San Diego decide to obtain water from the Colorado River, it either would be taken from the all-American canal in Imperial county or by conduit from the main acqueduct somewhere in the vicinity of San Bernardino, according to Engineer Savage.

No Foul Play as Suspected in Man's Death

VENTURA, July 25.—Indications that Walter M. Woods, 54 years of age, former army man, found dead in a shack in the rear of Martell's grocery and pool hall in Saticoy this morning, had met with foul play, was dispelled by Coroner Reardon, whose examination this afternoon revealed that the body bore no mark of injury. A hemorrhage at the mouth, which explained the bloody condition of the body, the hands, and head, will probably be determined as the cause of the death, at the inquest to be held tomorrow, Reardon said.

Woods came to Saticoy approximately two weeks ago, residents there declared. The body was found by Joe Garcia, clerk of Martell, who caught sight of Woods's face on the floor as he was coming through an adjoining yard.

BARRACUDA CARNAGE GREATEST IN YEARS

HERMOSA BEACH, July 25.—A ton of barracuda, the efforts of approximately twenty anglers spending the day off shore on one of the deep sea fishing boats operating out of here, was the picture witnessed by hundreds of visitors promenading the municipal pier yesterday.

Not in a score of years have the "scooters" been so numerous and the runs of these speedsters held out as consistentally as the present season with no present indications of abatement in the sport.

Ofttimes the past week, skippers of the pleasure fishing craft, after but a few hours on the banks, have been requested by anglers to start the return voyage—the anglers in most cases have experienced plenty for the day as the eight-pound game fish, their numbers never diminishing, outfish the fellows in the boat.

BEE MEN REPORTING SEASON LOOKS GOOD

NEWHALL, July 25.—Bee men in this section are reporting they are finding this season much better than had been anticipated. Earlier in the year it had been stated there would be little or no production, but it is now reported hives are filled and the quality of honey is showing high grade. While the honey crop will be short there is going to be sufficient to carry the swarms over to next year and leave a fair surplus for sale.

POLICEMEN GET HEARINGS

SOUTH GATE, July 25.—Eight of the twenty former members of the police department, who tendered their resignations to Chief of Police Earl Cunningham and who have not been reinstated, have made a demand upon the City Council that they be given a hearing, having understood at the time the resignations were presented, that those whom no valid charges had been brought against, would be reinstated. The Council has decided that a hearing will be given the eight men making the demand, but no date has yet been set. The men are A. E. Earle, Harold Jones, J. J. Wellers, Walter Groves, E. S. Wiggins, Harj Reynolds, T. R. Hamilton and Harold Lloyd.

NEW LEGION COMMANDER

SOUTH GATE, July 25.—The Mispah American Legion Post has elected Dr. R. W. Cosby as commander of the organization to fill out the unexpired term of Franklin C. Bridcott. Monte Moore has also been selected vice-commander to fill out the unexpired term of H. F. Castlebery. Both Bridcott and Castlebery resigned.

Death Takes Daughter of Sick Mother

GLENDALE, July 25.—Miss Lillian Cutler, 66 years of age, sat for twelve hours, dead in her chair by the kitchen table in her home at 226 North Louise street, while her mother, Mrs. Lila Cutler, 91, crippled with rheumatism, lay on the floor of her bedroom, unable to get back into the bed from which she had fallen. Discovery of Miss Cutler's death was made by Detective Lieutenant F. C. Williams after word had been sent to police headquarters by neighbors asking for help in forcing an entrance to the Cutler home.

Dr. J. B. McGuire, who was summoned by Williams, gave his opinion that Miss Cutler's death was due to natural causes and a report to this effect was sent to the Coroner's office along with notification of the death.

Dale V. Curtis, 617 East One Hundred and Ninth Place, Los Angeles, has been summoned to assume charge of his aunt, Mrs. Cutler, who is being cared for by neighbors until Curtis arrives. The body is at Kiefer & Eyerick Mortuary pending the decision of the Coroner as to whether an inquest shall be held.

INTENSIVE SEARCH FOR ONTARIO MAN

ONTARIO, July 25.—Local police were today preparing to begin a State-wide search for Richard C. Pheysey, Ontario insurance and real estate broker, who, it is believed, has met with foul play. Pheysey was scheduled to appear in Upland courts yesterday morning as defendant in a $125 petit theft suit, growing out of Pheysey's asserted failure to clear up a mortgage on property which he sold to F. W. Stengraber, Ontario.

When Pheysey failed to appear, officers investigated and found that he had left for San Bernardino Tuesday, but had failed to return. Police do not believe that Pheysey would intentionally avoid a case of such minor proportions and today held the opinion that his failure to appear was either the result of foul play or some unexplained circumstance.

It is the first time that Pheysey, a middle-aged man, has ever stayed away from his aged mother overnight without telling her.

EMULATE WILLIAM TELL

LAGUNA BEACH, July 25.—"Believe it or not," bows and arrows are the best weapons for bringing down game or slaying pests. Harold Reed and several members of the Laguna Beach Archery Club have attained sufficient prowess with Robin Hood's ordnance to prove the assertion. One day's bag included nine rabbits, two squirrels and a rattlesnake.

REDLANDS TAX RATE IS LOWER

Payment for Municipal Purposes Less Than for Years

REDLANDS, July 25.—Redlands will have the lowest tax rate of years this coming year. The City Council today fixed the rate as $1.30, a cut from $1.40 last year. The rate is divided as follows: General fund, 93 cents; library fund, 16 cents; old water bonds, 11 cents; new water bonds, 3 cents; Sylvia Boulevard, 3 cents; street bonds, 2 cents; park bonds, 2 cents; total tax rate, $1.30.

Mayor Allen Wheaton says that the 16-cent rate will bring the library fund a bit more than is necessary, but that the money will be needed in other departments. It is hoped that increased assessments in coming years will make it possible to maintain the $1.30 rate.

Even by taking 7 cents off the tax rate for the general fund, the city will receive $169,000 for that fund for the current fiscal year, City Assessor C. P. Hook reported to the board. This is about $2000 more revenue than was applied to the general fund last year.

Mr. Hook stated that taxes collected from the assessment roll by the city will bring $240,000 under the new rate. Last year the tax revenue was $298,000 at $1.40. Besides this revenue, other sources are expected to bring $30,000, part of which will be the city's third of taxes collected on bonds and securities.

Revenues for the general fund was estimated at $199,275. The Council's budget provides for expenditure of $195,000. The surplus of more than 45000 will be set aside for emergencies, said Mayor Wheaton. The new Redlands tax rate is based on $18,250,000, which is twice the assessed valuation placed on the city this year by County Assessor A. E. Allen. Last year's rate of $1.40 was based on an assessed valuation of $17,000,000. The county valuation is doubled now by the City Assessor in fixing the valuation for city tax purposes.

FOSSIL SHELLS SHOW LAND ONCE WAS SEA

VAN NUYS, July 25.—A deposit of petrified oyster shells found by Virgil Murray of Van Nuys in the mountains east of Fillmore are on display at his paint shop on Victory Boulevard. The fossils were at the same elevation as those found by him last year in the Santa Monica mountains, south of this town. Murray says that his latest find again proves that in ages past the sea covered a large part of Southern California. He also says that the canyon in which he found the shells near Fillmore appears to have been disturbed by an earthquake eruption, probably the one that shook Santa Barbara several years ago.

FORD MAKES PAYMENT

LONG BEACH, July 25.—The Ford Motor Company's first payment on construction of the new assembly and export plant at the Los Angeles-Long Beach Harbor boundary was received here today by the Clinton Construction Company of Los Angeles, general contractors. The check for $243,073.03 was deposited in a local bank for work completed under the $2,500,000 contract.

LAY TENNIS COURTS

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, July 25. Two concrete tennis courts are being constructed at the North Hollywood High School, with part of the $4000 recently appropriated by the Board of Education for the improvement of the athletic field of the school.

BOY IS SHOT

VAN NUYS, July 25.—Sherman Rodman, 10 years of age, 6632 Hayvenhurst avenue, was treated at the Emergency Hospital for a rifle shot wound. Rodman told police he was on a bicycle and that two boy friends playfully took a shot at him as he rode by.

CULVER CITY, July 25.—First of their kind to be brought to this country from their native haunts in Colombia, South America, a shipment of "howler" monkey, simians so named because of their dismal and weird guttural noises, has just arrived at the Los Angeles Monkey Farm, on Washington Boulevard, just east of here.

The "howlers," though most ferocious in appearance, are not as wild as many others of the monkey family, according to W. H. Rice, president of the farm, who brought them here. How well they will fare in captivity is problematical, Rice indicated today, since confinement is entirely new to this particular species.

Beards, similar to the whiskers popularly associated with Gloucester fishermen, entirely encircle the chins of the "howlers," from certain angles lending them an almost human appearance. Arrival of the "howlers" at the local simian community brings the total monkey population there to more than 400, including practically every known variety.

Funds Lacking for Playgrounds

MONROVIA, July 25.—Discontinuance of supervised playground work at three schools here is likely to be permanent for the remainder of the summer, resulting from an oversight of the City Park Commission who did not request that a sum be appropriated for the work at the time the new city budget was compiled on the 1st inst.

The commission met with defeat when they made an attempt to obtain the necessary funds to continue the playgrounds for the rest of the season, from the City Council.

Council members declared they could not alter the situation as the budget is now completed and that the only way in which the commission could obtain $250 needed to complete the program, would be to utilize a portion of the $5000, which the Council sets aside each year for improvements in Recreation Park.

According to C. A. Brunger, chairman of the commission, it would be difficult to appropriate a portion of the fund for playground activities, inasmuch as there are several important projects now under way at the park.

The Council told members of the commission that they did not feel disposed to pay salaries of playground supervisors out of city money. The playgrounds, which opened on the 8th inst., closed last Saturday.

Girl's Story Convicts Three

VENTURA, July 25.—H. McCarty, 20 years of age; Harry Morse, 20, and J. P. Sheehan, 22, were given sentences ranging from twenty to thirty days' imprisonment and fines totaling $75 after they entered pleas of guilty in Judge Thomas E. Mellandt's court today on a charge of committing a statutory offense.

Miss Eileen Gosney, 16, of San Jose, was being held in the detention ward by juvenile authorities in connection with the case.

The three youths told the court they drifted together in San Francisco under an impulse to stow away aboard a vessel bound for New York. Failing to secure passage in this way, the trio set out for Los Angeles with the hope of getting a boat out of San Pedro.

At San Jose they became acquainted with a bootlegger and were introduced to the girl. They said, according to their story, the latter told them she had no home and they decided to take her with them on the proposed trip to New York.

All four were taken into custody here late yesterday.

TAXABLE VALUES DROP

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 25. With a $4,000,000 drop in the valuation of this city during the past year, the city government will collect $60,000 less in taxes than last year, according to Charles Furr, City Clerk and Assessor. Approximately $210,000 in taxes will be collected by the city during this fiscal year, according to Furr.

SCIENTIST TO START WORK

Construction of Giant Vacuum Tube on Irvine Ranch to Begin Soon

SANTA ANA, July 25.—Construction of a mile-long vacuum tube for the purpose of conducting scientific experiments to determine the speed of light may start on the Irvine ranch within the next month, it became known here today following announcements made by Dr. Albert A. Michaelson, famous Chicago University physicist, that he had completed plans for the construction of the tunnel near Santa Ana.

James Irvine, Jr., stated that Dr. Michaelson had been negotiating with the ranch company for some time through Roy Browning, company engineer. A tentative site has been selected for the tunnel near the Eddie Martin airport, Irvine said.

Irvine explained that the tube must be absolutely level and that the section was selected because of its flatness. The tube will be in use in about a year, Irvine said.

Irvine stated that while final negotiations for the construction of the vacuum tube had not been completed, there would be no objection made by the Irvine company, as the tube would not interfere in any way with the company activities.

The tube, it is said, will be of steel. Dr. Michaelson has been working on the experiment for several years, and during the past few months has conducted experiments with light rays between Mt. Wilson and Old Baldy, which have determined the velocity of light to be about 186,000 miles a second. The scientist has been conducting his experiments near Ross Field, Arcadia, with a series of gigantic mirrors, but conditions there were not satisfactory for the construction of the tube desired, he said.

Sheriff Seeks Man Accused of Cow Theft

BRYN MAWR, July 25.—Eugene Swarts of San Bernardino is being sought for stealing five dairy cows from the Vanderveen Dairy on West Colton avenue, near Tricity Airport, and selling them in Anaheim. The cows were stolen a week ago, Swarts has disappeared and cannot be found.

Sheriff Shay traced the cows to Anaheim, where he learned they had been sold to the Southern Meat Company for approximately $400 and butchered. The purchaser was unaware that the cows had been stolen and readily assisted the Sheriff in the investigation.

From Anaheim the Sheriff traced the hides of the cows to a Los Angeles tannery, where they were identified by a brand as from the cows stolen from the Vanderveen Dairy. At the time the theft was reported, the Sheriff had no information with which he might identify the thief. Later, however, he received information of the cows having been driven from the Vanderveen pasture, and loaded on a truck, which was traced to Orange county, then to the Anaheim market.

SCOUT DISTRICT IS REORGANIZED

INGLEWOOD, July 25.—For the purpose of rehabilitating and reorganizing a Boy Scouts of America district here, a committee of twenty business men met at the Inglewood Chamber of Commerce last night.

George M. Sutton was named chairman of the committee that has as its objective the re-establishment of the Centinela district, that should have at least twenty active troops with an enrollment of between 500 and 600 Scouts.

Subcommittees will be formed and a systematic campaign begun under the direction of Mr. Sutton, E. S. Dixon and Attorney Vernon P. Spencer, all actively identified with scouting in the Centinela Valley. At present the Scout troops in this section are under the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles Boy Scout district.

NEAR DROWNINGS AT HERMOSA BEACH

HERMOSA BEACH, July 25.—Two cases of near drowning were reported by lifeguards here this morning. Frances Murphy, 5 years of age, of 4339 Victoria Drive, Los Angeles, was taken from the water in a semi-conscious condition after having been carried into the heavy surf on a breaker. V. McClay of the Pioneer Apartments was revived at the Emergency Hospital after being brought ashore near Thirteenth street. Officers found him to have been intoxicated and later transferred him to the City Jail.

CHANGE IN OFFICIAL ON DUTY AT BORDER

CALEXICO, July 25.—Three changes in line officials at the Calexico port of entry were announced today. Waldo Wilson, immigration inspector, has gone to the new port at San Luis, Sonora, his place here being taken by W. J. Crane of Los Angeles. Robert H. Voss is transferred to Honolulu, his relief not yet being announced. Harry C. Powell, customs inspector, left today for his new post at San Francisco. He is relieved here by W. R. Botkin of San Francisco.

INTERMENT AT ST. LOUIS

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, July 25.—The body of Mrs. Mary D. Cunningham, 66 years of age, 10911 Ventura Boulevard, who died at her home, has been sent to St. Louis for interment. Mrs. Cunningham had lived in California for nine years.

LIGHTS APPROVED

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, July 25. The Municipal Art Commission has approved ornamental light standards on Lankershim Boulevard north of Chandler Boulevard to San Fernando Road, it is announced here today.

City Budget is Unsatisfactory, Say Officials

SAN DIEGO, July 25.—That the budget allowances for city departments as agreed by a council majority upon adjournment last evening still are unsatisfactory was indicated today when Councilman James V. Alexander said he would vote against passage of the ordinance when it comes up for final reading. Mayor Harry C. Clark indicated that had there been any salary increases he would have considered a veto.

The budget, as it stands, provides for no salary increases of any kind, and a cut from $7500 to $6000 in the pay of City Manager Fred M. Lockwood. Councilman Louis C. Maire endeavored to get a raise for Street Superintendent R. M. Gregory, but was unable to muster votes enough, when upon adjournment the four members present said the salaries would stand with the exception of the cut in the City Manager's pay.

Councilman Alexander, who was out of the city yesterday, returned this morning, when he declared some of the allowances in the budget did not suit him and that he would vote against its passage when it comes up for action, which in all probability would be next Monday.

Alexander expressed his opposition to an appropriation of $56,000 for the next four years to pay for ornamental lights at Mission Beach. He also expressed his disappointment that the Council did not weed out some of the "dead wood," as he calls it, among the city employes.

Corona Man Faces Charge of Dynamiting

RIVERSIDE, July 25.—Fred Fisher, 53 years of age, of Corona, is being held in the county jail charged with malicious use of dynamite with intent to intimidate Henry Beckman, also of Corona. County officials for a time debated the pressing of a more serious charge as it was suspected that an attempt to injure or kill Beckman had been frustrated by the alertness of a hired hand.

Fisher was arrested by Sheriff Sweeters following the discovery among the pieces of kindling wood a hired man was putting in the Beckman stove, one in which two holes had been drilled and then filled with high explosive powder, bird shot and paper wadding. The holes were then sealed with round plugs of wood. Officers stated that had the anticipated explosion occured the stove would have been blown to bits and any persons standing nearby would doubtless have been fatally injured.

Beckman and Fisher were formerly partners in conducting a sugar beet ranch. A bitter feud is asserted to have existed since the dissolution of partnership. Fisher was arrested following a search of his premises in the course of which drills of the same size as the bored holes, powder and other material were found.

Police Seek Missing Girl

LA HABRA, July 25.—Mr. and Mrs. E. D. DeGray, distraught by a week's anxiety over the strange disappearance of their daughter Helen, 17, were making a new appeal to police, newspapers and radio stations to aid them in finding the girl. Mrs. DeGray was reported on the verge of collapse from the ordeal.

The girl disappeared at Long Beach July 14 after telling her escort, Kenneth Agnew, Fullerton High School boy, that she never would see him again. Her parents know no reason why she should leave home unless it be a desire for freedom.

Miss DeGray is described as 5ft. 3in. tall, weighs 120 pounds, has grey eyes and blond hair. She has a prominent scar on her left arm. She was an officer of Job's Daughters, a Masonic order at Fullerton.

CHILDREN PLEAD WITH INTOXICATED FATHER

VENTURA, July 25.—Two small children were clinging to the steering wheel of an old roadster, begging their father not to drive while drunk, when State motor officers arrested Camilo Ysais of Van Nuys on Oxnard Boulevard about 8 o'clock last night, according to the story told by Capt. Kenneth Murphy of the State motor police.

Ysais was brought to the County Jail last night, and the two children were turned over to the Detention Home for care. Their father was arraigned this morning and his bail set at $200.

NO MOTIVE DISCOVERED

SANTA ANA, July 25.—No light had been thrown today on reasons for the asserted attempted suicide of Pete Varietaon, 59, cook employed in a cafe at Serra, who is recovering at the County Hospital from the effects of swallowing ant paste. Varietaon was found ill in the cafe Tuesday evening.

BABY BANDITS STAGE HOLD-UP

Quartet of Youngsters Use Empty Revolver

Rob Service Station of Gum, Candy and Cigarettes

Officers Conduct "Gang" to Juvenile Hall

BURBANK, July 25.—The "rod" that wasn't used by the parent who spoiled the child was brandished by the boy in the youngest "baby bandit" burglarly and hold-up ever recorded here when four Los Angeles youngsters, from 9 to 14 years of age, were booked for a "stick-up" of a service station last night.

A 14-year-old boy possessed the "rod."

Although the youthful runmars weapon, a 38-caliber revolver, wasn't loaded, the boy used it with good effect on the operator of the station and he was only caught when another employee grabbed the bandit as he was backing out of the station with his gun leveled and his pocket full of candy, gum and cigarettes.

The three other boys whose ages are 9, 10 and 12, fled from the scene of the hold-up but were caught by police officers and forced to join the 14-year-old in the Juvenile Hall late last night.

Surprised by Charles Mussano, owner of the station at Lincoln street and San Fernando Boulevard, while engaged in rifling a show case, Leland Frederick Bull, 14, of 3240 Newell street, Los Angeles, shoved the empty revolver in Mussano's stomach and commanded him to "throw 'em up."

Burbank officers caught the other members of the gang within a few minutes after they had Bull, the asserted ring leader, captured. They gave the names of Irwin John Conver, 12; William L. Conver, 10, and little Joseph Milton Conver, 9, of 1931 Blaks avenue, Los Angeles.

Young Bull, who took an aggressive attitude toward the police after his arrest, told them that he got the revolver from "a river bottom."

The weapon, however, was practically new. He said his father was a vaudeville actor and that his mother was dead.

Girl Killed in Auto Accident

CALEXICO, July 25.—Elisa Davila, 16 years of age of Los Angeles, was killed; her sister, Paula, 22, was probably fatally injured, another sister, Refugio, 27, is suffering severe bruises and cuts, and Joe Mendosa of 1615 Rhinehart street, Los Angeles, is dangerously injured as a result of a collision between Mendosa's sedan and a watermelon truck.

The accident occurred at 3:40 o'clock this morning after the car left El Centro, driving south toward the border. Francisco Davila, brother of the girl who was killed, and another sister, Teresa Davila, were dazed and bruised, but not seriously injured. George Anderson of El Centro, driver of the truck, was bruised and cut by flying glass, when melons were forced through the window in the rear of his cab.

State Traffic Officer J. E. Tackett, who investigated the crash, said the driver of the sedan had evidently dozed in sleep, for his car swerved directly ahead of the truck.

HEAVY BOND FOR RECKLESS DRIVER

SANTA ANA, July 25.—Frank A. Kelly, 28 years of age, Los Angeles real-estate man, today was at liberty under $2000 bond pending his appearance for preliminary hearing before Justice K. E. Morrison, Santa Ana, the 31st inst. on charges of failure to render aid after an automobile wreck, and driving while under the influence of liquor.

Kelly was arrested Friday afternoon following an automobile crash near Irvine, in which Mrs. M. Guyler, 32; Margaret Guyler, 14; Mrs. Robert Smith, 36, and Patricia Smith, 5, all of Long Beach, were injured. It was charged that shortly before the wreck took place he had been involved in another collision, between his car and that of Dr. Carolyn Wais, Los Angeles, on Laguna Boulevard.

BURGLARY SUSPECT IN PSYCHOPATHIC WARD

SAN DIEGO, July 25.—Antonio Hendon, recently bound over to Superior Court under $1000 bail to face trial on a burglary charge, today was transferred from the County Jail to the psychopathic ward of the County Hospital for observation by Acting Jailer E. C. Riley, who said that he staged a violent furniture-wrecking "spree" in his cell last night.

Wild shouts and the sound of rending wood attracted jailers to Hendon's cell Tuesday, and they found him engaged in smashing his cot and other furnishings, while emitting strange cries, they said. He was immediately placed in a straightjacket.

The prisoner has a previous conviction for burglary listed against him.

WEST VALLEY AREA TO GET FIRE HOUSE

OWENSMOUTH, July 25.—Both Owensmouth and Reseda, a few miles east of here, are making efforts to obtain a fire station with paid firemen. The City Council has agreed to erect the station at a cost of about $25,000, but the location has not been definitely settled. As the station is to serve the west end of San Fernando Valley, it is probable it may be erected at an acceptable point between the two communities.

EARLY RECORD HOP RECALLED

Bleriot Tells of Flying Channel in 1909

Paris Observes Twentieth Anniversary With Fete

Great Plane Maker Will Make Trip Again

PARIS, July 25. (AP)—Tonight on the twentieth anniversary of his half-hour flight from Calais to Dover that opened a new epoch of the air, Louis Bleriot is being feted in Paris and for the next four days will receive honors on both sides of the channel and in London.

"It was quite a simple trick," the veteran flyer said in recalling his day of days. "Latham having had the idea before me to try to cross the channel by air, I waited the result of his attempt. On July 19 he hopped off and fell in the sea. Two days later I was at Calais, and on July 25 I started and arrived on the other side.

WAS KEPT BUSY

"What did I think about that half-hour? Well, the time passed quickly and I was occupied so much with the oil feed and the level of gasoline and with keeping my direction that I didn't think about anything else."

The pioneer of the air recalled that he had begun life as an electrician's helper at 200 francs a month (then about $40.) became interested in aviation in 1900 and was flat broke by the time he had paid for the machine with which he flew across the channel.

"I had to do something big to get back on my feet. Luck was with me and I won 25,000 francs for the Calais-Dover flight and later got as much as 80,000 francs for a two-minute flight in various European capitals. But it wasn't easy. I was 40 years of age and a poor pilot."

LOOKING AHEAD

Looking ten years ahead, M. Bleriot predicted regular two-day service across the Atlantic by land planes with floating islands anchored in the Atlantic. He does not believe that seaplanes will ever be built streng enough to withstand heavy seas.

On Saturday the aviator again will cross the channel by air, this time in one of the 400-horsepower planes he manufactures instead of the twenty-horsepower plane that took him over twenty years ago.

WOMAN DIES ON SHIP

PLYMOUTH (Eng.) July 25. (AP) Sophie Antoinette Lowestein, 44 years of age, of Casper, Wyo., a passenger aboard the liner Rotterdam, dropped dead on deck today of heart disease. Her body will be taken to Holland, where she was bound for a holiday.

OCEAN FLYERS RETURN TOMORROW FROM EUROPE

New York Prepares Enthusiastic Greeting to Williams and Yancey

NEW YORK, July 25. (Exclusive)—Roger Q. Williams and Lewis A. Yancey, most recent trans-Atlantic flyers, have been in eclipse for several days as a result of prominence attained by various endurance pilots, but will emerge for another moment of glory Saturday when they arrive on the liner Republic.

They will be met by the city tug Macom and a reception committee and the city is expected to extend its usual enthusiastic greeting.

It is doubted, however, whether New York can begin to equal the warmth extended to the flyers in Rome after their landing there. Pictures just arrived show tremendous crowds assembled wherever the airmen went.

NEW ILL LAID TO FRUIT FLY

Eastern Doctor Reports Mystery Malady Which He Attributes to Infected Citrus Product

CINCINNATI (O.) July 25. (Exclusive)—Dr. Lawrence M. Spitzelberger of Dayton, Ky., is fighting a grim battle with the most mysterious malady he ever has encountered in an attempt to save the life of an 11-year-old boy, Bernard Kopp of Dayton.

The physician declared today that his patient's illness was caused by poison which had entered his system through citrus fruit stung by that dread pest, the Mediterranean fruit fly.

By a series of tests Dr. Spitzelberger asserts he has determined that the fruit fly when it stung the fruit injected a deadly poison which may cause death to human beings who eat the fruit. The case he reports is the first on record although the Mediterranean fly, as it is called, is known to have destroyed a large percentage of the Florida fruit crop which it attacked about six months ago.

"I have treated the boy for seven weeks and I realize that I am fighting the poison injected into citrus fruit by the Mediterranean fly," Dr. Spitzelberger said when interviewed today. "The boy has extreme fever and violent intestinal, stomach and liver disorders. Food is repulsive. The only nourishment which he can accept is whisky. This has a tendency to quiet him for a brief period. When other forms of nourishment are administered he is seized with violent vomiting spells. His skin slowly is turning yellow. I am doing all that medical knowledge prescribes but I realize that my task probably is futile."

DEBT-PACT PLAN STIRS NEW TILT

French Settlement Authors Defend Their Work

Plead With Paris Senate for Ratification

United States Praised and Likewise Scored

PARIS, July 25. (AP)—The Frenchmen who negotiated their country's debt settlement with the United States and Great Britain, Victor H. Berenger and Joseph Caillaux, defended their work and urged the Senate to ratify it during a long debate this afternoon and evening.

Each time an opponent of ratification attacked them or the point of view of the countries wherewith they had to deal, Foreign Minister Aristide Briand rose to their defense and to the defense of American and British ideas on war debts.

M. Berenger informed the Senate that America had forgiven France 60 per cent of what it had borrowed and M. Caillaux, who failed to reach an agreement in Washington but who negotiated the settlement with Great Britain, said the British had wiped 50 per cent of the French debt off the slate.

RAPS UNITED STATES

M. Caillaux, however, criticised the United States for refusing to accept immigrants and asserted that its high tariff means almost refusing to accept European goods with which the war debts might be paid. "France asks only justice of America. When the war-time borrowings have been amortized, say in ten years, what justification will there be in demanding other dues from us?"

M. Berenger said that the American mentality must be studied by the French and explained that the safety transfer clause which he had unsuccessfully demanded at Washington had only made American business men laugh.

"Let us not be unjust to that great people, let us remember they sent us 2,000,000 soldiers," he said.

Count de Blis interrupted with, "It is not the American soldiers we reproach, it is the American business man."

AMERICAN DOLLARS

Former Finance Minister Etienne Clementel reminded the Senate that when France found herself a few years ago on "the brink of a financial abyss" it was Americans who gave the Bank of France a credit of $100,000,000 with which to protect the franc from attack.

The Chamber of Deputies, which already has authorized ratification of the debt agreements, today after inserting in a separate bill a clause making debt payments "exclusively" payable from German reparations to France reversed itself and voted down the bill 290 to 200.

The Cabinet met tonight with a view to fixing the date for adjournment of Parliament for its summer recess, which probably will take place at the end of the week as soon as the Senate has ratified the debt agreements.

GEN. CALLES IN PRAISE OF HOSPITALITY

Former Mexico President Issues Statement on Eve of Sailing for France

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—Former President Calles of Mexico, today issued a statement expressing deep regret that the state of his health deprives him of "the pleasure of accepting so many of the courtesies that have been tendered me by the good people of the United States."

Gen. Calles arrived last night, eluded newspaper men and went at once to the liner Ile de France, on which he will sail tomorrow for Europe.

"The government of the United States through its officials," the statement continued, "the administration of the cities through which I have passed, and the city of New York, where I am embarking, have left nothing undone for my comfort and pleasure.

"I look upon this as an expression above all of friendship for a neighboring nation whose people I have been privileged to serve, and as a harbinger of continued amity and sympathy between the peoples of the United States and Mexico.

"I particularly regret my inability to see the gentlemen of the press, whose kindness and fairness to myself and my country when I was here in 1924 I shall always cherish. I hope to regain my accustomed health as the result of my voyage and return to greet those in person whom I have been deprived of seeing at this time."

Valuable Stocks Lost in Mystery

NEW YORK, July 25. (Exclusive) Mysterious disappearance of negotiable stocks valued at $123,500 was reported to the police today by Abbott, Hoppin & Co., brokers, who were unable to account for the manner in which the securities vanished.

On the 15th inst. Wilbur Van Aylstine, a runner for the Guaranty Trust Company, was sent to the brokerage office with an envelope containing 2000 shares of the stock. It was duly receipted for by Joseph Albanese, receiving teller for Abbott, Hoppin & Co., but when the envelope was opened it contained only one certificate of 100 shares.

Romance Ends in Double Shooting

OAKLAND, July 25. (Exclusive) Henry Carl Jensen, plasterer, 35 years of age, wrote the final chapter to his June wedding romance today by shooting his wife, Amelia Francetta Gilleita Jensen, on the street, and turning the weapon on himself. He died from his wound, but hope is expressed Mrs. Jensen will recover. Several persons witnessed the shooting. Mrs. Jensen had brought suit for divorce, although the couple married only June 19, last.

More Newspaper Advertising for Furniture Urged

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25. (Exclusive)—Delegates to the Western Retail Furniture Conference were urged to allot more money for newspaper and magazine advertising by P. E. Kroehler, president of the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers, at a luncheon today in the Palace Hotel. He said both makers and retailers had use advertising to sell "greater quality, beauty and durability rather than price."

Kroehler announced the National Retail Furniture Association has raised a $4,000,000 fund to be spent for such advertising during the fall and suggested the dealers take advantage of this campaign to boost their own sales through local newspapers. Tonight delegates from eleven States held their first joint meeting at the Clift Hotel.

Seaman Lauded for Rescue at Cabrillo Beach

WASHINGTON, July 25. (Exclusive)—The Secretary of the Navy has commended Louis E. Biechlin, seaman first class, U.S.N., for the rescue of a boy from drowning off Cabrillo Beach, San Pedro, Cal.

Biechlin was with a boat crew from the Tennessee, who were exercising on the beach, when he was attracted to the assistance of a small boy who had fallen overboard from a raft about sixty yards from shore.

A letter from the Secretary to Biechlin states:

"The Department takes pleasure in commending you for your timely and courageous action on this occasion, which undoubtedly saved the boy's life. Such conduct is in keeping with the best traditions of the naval service."

Angeleno Hurt by Train Guard

SAN LUIS OBISPO, July 25. (AP) Bruce Nesbitt of Pauls Valley, Oklahoma, is near death in the County Hospital here from a fractured skull received when he leaped from a Southern Pacific freight train last night. William Engelhorn of Los Angeles is held in jail as a material witness. The District Attorney's office announced criminal charges will be preferred against a railroad special policeman from whom Nesbitt was fleeing when he hurled himself from the train.

Engelhorn displayed scalp wounds which he said were inflicted by a heavy pistol, wielded as a club by E. A. Philbrook, special policeman. He declared Nesbitt jumped to avoid a similar beating.

Let this tooth paste take you and the kids to a party

Take the youngsters to the movies on what you save by using Listerine Tooth Paste at 25¢ instead of dentifrices in the 50¢ class. The average saving is $3 per year per person, assuming each person uses about a tube per month. Spend it as you please.

Remember this, you young mothers, who are keeping a budget

IT is good news to most young people starting out in married life that a dentifrice of such outstanding merit as Listerine Tooth Paste can be bought for 25¢.

That saving of $3 per year per person (see top of page) is appreciated when there are so many old and new expenses to be met.

When we decided to produce a tooth paste we were determined that only the finest ingredients should compose it. We wanted it to be worthy of the Listerine name. And we determined to sell it at 25¢ because that is the price intelligent people think is a fair one for a dentifrice. Its reception was enthusiastic. Now millions use it, discarding older and costlier favorites.

We urge you to try Listerine Tooth Paste one month. Note how brilliant and white it leaves your teeth. How it tones up your gums. And note particularly that delightful after effect which you associate with Listerine itself. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

IL ILLS TOLD BY PORTES GIL

Situation Laid to World Conditions

Outlook Discussed by President

Expressed That Crisis Will Disappear

MEXICO CITY, July 25. (AP)—President Emilio Portes Gil today said the critical condition of Mexican oil industry is due to world conditions rather than domestic. He added that Americans already are negotiating with government for further development of the petroleum resources.

The President discussed in detail Mexico's outlook for his country with a group of Americans led by Robert C. Herring, who have been here for ten days lecturing on relations between the United States and Latin America. He told how the government program calls for the modification of education and land holding. The appointment by President Plutarco Elias Calles to reorganize the finances of the National Railways is to enable payment of railway obligations and to proceed to enter into an agreement with international bankers which will enable the government to meet its commitments.

The army posts along the United States border are said to be for policing purposes.

Referring to the oil situation, the President said, "I consider that the present oil crisis is universal. In Mexico this crisis is all the more serious as the result of lack of production in other parts of the world. Mexico was an oil exporter and a producer of the first rank during the World War and because of the demand at that time the price of oil reached high levels. After the war, the demand for oil having ceased, a crisis began. We hope that this crisis will gradually disappear and that soon we may find conditions becoming as in some former years, but at least almost the same as during the war."

The President discussed in detail the agrarian question, and said that the distribution of land represents 30 per cent of the total national area, or about 6,345,000 hectares. In some holdings, in some instances, have been reduced and, in others, not.

"I do not believe the enforcement of the agrarian laws will encounter opposition on a large scale," he pointed out that in the State of Sonora the production of rice has increased so as to offset the decrease in sugar production.

Marines Will Return in Fall to San Diego

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—San Diego marines soon will be home. Several hundred of them are to reach Southern California base October 31, next, aboard the transport Chaumont.

Of the 1200 marines now in Nicaragua, 600 of the 1200 are back from Nicaragua, the Marine Corps headquarters announced today, will be picked up by the Chaumont at Corinto, on the Central Pacific Coast, and will reach September 2 at the east coast marine base at Quantico, Va. The 600 for San Diego will be taken to Panama on the ship's return trip.

Reassignment also was made of the garrison of one officer and forty-eight enlisted men maintained at St. Croix, Virgin Islands, in 1917, will be discontinued as no longer necessary.

Del Monte Man Indicted in Charges With School Girls

MONTEREY, July 25. (AP)—Capt. [illegible], instructor at the Del Monte Military Academy, was named today in a warrant sworn out by [illegible], county probation officer, charging him with contributing to the delinquency of two Pacific Grove high school girls, 13 and 14 years of age.

Lovell is the third member of the academy faculty against whom warrants have been issued on similar charges during the last month. Maj. [illegible] Colton was charged with offenses involving the same girls but has been arrested. John Lovell, music instructor, was arrested two weeks ago and is at liberty on bail.

Santa Cruz Man Up for Governor

SANTA CRUZ, July 25. (AP)—Mayor Fred W. Swanton of Santa Cruz today announced the opening of a campaign to place before the voters of California his name as a candidate for Governor.

The Santa Cruz Sentinel announced it will offer Mayor Swanton's name as a candidate. Swanton's reply to the offer is expected early this week. Twice he has been mayor of Santa Cruz.

ITALY TESTS HUGE SIX-MOTORED PLANE

Rival of DO-X May Carry Twenty on Rome-New York Trip

As Flying Giant Appears in the Air

This is the first picture of the Dornier 100-passenger flying boat on its test flight over Lake Constance.

GENEVA, July 25. (Exclusive)—Italian interest in Dr. Claude Dornier's huge twelve-engined flying ship, the DO-X, which was tried out on Lake Constance, it is believed today, is due to Italian plans to launch a similar ship.

According to reports here, the huge Dornier plane anticipated the demonstrations which the Italians are making under the greatest secrecy with a similar type airship at Lake Baciano, nine miles north of Rome. Gen. Italo Balbo, Undersecretary of Aviation, who has announced his intention to fly to New York shortly, went to Lake Constance and was a passenger on the first trial flight.

The only thing known about the Italian ship is that it has six powerful Fiat motors. Reports here say that Gen. Balbo intends to fly this ship from Rome to New York. If he decides on a nonstop flight his plans are to carry twenty persons, but if the flight is made with a stop at the Azores possibly forty passengers will be carried in the flight, as it is intended to demonstrate the possibility of a regular passenger and mail service between Italy and the United States.

BOSCO BOUNCED BY BOOZE

Circus Performer Can Digest Snakes, Nails and Glass, But Moonshine Downs Him

BUFFALO (N. Y.) July 24. (Exclusive)—Prohibition liquor he drank in Buffalo in 1929, not the snakes, broken bottles, pins and needles he ate at the Pan-American Exposition in 1901, is responsible for the presence in a city hospital of "Bosco," one-time world-famed midway and circus attraction, according to hospital physicians.

Digest without ill effect such things as toads, live mice, snakes, rusty nails, ground glass, concrete and steel filings just wasn't strong enough to throw off the deleterious effects of the various concoctions served under the guise of liquor in these days of Volsteadism, the doctors declare. As a result, they say, "Bosco" is suffering from just an ordinary, every-day case of acute alcoholism.

Further, "Bosco" is not going to die, at least of the malady for which he is being treated at City Hospital, according to the doctors. As a matter of fact, there is no apparent reason why he should die for quite a while, if he refrains from consuming prohibition booze, the physicians assert. If he stays sober, he should live quite a few years longer, despite his 75 years, for, in spite of all the glass, nails and pins he swallowed during the many seasons he was a circus and midway headliner, his physical condition is still robust and his mind still active, they say.

QUEEN ENDS SOCIAL YEAR FOR LONDON

Dawes and Wife Guests at Buckingham Lawn Fete With 10,000 Others

LONDON, July 25. (AP)—The social season ended this afternoon after the royal garden party in the gardens of Buckingham Palace where Queen Mary moved regally among nearly 10,000 guests among whom were Ambassador and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes.

Only the presence of His Majesty King George was needed to complete the brilliant picture of English social life, but the monarch was confined to his sickroom.

It was Ambassador Dawes's first royal garden party and he and Mrs. Dawes seemed to enjoy themselves thoroughly.

FRED W. SWEETSER DIES

SAN RAFAEL, July 25. (Exclusive)—Fred W. Sweetser, 55 years of age, four times a member of the Marin county Board of Supervisors, died at his Novato ranch today. His last re-election was by a single vote, which had to be legalized by the Supreme Court after litigation lasting a year and a half.

TWO WIVES WILL LIVE TOGETHER

They'll Support Children as Thrice-Wed Bigamist Serves in Prison

OAKLAND, July 25. (AP)—Clifford Callahan, convicted of bigamy, today was sentenced to serve from one to ten years in San Quentin Prison. Testimony introduced at the trial showed Callahan has three wives.

Two of them, the former Miss Angelina Williams of Berkeley and Miss Ava Montgomery of Los Angeles, plan to live together with Callahan's three children while he is in prison. Angelina will work to support them while Ava will act as housewife.

Callahan was arrested in Los Angeles after he returned from Missouri, where he took a third wife.

BISHOP HIT IN CHURCH FUND ROW

Pastor Accuses Cannon of Diverting Money for Use in Politics

WASHINGTON, July 25. (Exclusive)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., antisaloon chief, was openly accused today of diverting Methodist Episcopal Church, South, funds to unauthorized delegations to be used for political purposes, and in addition to this of dictating public vindication of his actions by a hand-picked committee.

In a statement made public today Robert B. Smith, a widely known southern minister, declared the Bishop has admitted using at least $10,000 of the funds of the Methodist Church, South, Board of Temperance and Social Service, to finance the anti-Smith campaign in Virginia last fall.

The second of "two trespasses on the rights of the church," according to Dr. Smith, was the attempt of the Temperance and Social Service board, of which the bishop is president, to whitewash their leader's Wall-street speculations in a resolution denouncing publication of the facts as a "wet move for the sole purpose of discrediting a great influential leader."

Czecho-Slovakia Removes Curb on American Films

PRAGUE, July 25. (Exclusive)—The Czecho-Slovakian government, which had intended to restrict the importation of American films in the same manner as the French law, providing that for each four American films one must be produced in Czecho-Slovakia with American money, dropped the plan today.

Agents of American film producers recently handed in a vigorous protest against the proposed law which resulted in the withdrawal.

Fund Voted to Begin Tunnels

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—The Board of Estimates today voted a $5,000,000 fund for preparation of plans for two tunnels whose ultimate total cost will be $175,000,000.

One to cost $100,000,000 will bisect Manhattan Island from east to west at Thirty-eighth street and continue under the East River into Brooklyn and Queens. The other will be a tube from the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn under the Narrows to Staten Island, to be built at a cost of $75,000,000.

Huge Gorilla Causes Terror

FREEPORT (Ill.) July 25. (AP)—Residents near Elizabeth, Ill., in Jo Daviess county, were reported under a reign of terror tonight because of a huge gorilla, believed to have escaped from a circus, seen wandering in the woods near the town.

Farm women locked themselves indoors as the rumors of the animal's presence spread, and bands of armed farmers and townsmen were gathering preparatory to conducting a systematic hunt.

Negotiations at Nogales Speed Venture

Los Angeles-to-Nicaragua Flights Planned

NOGALES (Ariz.) July 25. (AP)—Establishment of a regularly scheduled air express and passenger service through Nogales from the Pacific Coast to the southernmost point of Mexico and thence as far south as Managua, Nicaragua, a route extending through five nations, neared an established fact this morning when negotiations were started with local and Mexican officials by representatives of the Latin American Air Transport Company of Mexico.

Two Fairchild six-passenger planes, carrying a party of eight, landed here late yesterday on a rain-swept airport, exactly six hours after they had taken off from Los Angeles. The party is on a survey trip along the west coast of Mexico and plans to continue their flight through Mexico into Nicaragua.

The expedition, in charge of Capt. Daniel E. Ellis, spent the morning in conference with American and Mexican officials. The Latin American Air Transport Company was recently granted a concession for air mail by the Mexican Postoffice Department. The air-mail route will touch all principal cities on the western coast of Mexico.

Connecting with the Mexican company at Tia Juana will be the air lines of the Pickwick Airways, which will make it possible for passengers to fly on one ticket from San Francisco, northern terminal of the line, or Los Angeles, to Mexico City or south to Nicaragua. The Pickwick Airways is reported to own controlling interest in one Latin American company.

BANK SLAYINGS SUSPECTS TAKEN

Large Deposits Give Clew Leading to Arrests

Fingerprints on Murdered Man's Car Also Aid

GARDEN CITY (Kan.) July 25. (AP)—Trails of large deposits in banks in Garden City, Dodge City and Scott City are said today by officers here to point to the Fleagle family of Finney county as suspects in the Lamar, Colo., bank robbery and slayings more than a year ago.

F. E. Fleagle is held in jail here for questioning, while his sons, J. N. and W. H. Fleagle, have been taken to Lamar by Sheriff Alderman of that place.

Officers found that $10,000 had been deposited in a bank at Dodge City under the name of Ezra Thompson. The elder Fleagle was identified by bank officers as "Thompson."

A fingerprint found on the windshield of the motor car of Dr. W. W. Winsinger of Dighton also links the Fleagles with the robbery.

CLAY PRODUCTS INCOME HIGHER

Pacific Reports $205,138 Net in First Half Year

Gain of 7 Per Cent on Similar 1928 Period Shown

Improvement in Cash Status of Company Noted

Net earnings of the Pacific Clay Products Company for the six months ended June 30, last, reached a total of $205,138.10 after all charges including depreciation, depletion and Federal income taxes, equal to $2.07 a share on 99,187½ capital shares outstanding, William Lacy, president, announced yesterday.

This compares with net earnings for the first half of last year of $191,276.23, equal to $1.93 a share on the outstanding common, and represents an increase of $13,861.77 or more than 7 per cent.

DEBT REDUCED

Bonded indebtedness outstanding at the close of the period amounted to $240,000 against $453,500, as of June 30, 1928, having been reduced by $213,500, or nearly 50 per cent in the twelve months. Annual sinking fund requirements are approximately $50,000.

Mr. Lacey pointed out that despite the reduction of the funded debt, expenditures for plant improvements and an advance of the annual dividend rate from $2.25 to $2.40 a share, current assets were higher at the close of the period and current liabilities lower than on June 30, 1928, with cash-on-hand of $452,297.15, against $433,-346.96. Current assets were more than seven times current liabilities.

SURPLUS INCREASES

Earned surplus during the period was increased by more than $200,-000 and on June 30, last, was set at $624,348.24.

The volume of gross business for the six months was larger than that for the first half of 1928, and several operating improvements were made, Mr. Lacey stated. Additional progress has been made in the fire brick and refractories department and higher manufacturing efficiency has been stressed.

"General demand for products during this period has been good and it is felt that similar volume may be reasonably expected for the balance of 1929," he said.

ADOLF GOBEL INCOME OFF

NEW YORK, July 25. (Exclusive) Adolf Gobel, Inc., and subsidiaries reported today a net loss for the June quarter of $25,808. A net income was reported before taxes and minority interests of $11,438. Net earnings for the six months totaled $286,680, or 69 cents a share on 450,969 common shares after all charges.

HANCOCK OIL NET INCOME JUMPS AGAIN

Six Months' Report Shows $7.19 on "A" Stock; Large Reserve Set Up

Hancock Oil Company for the quarter ended June 30, last, yesterday reported earnings of $449,801.35 before reserves for depreciation, depletion and intangible drilling expenses, as against $239,463.01 for the preceding quarter, according to a statement issued by Will J. Reid, president.

For the first half of 1929, after reserves of $40,695.44 for depreciation, $80,607.22 for depletion and $206,075.62 for intangible drilling expenses, net income before Federal tax was $351,548.08, equal to $7.19 a share on the average number of "A" shares outstanding. This compares with net income of $79,654.66 after all charges but Federal tax in the comparative period of 1928, a gain of $272,951.42, or 347 per cent.

Mr. Reid pointed out that the provision of a total of $337,378.28 for reserves during the first half of the year, equivalent to $6.90 for each "A" share outstanding "appeared conservative."

Sales increased from $1,833,000 in the first half of 1928 to $3,981,000 in the first six months of this year, a gain of $2,148,000, or 117 per cent. This sales increase followed extensive additions to the company's refining and marketing facilities, the report stated.

During the period, the company has been active in the acquisition of oil leases and their development, it was said.

Retail Trade in Local Area Held Disappointing

While retailers expected a decrease in sales during the summer season, the volume now being transacted is below expectations, which reflects an unfavorable condition for manufacturers and wholesalers who are unable to anticipate fall needs due to a lack of future commitments, according to the Bradstreet summary on conditions in the Los Angeles territory, issued yesterday.

While oil production in this district continues heavy and storage is practically at capacity, retail and export sales are exceeding any other year and with prices fairly good the industry is making money and has a more encouraging outlook than when the year opened.

Drug wholesalers report sales in excess of a year ago with collections fairly prompt and with prospects for the balance of the year favorable. The hardware business was satisfactory for the first part of the year, but since June 1, sales have been on the decrease. Radio business was satisfactory for June.

Local Chapter of A.I.B. in Second Place

With a total membership of 2167, representing a gain of 1380 members over the year 1927-1928, the Los Angeles Chapter of the American Institute of Banking is now the second largest chapter in the organization, it was announced yesterday.

A total of 2300 students were enrolled in courses of banking study during the past year, a gain of 1350 students over the preceding year.

Due to the increased enrollment, nine additional courses have been added to the regular curriculum, and the California Safe Deposit Association has merged its publication with the official magazine of the chapter, Southern California Banker, in order to disseminate information regarding safe deposit work over a wider field.

NEW YORK, July 25. (Exclusive) An agreement has been signed in Berlin between Kolster-Brandes Ltd., English subsidiary of Kolster Radio Corporation, and Telephonfabrik Berliner Aktiengesellschaft of Berlin for the manufacture and sale of Kolster and Brandes models in Germany, Ellery W. Stone, president of Kolster, has announced.

NEW HOLDERS ENTER IN OIL

Stocks Show Signs of Passing from Weak to Strong Hands; Margin Traders Discouraged

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Some of the well-informed operators in the stock market, people who are given credit for successful diagnosis of fundamental conditions, are understood to have been accumulating the oil shares lately. The rally yesterday in the leading issues was probably a partial reflection of this activity, and represents in part the gradual passing of stock from weak hands to strong.

This shifting of ownership has been going on, in fact, for the last several weeks, or since the California operators failed to agree on voluntary regulation of crude oil output. The margin traders in oils have either become discouraged by falling prices or forced out by demands for additional protection on accounts, and the result has been a liquidating market. At the same time prices have not slumped abruptly, which leaves the plain inference that stocks are going to new buyers.

OUTLOOK BEARISH

There are plenty of omens apparently warranting the liquidation of the oil shares, probably more so than at any time in recent years. Everything has failed in the way of controlling crude oil output in the United States and foreign fields. Production is at record-breaking levels, price cuts are likely, and the season of declining consumption of gasoline is just ahead. New oil fields are always a possibility, for the wild-catter is never inactive.

Nevertheless, there is a maxim in the stock market applicable to this situation, and it is one that may explain the action of those operators who are supposed to have been accumulating oils for the long pull. Experience has taught that stocks should be bought when the news is the worst. Or expressed in another way, the professional operators buy stocks when the public is bearish, and sell them when the public is bullish.

This is not a rule of thumb proposition by any means. Professional operators may buy stocks for a turn when public sentiment is preponderantly bearish, but they do not take an investment position merely for this reason. Sound reasoning must support the belief that prices are fundamentally too low, and this is understood to be the situation in this instance.

ACTION EXPECTED

On one count, the belief is growing among the students of the industry that the gas wastage law that will go into effect in California on August 29 will effectually curtail crude oil production. And again, the decision to shut down the Kettleman Hills field is regarded as an important forward step.

Perhaps of more importance, as indicated by the attitude of the government in the Kettleman Hills negotiations, is the quietly expressed opinion among men high in the industry that the government will inevitably find a means to regulate crude oil production along the sane lines it has advised the oil companies themselves to follow. The conviction is growing that the government means business, and will soon come to the point where its conservation program will be put into effect no matter what attitude the oil companies take.

To a large degree it is this kind of reasoning that undoubtedly accounts for the seeming willingness of strong interests to pick up large lines of oils when the public is selling out and the trade news is bearish.

BRANCH TO REMODEL

Bank of Italy to Make Changes at Commercial National

Announcement was made yesterday by Bank of Italy officials of the letting of a contract for the enlargement and remodeling of the Commercial National branch located in the Rives-Strong Building. The banking rooms which now face on Ninth street will be changed to the Main-street frontage.

The Bank of Italy has a twenty-year lease on the entire ground floor of the Rives-Strong Building. Plans for remodeling contemplate the installation of low-type fixtures and the enlargement of the escrow and trust departments. Upward of $35,000 will be expended in these betterments.

Seaboard Announces Managers of Wilshire-La Brea Branch

Selection of Vice-President J. E. Hay as manager and Assistant Cashier V. V. Browning as assistant manager of the new branch of the Seaboard National Bank to be opened soon in the Wilshire and La Brea district was announced yesterday by President George L. Browning.

"These men are especially trained and experienced bank executives and they will be very helpful in building up the Wilshire-La Brea district," said President Browning. "Their respective experiences range from ten to twenty years in the financial world."

Baldwin Stock Split Voted

PHILADELPHIA, July 25. (AP)—Directors of the Baldwin Locomotive Works today voted to split up the common stock 4 for 1. Shareholders will be asked to change the 200,000 shares of common of $100 par value to 800,000 shares of no-par value at a special meeting of stockholders.

The directors also recommended that additional no-par value stock be issued for treasury and corporate purposes. The preferred stock was not disturbed.

SECURITIES LOAN TOTAL SETS MARK

Gain of $95,000,000 in Week Boosts Figures to Near Six Billions

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ending the 24th inst. were announced by the Federal Reserve Board today as $5,908,000,000, representing an increase of $95,000,000, as compared with the preceding week and establishing a new high record.

The previous record was established last week for the week ending the 17th inst., when the loans amounted to $5,813,000,000. The loans of the week ending July 25, 1928, totaled $4,184,000,000.

The detailed distribution of the loans over the three weeks dealt with in the board's report was:

	July 24, 1929.	July 17, 1929.	July 25, 1928.
For own account	$1,193,000,000	$1,158,000,000	$ 824,000,000
For account of out-of-town banks	1,581,000,000	1,497,000,000	1,531,000,000
For account of others	3,254,000,000	3,158,000,000	1,834,000,000

In computing this report, the odd thousands of dollars not shown in the board's report are added or subtracted from the totals so that addition of the columns will not always agree with the totals given by the board.

Comparative weekly figures of brokers' loans with corresponding periods of last year follow:

LOCAL LOANS HIT NEW LOW

Los Angeles brokers' loans went to a new low for the year during the week ending the 24th inst., reaching $38,745,112, a drop of more than $2,000,000 from last week's totals, according to a compilation yesterday of sixty-six members of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The high for the year to date is $42,774,325, established February 13, while the previous low was $38,797,-312, March 8.

Officers and directors, in addition to Mr. Sutherlin are F. S. Capers, vice-president; L. C. Babcock, treasurer; Abe Frank and A. R. Walker. C. W. Pierce is secretary.

RATE BOOSTED BY BETHLEHEM

Dividend Increase from $1 to $1.50 Announced

Second Quarter Net Profits Set New Record

Gain Over Preceding Period Near $3,000,000

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—Directors of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation today increased the quarterly dividend rate to $1.50 from $1 paid in the two preceding quarters and at the same time reported record peace-time earnings.

Net income for the second quarter of the year totaled $11,768,473, compared with $9,045,560 in the preceding quarter and $4,529,328 in the second quarter of 1928. Profit, after deducting all charges and preferred dividends, was equal to $5.33 a share on the average number of common shares outstanding, in the second quarter; an additional 600,000 shares having been issued as of June 15, last. This compares with $4.05 a share on fewer shares in the first quarter and $1.57 in the second quarter of 1928.

OPERATIONS HIGH

President Eugene G. Grace, in announcing operations during the second quarter averaged 100.6 per cent of rated capacity, said no let-up in steel demand was in prospect for the balance of the year. July operations are at 99 per cent with operations for August assured at the same rate, he said.

Operations in the preceding quarter averaged 91.9 per cent and 82.5 per cent during the second quarter of last year. The value of orders on hand June 29 was $86,829,800, as compared with $62,702,683 at the end of March 31, and $51,761,908 on June 30, 1928. Where there has been a let-up in steel demand from some quarters the increased business from other quarters has taken up this slack, Mr. Grace said.

GRACE OPTIMISTIC

Mr. Grace, who can visualize no let-up in business generally, looks for increased steel demand to come from railroads, municipalities and builders. Railroad buying, up to the present, he said, has just been normal, Bethlehem, he said, never had in prospect as good a demand for structural steel as now, and he predicted a good demand for pipe from oil companies.

Foreign business is good, he said, with Bethlehem enjoying the best export business in its history. The same, he said, holds true for its chief competitor.

The common dividend is payable November 15 to stockholders of record September 6.

Boost in Espee Rate Expected

NEW YORK, July 25. (Exclusive) Southern Pacific stockholders find added encouragement in each successive monthly statement of earnings for an increase in the dividend from 6 per cent to at least 7 per cent. The preliminary returns for the first half of the current year are now available and disclose an increase in railway operating revenues of $10,340,000 and in net railway operating income of $4,688,000.

A new high record for the latter item in June was made this year when the figures were $5,482,000. The closest approach to this level in previous years was in June, 1926, the peak fiscal period of the railroads of the United States, when net railway operating income amounted to $5,153,000. In June, 1928, 1927, 1925 and 1924, the total in each instance was under $5,000,-000. In the last named year it was only slightly more than $4,000,000.

New Financing Due on Mart

Public offering will be made today of a new issue of $276,000 City of Richmond Harbor improvement 5 per cent bonds by a syndicate composed of William Cavalier & Co., Crocker First Company and Bond, & Goodwin & Tucker Inc., according to an announcement yesterday. The City of Richmond on San Francisco Bay is one of the most progressive industrial cities in California. The bonds are priced to yield 4.60 per cent according to maturity.

In order to provide funds for the payment of funded indebtedness, Sloss Sheffield Steel and Iron Company will sell $6,500,000 of 6 per cent one-year notes, it was reported yesterday. It is understood that these notes will be offered by a syndicate headed by Goldman, Sachs & Co.

HARRIS ON STAFF

Returns from Utah Capital to Join Streeter House

Ray D. Harris, for the last ten years identified with local financial circles, recently returned to Los Angeles and has become associated in an executive capacity with C. C. Streeter & Co., members of the Los Angeles Stock and Curb exchanges, with offices in the Los Angeles Stock Exchange Building.

During his absence from Los Angeles Mr. Harris was engaged in the stock and bond brokerage business in Salt Lake City, Utah, in partnership with the late Fred C. Dern, who died a few months ago and who was the only brother of Gov. George H. Dern of Utah.

DIRECTOR ELECTED

J. Harold Dollar, vice-president of the Dollar Steamship Line, has been elected to the directorate of Townsend & Co., Pacific Coast investment bankers, it was announced yesterday by F. S. Townsend, president of the company.

Shift of Positions Shown

EVER since the middle of 1927 the volume of corporate bond offerings has been receding, whereas that of stock offerings has been mounting. Normally in this country in times past bonds have been more commonly used in new financing than stocks. From the above chart it will be seen, however, that late in 1928 the two lines crossed. Since that time the volume of stock offerings has held steadily and substantially above that for bonds.

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP) A stock market featured by a definite downward trend in prices, with sentiment was very bearish, excellent earnings statements and a troublesome credit situation was on a large scale, with low rates for call money changing hands.

Call money opened at 6 per cent, after renewing at 6 per cent at the close of the market yesterday. Federal Reserve member bank statement showed a reduction of $60,000,000, carrying the total to a new high record of all time, surprisingly large increases in borrowings and in interbank balances in the past week.

Calling of loans was general today, but yesterday's reduction of $40,000,000 left a credit balance that failed to find use. Several Federal Reserve statements showed that the New York banks had reduced their reserves by $60,000,000 below the legal requirements only $20,000,000 last week ended Wednesday. Banks were said to be in position to aid the market with money before further reductions in borrowings. Another factor for tight money was the heavy taking up of liquidating issues of new Commodity Exchange stock Monday, the list of which probably was not completed today.

The Bank of England raised its discount rate to 5 per cent today.

Wheat Futures Mount as Crop Damage Grows

CHICAGO, July 25. (AP)—Alarming reports of ruin of crops in Canada, Minnesota, the Dakotas and Montana led to 5c a bushel higher prices here today for wheat. Dealings in the wheat market took on immense proportions, word of increasing havoc by drought and extreme high temperatures being given added force by news that black rust has reached the danger stage in the Red River Valley, one of the choicest wheat regions of the Northwest. Probable severe shortages of wheat crops in Europe were also reported, with the outlook likewise unpromising in Australia and Argentina as well.

Closing quotations on wheat were feverish at nearly the day's top level, 4¼@4¾c above yesterday's latest prices. Corn closed 1¼@2¾c up, oats ⅞@1¼c advance and provisions varying from 12c decline to a rise of 10c.

Startling crop damage advices from Canada current here today were generally taken to indicate that the prevailing drought is the worst on record in the history of the Canadian grain trade. The essence of the reports from Canada and from the States affected this side of the international boundary was contained in unofficial estimates today that the Canadian prairie provinces this season will harvest only 150,000,000 bushels of wheat, and that the output in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Montana will be curtailed to about an equally grievous remnant. The magnitude of the losses is indicated by the fact that last season the Canadian prairie provinces had a harvest of 568,026,000 bushels, and the Dakotas, Minnesota and Montana a total of 283,000,000 bushels, making the North American deficit this year well up toward half a billion bushels.

On top of the sensationally adverse crop advices today from Canada and the American Northwest were reports that European wheat crops are grani also to a surprising degree—France 11 per cent short of last year, Rumania 18 per cent short, Hungary 26 per cent and Bulgaria 26 per cent. The meaning of these figures was stressed by the fact that Europe as a rule raises as much wheat as the United States and Canada together.

Black rust was reported today as now showing plainly on the upper stems of wheat in all fields both on the Minnesota and Dakota sides of the Red River Valley. Under such circumstances big primary receipts of domestic wheat today, much larger than either last year or a year ago, were virtually ignored as a market factor, and heavy selling to realize profits was also given little heed.

Corn and oats were influenced not only by wheat strength, but also by reports of drought in New England, word that corn is firing in parts of Oklahoma and Kansas, and by advices that oats and hay crops in Europe are a failure.

Provisions averaged higher, owing to upturns in hog values and in grain.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—The main trend in the listed bond market today was downward on a further tightening of money. Although sales totaled $18,311,000, the second largest daily turnover this month, trading was restricted chiefly to a handful of convertibles. American Telephone and Telegraph convertible 4½s, which reached a new peak for the second consecutive day, accounted for about a third of the total volume of business.

Call money renewed at 8 and moved up to 9 and then to 10, where it closed. Time money was firm at 6 per cent for all maturities. The commercial paper market was quiet, with prime names quoted at 5½ per cent and other good names at 6¼.

New financing today was chiefly in stocks, with municipal offerings dominating the bond issues.

The communication bonds were the only group to display strength throughout the session. Some of the specialties were higher, but soon sold off in sympathy with the generally heavy tone of rail stocks. The convertible specialties and industrials all encountered selling and closed generally behind minus signs.

American Telephone convertible 4½s were the feature, bounding from 175 to close at 183½, the day's best figure and a record high for the issue, up 6 points. The stock also sold at a new top. International Telephone convertible 4½s were strong, but finished only 1 point fractional gain at 168¾. Their high price for the year is 170.

On the rails, Baltimore & Ohio convertible 4½s lost 2 points, and Allegheny Corporation 5s of 1949 were unchanged at 110 and the 5s of 1948 were off 1 at 109¾. New Haven convertible 6s fell back 2. Transactions were heavy in New York Railways 4½s, and Third-avenue adjustment 5s, sold at new lows, the latter down 3¼.

Lautaro Nitrate 6s sold again at par and then dropped off to 98. Public Service of New Jersey 4½s, in a thin market, dropped 11.

Industrials continued dull. Selling of United States government obligations was resumed, the Liberty first 4½s the only listed issue to close with a sale.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To condense the transaction, zeros are omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—Early declines in cotton today under renewed liquidation were followed by recoveries on buying prompted by disappointing weather reports from Texas and talk of a better trade demand for new crop shipments. A firmer technical position contributed to the advance which carried the market about 11 to 13 points net higher and at prices within 5 or 6 points of the best during the middle of the afternoon.

WOOL CLIP OF YEAR APPROACHES RECORD

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—The United States wool crop for 1929 was the largest in thirty-five years. The total production was estimated by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics at 301,866,000 pounds, an increase of 2,753,000 pounds over the 1928 record.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Pacific Lighting Extends Advance Into New High Ground to Feature Local Trading

Standard Oil of California, Pacific Lighting and Pacific Finance Corporation held the speculative interest of traders and featured operations yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The oil stock on a spirited turnover shot up 1½ points to a high and close at 72¾. Pacific Lighting scored another new peak with a jump 2½ points to 110½ and Pacific Finance, although closing firm at 119, far exceeded the activity of any other stock with a transfer of 2450 shares.

Oil shares generally were fractionally improved with the recent spurt in activity well sustained. Richfield and Union of California firmed up slightly while Rio Grande eased 1-8 to 29 1-4 and MacMillan dropped 3-4 to 35 1-4.

Southern California Edison was traded in less volume than usual and lacking any strong support slipped back 1-4 to 70½. Emsco Derrick struck another new low at 28½, depressed 1 1-4 points. Douglas Aircraft and Byron Jackson turned fractionally softer on light sales while Jantzen Knitting Mills scored a new high at 50, up 2 points.

Seaboard National Bank on the transfer of an odd-lot bounded up 1½ points to 45 while stock of the old Merchants' National Bank sold off 4 points to 270. Security-First National eased 1-8 to 125 7-8. Pacific American Fire Insurance moved up 1-4 to 63 1-4 and International Reinsurance ½ to 55½.

Sales totaled 21,876 shares valued at $1,048,959; previous day, 25,957 shares valued at $1,197,613.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Mexican Seaboard Oil, with a sales volume exceeding any other issue on the board, featured trading yesterday on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange. This issue, which during the past week had been depressed about 8 points, rallied sharply with an advance of more than 3 points to a high for the day at 40 7-8. The last sale crossed the board at 40 1-4, up 2¼ net.

The balance of the market continued to reflect the seasonal lack of interest and active participation and on light sales closed irregularly. Western Air Express on a transfer of a board lot reacted 3 points to 68. Aviation Corporation dropped back 1 1-4 points to 17 and Fokker yielded 1-4 to 45 3-4 while Lockheed rallied 3-4 to 11 3-4. First Security units dropped 20 cents to 3.35.

Sales totaled 61,119 shares valued at $239,022; previous day 111,080 shares valued at $206,488.

PACIFIC COAST AGGREGATES, INCORPORATED
("Aggregates" is the name for crushed rock, sand and gravel in concrete construction)

San Francisco Bay District

The cities of today are being built of concrete. Crushed rock, sand and gravel have replaced the materials and the methods of years gone by.

In San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and the other Bay Cities, every important construction project demands vast and increasing quantities of Aggregates (crushed rock, sand and gravel) in new buildings, bridges, dams, railroads, aqueducts and harbor work.

Pacific Coast Aggregates, Inc., handles a substantial majority of the crushed rock, sand and gravel business in the San Francisco Bay District and throughout Central California. Through its predecessor companies it has an enviable record of operations.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 26. (AP)—Trading in today's curb market boosted down somewhat after yesterday's record-breaking session, with the price movement still highly irregular. An advance in call money rates from 8 to 12 per cent tended to curb bullish enthusiasm in many issues, while leaks of a large loan increase also led to considerable profit-taking. The Federal Reserve loan statement, issued after the close of the market, showed a gain of $65,000,000 in loans, bringing the total to another new high record, just below $8,000,000,000.

Trading was begun in the common stock of the new Shenandoah Corporation on a "when issued" basis, the price running up from 50¾ to 53¼, or more than double the offering price. Nearly 100,000 shares changed hands. Grigsby Grunow (new stock) which was admitted yesterday, sold as high as 34, while the old stock jumped more than 6 points to 229.

Public utility issues continued to furnish the bulk of the day's business. Niagara and Hudson "when issued" was again the most active feature, crossing 30 to within a small fraction of the year's high. American Light and Traction, Cities Service, Electric warrants, Middle West Utilities preferred and Utilities Power and Light "B" soared 2 to 10 points to new high records. Electric Bond and Share also was active and strong.

Central States Electric (old stock) dropped 10 points, but the new stock received good support and closed fractionally higher. Heavy trading also occurred in American Gas and Electric, International Superpower, and United Gas Improvement.

Marconi International Marine was heavily bought all day, touching a new high record at 35¾ and then easing to 32 for a small fractional loss. Radio Corporation advanced 1¼ points. Elster Electric responded to the publication of an excellent earnings report by advancing nearly 2 points, but lost part of its gain.

Aluminum Company of America ran up 11½ points to 211 by noon, but eased off from the high established earlier in the week. New peak prices also were registered by Aluminum Industries, Rice Ramsay, A. O. Smith, Western Auto Supply and a few minor specialties. Trading was started in class "A" shares of Park, Inc., sponsor to the Hannibal Pharmacal Company, at prices several points above the recent offering prices.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

TREND AIMLESS ON STOCK MART

ing for the present apprehension over withdrawal of British funds from New York, but bankers saw little prospect of better credit conditions unless the Federal Reserve resumes open market purchases of acceptances and government securities. The reserve statements, however, showed no definite move thus far in that direction. There was a slight increase in the system's acceptance holdings, which was more than offset by a drop in government securities. Rediscounting was reduced about $20,000,000, practically all of which appeared to have been at New York, the keen demand for commercial credit elsewhere keeping up the level.

The outstanding development in the day's business news did not appear until after the close of the market, when Bethlehem Steel placed its stock on a $6 annual dividend basis, against $4 previously, and announced record peace-time earnings for the second quarter equal to $5.23 per share, as compared to $1.87 on a lesser number of shares in the same quarter of last year. President Grace was highly optimistic over business prospects for the rest of the year. Several other large corporations reported excellent second-quarter earnings.

PHONE ISSUE LEADS

American Telephone continued a market leader, advancing 10 points to a new peak at 267. Allis-Chalmers more than recouped its recent losses, mounting more than 8 points to a new top at 204½. A few of the utilities resumed their advance, North American climbing about 8 points to a record price.

A few specialties reached new high ground, notably Hershey Chocolate, Remington Rand and Chicago Pneumatic Tool. Shorts in Radio were again put to flight as the stock was sent up more than 9 points above 90. Motors shares advanced moderately, and oils turned firm. Bethlehem Steel sold up nearly 8 points, close to its high, in anticipation of the dividend action, but lost most of its gain in profit taking.

RAILS WEAKER

Heavy realizing came into the rails, such issues as Atchison, Union Pacific, Nickel Plate, Missouri Pacific and Rock Island losing 2 to 4 points. Chemicals were under pressure for a time, but regained much of their losses in a late rally. Commercial Solvents, however, closed 4 points off. Ingersoll Rand and National Lead lost 5 points and International Business Machines, 9.

Foreign exchange eased somewhat, with sterling cables sagging 1-8 of a cent to $4.85 3-16, in response to the Bank of England's weekly statement, showing huge gold losses.

Commodities were generally strong, wheat closing nearly 5 cents a bushel higher in response to further reductions of Canadian estimates, and corn 2 cents and more higher. Cotton closed slightly higher on bullish weather.

Anglo National Tells Earnings

Net earnings of the Anglo National Corporation for the six months closed the 2nd inst., amounted to $431,567.89, derived largely from dividends of affiliated organizations, it was announced yesterday. Adding the pro-rata share of actual earnings of affiliated companies, it was estimated that this figure would be increased to approximately $700,000, or $5.60 a share on Class A stock.

The company received dividends of $5 a share on Anglo and London-Paris National Bank stock, though, earnings of that bank equaled $9.91 a share. Another institution paid $6 a share to Anglo National while earnings were in excess of $19 a share.

Steel Offer on Columbia Told

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25. (Exclusive)—United States Steel Corporation has proposed an offer for the Columbia Steel Corporation on the basis of an exchange of stock to the representatives of the latter company now in New York City, it was learned here today from reliable sources.

Since the deal has not yet been accepted no official announcement has been made. However, it is believed that the terms will be agreed upon shortly. The deal is expected to place a value of between 17½ and 18¼ on Columbia Steel at the present market price of United States Steel.

Transactions of State Bank Trio Approved

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25. (AP)—Three State bank transactions were approved today by Will C. Wood, State superintendent of banks.

The first was sale of assets of the Hawthorne State Bank in Los Angeles county to the First Exchange State Bank of Lawndale. The Hawthorne branch had capital of $56,000 and deposits of over $500,000 at the end of the first quarter of this year.

The second transaction was purchase of the Jamestown Bank at Jamestown by the Mother Lode National Bank of Sonora, Tuolumne county. The Jamestown Bank had capital and undivided profits of $37,000 and total assets of over $150,000 on March 27 of this year.

In the third transaction, the California Bank at Los Angeles was authorized to open a branch on Wilshire Boulevard in Beverly Hills. It is understood, Wood said, that the California National Bank of Beverly Hills, which is owned by the California Bank, will be converted to the State system and operate as a branch.

Accused Killer of Mrs. Virginia Patty Said to Have Been Seen in Hollywood This Week

WOMAN REPORTS TALLMAN CLEW

Tulare Officials Also Aid Hunt for Fugitive

A woman's statement that she had seen William Tallman, suspected slayer of Virginia Patty, riding on a Hollywood street car on Wednesday, followed by a dispatch from the north in which a peace officer is quoted as declaring the alleged fugitive cashed a worthless check in Tulare on June 8, last, yesterday revived police investigation of the case which, two weeks ago officially was stated to be closed.

The woman, who requested her name be withheld, reported to Capt. Station of Georgia-street division, that the man she believes is Tallman has brown hair and a scar on his cheek. At the time he last was seen, however, the radio operator had black hair, according to the police, and a nose that was unblemished except for a small mole.

IDENTIFIES PHOTO

In spite of these discrepancies, the woman informant insisted a photograph of Tallman, which was shown her at Central station, is that of the man she had seen as a street-car passenger.

In the report from the north, Constable C. C. Castle and M. C. Rose, a hairdresser's clerk, both of Tulare, are declared to have identified Elgenesis of Tallman as those of a stranger who purchased a necktie there on June 8, and tendered a bogus check in payment. The handwriting, too, according to the dispatches, was recognized as Tallman's by the constable and Rose. Photostatic copies of the spurious check are being forwarded to Capt. Station for further examination and comparison.

COMPARES SIGNATURES

Constable Castle, the report said, "stumbled on" the similarity of signatures, while examining a batch of police circulars in his efforts to learn the identity of the forger.

The day on which Tallman is asserted to have proffered the check was three days after he is believed to have leaped from the S. S. Admiral Benson, as it entered the Golden Gate at San Francisco, and gained the shore in the darkness, and four days after the mutilated dead body of the beautiful Mrs. Patty was found hanging from clothes hooks in the closet of an apartment that had been rented by the radio operator.

ACTRESS DENIES WEDDING PLANS

derful to me. He is older and more mature and he is a good business man. Our marriage all depends on whether we really find we love each other and when I can, if ever, get at least six months away from the studio.

"Not until I can have a long vacation will I think of marriage. We are not having a spat or anything as some have said. We still get along fine and sometime in the future there may be a marriage date set.

"I cannot understand Harry making such ridiculous statements that he won my heart by cave-man tactics. He certainly hasn't displayed any in my presence. If being sweet is being a cave man than that's what he is."

Richman declares the words "cave man" were never used in an interview he gave out.

"I was thoroughly misunderstood and misquoted," he said. "One thing is certain and that is we are still engaged. I am in love with Miss Bow and I think she loves me, and I think we will be married soon. When I was interviewed I merely said that other men did not understand Miss Bow as I do.

"They petted her too much. I understand her as a woman. They merely understood her as an artist. When she got sick why I called in specialists to see what was the matter with her. That's all I said and if I am called a cave man for it the 1929 definition certainly has changed."

Richman has said that "Clara needs a man about the house—some one to tell her what to do."

She replies:

"I've always had my own way and I always will."

Anyway there are their stories and Clara apparently is going to stick to her story because she says she doesn't want to be interviewed on the subject any more. Richman indicated he is getting "fed up too."

Richman is owner of a New York night club and met Miss Bow some months ago in the East. This friendship budded to romance when he came to Hollywood recently to make a talking picture.

FLYER SUED AS RULE BREAKER

Charged With Navigating Plane Lacking Proper Identification

Asserting that he navigated an airplane without identification numbers properly assigned by the United States Department of Commerce, the United States Attorney's office yesterday named "Ace" Foreman in a civil suit for the collection of $500 in the United States District Court.

The asserted infraction of Federal regulations occurred on July 15, 1928, at the Dyer Airport and subjects Foreman to a civil penalty of $500, according to the complaint.

Los Angeles' Coolest Spot

Len Thompson (left) and Tony Morett at work, togged in heavy overcoats and with ice all about.

THE coolest spot in Los Angeles has been found. An enterprising Times reporter yesterday discovered a spot 15 deg. below zero in the heart of the business district. Outside the California sunshine was available in large quantities, but in the Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage Company plant at Fourth and Central avenue there was no trace of the warming rays.

The colder it is here the better they like it. Not only that, but through this company's eight-inch pipe lines, zero is pumped into practically every cafe and vegetable market in the city.

According to E. D. Lamoreaux, superintendent of refrigeration, the temperature in the room pictured herewith is 15 deg. below zero. Len Thompson and Tony Morett are handling a consignment of canned eggs. They have to approach the extreme cold gradually, going into different rooms with constantly lowering temperatures until the zero room is reached. Outside it may be warm, but in this room one wouldn't know anything about it.

Yesterday in Los Angeles the mercury reached the 81 deg. normal at 12:30 p.m., according to the United States Weather Bureau. The relative humidity, however, rose to the comparatively high mark of 54 per cent. Today is expected to continue warm.

Free Parking to Be Provided Store Patrons

Free parking for customers of many downtown stores and a partial solution of the parking problem in the downtown district were forecast yesterday when the Merchants Parking Company announced that beginning next Thursday Merchants Parking Script will be accepted in payment of auto parking charges by twenty-five downtown auto parks and garages.

The parking company, which was recently organized, will supply downtown merchants with the parking script, to be distributed by them on a percentage of sale basis to their customers.

The script will be available to all stores, restaurants, theaters and similar retail establishments, according to J. J. Roche, president of the parking company.

An additional activity of the company includes the operation of three height-limit garages, to be erected in the downtown district before the first of the year.

Porter Reviews Cadets Training at Harbor Camp

Mayor Porter shelved city reorganization activities long enough to journey to the harbor yesterday, where he reviewed the 154 trainees and twelve cadet officers of the citizens' military training camp on the upper reservation at Fort MacArthur.

He arrived at 5 p.m. and proceeded to the parade ground where he stood with Col. R. F. Wood, commandant of the camp, as the cadets passed before him in formation, returning immediately to Los Angeles. The camp will close Tuesday after a month of training.

THREE DIRIGIBLE SITES SURVEYED

Commander Ralph Wood, air officer of the Saratoga, was accomplished repeatedly tonight and is heralded as enhancing the effectiveness of the flying arm immeasurably in time of stress.

The event was Capt. F. J. Horne, the Saratoga commander's surprise to Rear-Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the bureau of aeronautics. Admiral Moffett was picked up at the naval reserve airport at Long Beach late yesterday afternoon by Lieutenant - Commander Wood and landed on the deck of the carrier at sea, remaining overnight.

HAS TOOTHACHE

The admiral developed a toothache during his day's activities, and last night, between kicks at the ceiling, when the navy dentist's drill hit a sensitive spot, the bureau chief epitomized navy flying efficiency.

"The Saratoga and the Lexington," he declared, "are the two most valuable ships for battle that we have, and it is all insidious talk that they are 'white elephants.' That is absolutely unjust and is done by people who have an ulterior motive or are ignorant of the subject. They are getting better and better every year I visit them, as tonight's progressive exercises attest.

SHORT OF CARRIERS

"We still are short of carriers, having only these two and the experimental carrier Langley. Other countries of the Washington treaty have their full complement, but we are far behind in carriers, as far as a balanced fleet is concerned. However, we have used up only 66,000 tons of our quota under that treaty, and have 69,000 tons left for carriers over 10,000 tons, and the Navy has asked for five of about 13,800 tons each.

"When we get them, we will be able to put more than 500 planes in the air at a time, and you people had better provide fields for them, and for the other aviation so rapidly developing ashore. I repeat you'd better get busy on more fields."

DESPONDENT MAN KILLS HIMSELF WITH RIFLE

A rifle shot through the head yesterday ended the life of George S. Schmee, 38 years of age, of 501 West Twenty-first street. He had been ill, unemployed and despondent for a long time, and yesterday he killed himself with a .22 rifle in his room, police report. Mrs. Carmen Alcayde, the landlady, found the body, which was sent to the morgue.

PLUNGE RATES LOWERED

Beginning tomorrow and continuing every Saturday until September, reduced rates will prevail at the swimming plunge of the Young Women's Christian Association, it was announced yesterday by Miss Ella Stevers, in charge of aquatic activities. The plunge will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

dramatic story of the invasion of the fruit fly induces this speculation:

Nature preserves a level balance of life. If you will trace this pest back to his original lair I think you will find that he is threatening the very existence of human life because some one in Europe has disturbed the balance of nature—probably by shooting the birds. If we could let the cats and the birds and the bugs and the mountain lion and the deer and the snakes and the gophers adjust theings, we would be sliding along on an even keel.

MRS. FAWCETT AWARDED BALM

Verdict for $10,000 Voted in Alienation Case

"Peggy-Chubby" Epistles Considered by Jury

Wife of Hollywood Clubman Had Asked $100,000

Mrs. June Fawcett may collect $10,000 from Mrs. Marriet Hulme Binney, asserted author of the "Peggy to Chubby" letters offered as evidence in Mrs. Fawcett's $100,000 alienation suit against Mrs. Binney, according to the verdict of a jury of ten men and two women returned in Superior Judge Edmonds's court yesterday.

Mrs. Fawcett asserted that her husband, Clyde Fawcett, president of the Hollywood Exchange Club, had been enticed away by Mrs. Binney, whose letters were read to the jury. Mrs. Binney denied any intimate relations with Fawcett but admitted she had danced with him and allowed him to buy her food at fashionable restaurants.

The plaintiff was in the courtroom with her attorneys, Michael Narlian and Joseph Beardsley, when the verdict was returned. She wept and thanked the jury. Nine jurors can bring in a verdict in a civil case in California but according to Court Clerk Roy McClay, the verdict in this case was unanimous.

The "Peggy-Chubby" letters, introduction of which was fought by Attorney Harold Pendler, for the defense, apparently were responsible for the verdict in the case, as the jury returned a verdict one hour after it had called for the twenty-four epistolary exhibits.

The Fawcett-Binney case has lasted nearly two weeks, and has been fought bitterly on both sides.

The Y.M.C.A. of Shanghai, China, which caters to persons of European or American birth, has a membership of 469 men and 93 women, representing twenty-three countries.

WIFE SAYS HER HUSBAND COYLY KEPT AGE SECRET

It took Mrs. Valerie Burr more than two years to find out her husband, Eugene H. Burr, was 51 years of age instead of the 36 he admitted when they were married, she asserts in her divorce petition filed yesterday.

Mrs. Burr, who is 29, she said, was greatly humiliated to find her husband was so much older, according to her petition, filed by Attorneys S. S. Hahn and James E. Bates.

Mrs. Burr also charges that on one occasion her husband not only refused to believe she was ill, but he took the medicine the doctor had left for her and then drank some gin. The combination overcame him, and he left home and was gone all night, she says. Mrs. Burr asks for $250 a month alimony.

Attendance at Vacation Period Schools 21,589

Vacation schools, both day and evening, at the close of their second week showed a total enrollment of 21,589, according to a report submitted to the Board of Education yesterday afternoon. This is a heavier attendance than ever has been recorded in the history of the Los Angeles city district.

Junior and senior high schools had an attendance of 12,534 on the first day. At the close of the second week this had increased to 14,114. Evening high schools have been especially popular, the report states, the enrollment in all classes being unusually heavy.

Suspected Knife User Describes Clash on Stand

Matthew Guidera, accused of attacking Mrs. Mary Sherrill with a knife and cane, took the stand in his own behalf in Superior Judge Schmidt's court yesterday.

Guidera said he was sitting on the beach with his accuser, when she remonstrated with him for giving her only $350.

"That's only chicken feed," he asserts she said. "I want $10,000."

Then, according to the defendant's story, Mrs. Sherrill produced a razor blade and threatened to cut herself.

The trial will be continued today. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello is prosecuting Guidera, who is defended by Attorney Thomas W. Cochran.

WIDENING PETITION FILED

The City Engineer yesterday transmitted to the Council a communication from the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce asking for the widening and extending of portions of L street between Valon Boulevard and Sanford avenue, with the suggestion that this be referred to the right of way division to ascertain of the property owners will dedicate the necessary land.

$1.50 or less a month for Electricity to Operate an Electric Refrigerator!

An Electric Radio in the Living Room--

...an Electric Refrigerator in the Kitchen!

IT is as easy for you to buy an electric refrigerator from your dealer as a cabinet radio or any other piece of fine furniture. For a small down payment, and easy terms over a long period, the convenience, economy, smartness, and cleanliness of electric refrigeration comes well within the modest budget.

An electric refrigerator is not an expenditure! It is an investment in more efficient home management, safe food preservation, and economical food buying.

In Los Angeles ... these savings reach their peak. Note that in all the national advertisements of electric refrigerator manufacturers, operating costs are seldom mentioned. That is because electric rates throughout the country are not as low as rates established by the Department of Water and Power. For $1.50 or less ... the cost of less than three pounds of butter .... your Municipal Electric System will operate your electric refrigerator 24 hours a day for an entire month!

20,000 Los Angeles homes are enjoying electric refrigeration. Many of your neighbors have them already. Be modern in your home... electric refrigeration costs less than you imagine.

Show this advertisement to your husband. Tell him about the wonderful frozen desserts, salads and beverages you could serve him if you only had an electric refrigerator. Tell him that an electric refrigerator plugs into any floor outlet, like a floor lamp. Then bring him to the Appliance Display, 209 South Broadway, where he can see all standard makes, compare types and prices, and learn which model best suits your home.

Hollywood Fire Station Location Draws Protest

Forty property owners living in the district assessed to pay for the street opening and widening project in Hollywood known as the Five-Finger Plan filed a protest with the Fire Commission yesterday against the proposal to build a fire station at the intersection of Los Angeles avenue and the extension of Cahuenga avenue which will be opened under the Five-Finger Plan.

The protest pointed out that the neighborhood in which the fire station would be located is a residential area and that, therefore, the station would depreciate property values. The argument was advanced also that the station in the corner would defeat the purpose of the Five-Finger Plan as it would create a traffic hazard at the point.

The suggestion was made in the protest that the station be built on property owned by the fire department at La Mirada avenue and Vine street. No action was taken on the protest.

Beitzel Wins Trial Inquiry as Gallows' Shadow Nears

FITTS RESPONDS TO LAST APPEAL

Investigation Will Cover All Phases of Death Case

Guilt Found Declared Not That of Miss Mauger

Confessed Slayer Slated for Date at San Quentin

A last-minute plea from Russell Beitzel, sentenced to hang today for the murder of Barbara Mauger, asking reconsideration of his case, was considered yesterday by Gov. Fitts and a complete investigation of the entire matter ordered.

Gov. Fitts directed his investigating agents to go into the alleged statements of Beitzel that the woman found in a Hollywood canyon was not Miss Mauger, whom he is said to be bringing to California alive.

SENT TO SAN QUENTIN

Acting on the order of Fitts, which is extensive and covers every detail of the crime and the subsequent investigation and trial, Sheriff Traeger King left last night for San Quentin. Today the representative of the District Attorney's office will take a stenographic statement from Beitzel, which is to cover in detail every assertion the condemned man has made in the plea to escape the death penalty.

The entire findings of the District Attorney will be placed before Gov. Fitts, if there is sufficient reason to believe that Beitzel is revealing information that has been withheld, Fitts said.

The chief assertion of Beitzel is that the body identified as Miss Mauger is that of another woman. In substantiating his assertion he declares that the woman's wedding ring was not engraved; that Miss Mauger had no temporarily filled teeth, as did the corpse, and that, because Miss Mauger faced criminal charges she failed to come forward to his defense.

The letter of Beitzel to Fitts, according to dispatches, follows in part:

"I have the following statements I would like to make and wish that you would investigate them, also send deputies to San Quentin to interrogate me:

"(A) The body found was not that of Barbara Mauger; (b) She was wearing a wedding ring engraved with initials R. S. C. to R. E. M.; (c) Also, Barbara Mauger had no temporarily filled teeth; (d) The body found in the canyon had several temporarily filled teeth; (e) The wedding ring found on it had no initials engraved in it.

HIS LAST PLEA

"(F) Barbara Mauger, because of criminal charges against her of embezzlement and forgery, has not come forward, and (g) unethical methods were used by the police department and the District Attorney's office to secure my conviction. The deputy District Attorney at the time was Thoms.

"Summary—The body could not have been Barbara Mauger. Because of the unethical method used and because of my own silence I was sentenced for execution. Because of the near date of my execution, I urge that you act immediately so that my life will not be taken for a crime I did not commit."

Beitzel told prison officials he has finished with the courts and his final plea remained with Fitts.

ALTITUDE FLIGHT TODAY

With at least 20,000 feet as their goal, Waldo Waterman, chief test pilot of the Bach Aircraft Company, and Bill Brock, 'round-the-world flyer, will take off at 2 p.m. today from Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport in a Bach trimotored passenger transport plane in an attempt to capture the American and world's altitude records for ships of the Bach type.

Oxygen equipment for the flyers was tested yesterday and enough sandbags to bring the pay load to 2300 pounds were loaded in the cabin.

The Bach will be nosed upward to ascertain whether it can surpass the present American trimotored plane load record of 16,700 feet and the world's record of 17,000 feet.

Two Wright Whirlwind 150-horsepower motors and a Pratt-Whitney Hornet of 525 horsepower furnish the power. The plane is a stock job and will be flown to Detroit tomorrow for delivery to Bach sales headquarters there.

Finance Group to Attend Rites of Wagy Today

Scores of men prominent in financial circles of Los Angeles will do honor this afternoon to the late A. C. Wagy, 61 years of age, one of the founders of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, whose funeral will be conducted at 3 o'clock from the W. A. Brown funeral parlors, 1815 South Flower street.

Mr. Wagy died in the Redondo Hospital Wednesday morning following a heart attack at his home in Hermosa Beach. He was the former head of the A. C. Wagy Company, which later sold out to the Julian interests and went down in the petroleum company's collapse. He leaves his widow and two daughters.

Active pallbearers will be McClarty Harbison, Earl C. Hay, C. C. Streeter, M. S. Walker, George Newberger and George McBride.

BULLDOG SOURS ON LIFE EARLY

But Lemon a Day Keeps Sickness Away

Donny Brennan and Shrimp

A LEMON a day keeps the veterinarian away—at least away from a well-behaved Boston bulldog who has been putting one away every day for nearly six years.

Shrimp, the unofficial lemon champion of dogdom, can attest to this. He is here on a vacation with his owners, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Brennan of San Francisco.

The strange appetite of Shrimp started when he was a pup, Brennan stated.

"Shrimp chewed up a rubber ball we used to throw him so we rolled a lemon at him instead. We certainly started something, for ever since nothing but a lemon satisfies him. But he's never been sick in his life."

When Shrimp wakes up each morning he begs until he gets his lemon. Then he sets to the task of puncturing it with his teeth, squeezing out all the juice and ends up by eating out the inside.

Shrimp has learned to make one lemon last all day. The Brennans figured that since their pet acquired his sour taste he has eaten about 2300 lemons—and even lemons for dogs are hard to keep on hand the year around.

JURY STILL PONDERS IN FISHER CASE

Perjury Charge Made on Hearing by State Board in Auto Fatality

After several hours' discussion, a jury weighing the evidence in the case of Wendell Fisher, charged with perjury in connection with a hearing in July, 1928, before the State Industrial Accident Commission, failed to reach a verdict and were locked up last night at a downtown hotel. Deliberations will be resumed at 10 a.m. today at the courtroom of Superior Judge Hardy, who presided in the case.

Fisher is asserted to have testified falsely before the accident commission that Urban Everett Myers, who died of injuries received in an automobile accident, was intoxicated at the time of the accident.

Myers was on duty at the time of the accident and the hearing was conducted by the commission to determine if compensation should be allowed his widow, Mrs. Frances Myers.

The State charged during the trial of the perjury case that Fisher had called upon Mrs. Myers shortly after the death of her husband and demanded half of what she might receive in the way of an award from the accident commission.

When Mrs. Myers refused to make any such agreement, according to the State, Fisher went before the commission and testified that Myers had been drinking.

Bulk of Craig's Estate Willed to His Widow

William T. Craig, attorney for the Los Angeles Wholesale Board of Trade, who died the 18th inst. left his widow the bulk of his estate, according to his will filed for probate in Superior Court yesterday.

The widow, Mrs. L. Etta Craig, 525 South Harvard Boulevard, is the petitioner. A son of the decedent, Talton H. Craig, will get $25,000; $10,000 is left in trust for the two children of Craig; Bertha George, secretary, is willed $15,000; three brothers of the decedent will get $1000 each, and three sisters of the widow also get $1000 apiece.

The testator's library is given to the Los Angeles Wholesale Board of Trade. His attorney was Frank C. Weller.

May McAvoy and Husband Return Home

Surprising their host of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Clearly, the latter known to the screen as May McAvoy, yesterday returned to Hollywood after an extensive honeymoon trip.

MAY McAVOY

After successfully concealing their itinerary subsequent to their marriage at the Church of the Good Shepherd on June 28, last, the young couple altered their original plans to make a yachting cruise to Honolulu. Instead, Miss McAvoy yesterday admitted, she and her husband motored through the Northwest into Canada.

Queried as to her future plans, the bride declared that her marriage will in no way interfere with her screen career.

Chamber Letter Indorses Bell Quarry Project

In a letter to the Pacific Palisades protective committee, the West Hollywood Chamber of Commerce over the signature of Harry Barratt, secretary-manager, put itself on record as in favor of allowing Alphonso Bell to operate a rock crusher in the Santa Monica Mountains, adjacent to Beverly Boulevard.

"I am instructed by the board of directors," wrote Barratt, in part, "to express regret that this chamber is unable to view with your pessimism the Bell crusher plant proposal. I am also instructed to say to you that this Chamber of Commerce will join forces with Mr. Bell and associates in procuring the crusher plant operation permit, now being considered at a hearing before the City Planning Commission."

MORE PROTESTS UP TODAY

Today the Council will take up protests against the widening of Council street between Edgemont street and Alexandria avenue, the improvement of Avenue Fifty-four at Coringa Drive, the improvement of Kilkea Drive between Beverly Boulevard and Third street and the improvement of Alta Vista Boulevard and Third street and the improvement of Alta Vista Boulevard between Melrose avenue and Oakwood avenue.

Since Col. Lindbergh first learned to fly he has traveled more than 370,000 miles by air.

RITES FOR PLANE VICTIMS

Separate funeral services were conducted yesterday for the two men who lost their lives in an air crash at Santa Barbara last Monday, Stephen S. Nerney, Hollywood automobile dealer, and Elmer C. Brown, his pilot.

Christian Science services were conducted for Mr. Nerney from the W. B. Strother funeral parlor. Cremation followed at the Hollywood Cemetery. Pallbearers were selected from Mr. Nerney's associates at the Hollywood motor agency.

Rev. Paul C. Elliott conducted services for Mr. Brown from the Bramble funeral church. Masonic services were conducted at the grave in Valhalla Cemetery.

Mr. Nerney, who was 39 years of age, was born in San Diego. He leaves his widow and two children here. Mr. Brown came here ten years ago from his birthplace at Dobbs Ferry, N. Y. He leaves his widow. The men died when they attempted to land Mr. Nerney's plane in a small field.

Today's Bible Text

Godliness with contentment is great gain. For we brought nothing into this world and it is certain we can carry nothing out. 1 Timothy vi:6-7.

SOUNDS ROUGHSKY

Gen. Ignatieff Krijbischew, formerly commandant at Moscow, is now in charge of all Russian forces at Blagsuyeschensk at the Siberian border. This sounds as if the horrors of war were really at hand—even if the setting be far away.

WHAT PRICE GLORY

Anyhow, these aerial endurance tests are more interesting and important than flagpole sitting or dance marathoning. Also it is easier to make the front page with wings than it is with roller skates—even if it is hard to stay there.

PLACING THE BLAME

The Chinese insist that the Russians began the shooting and the quarrel, but both sides eagerly accepted the Kellogg pact and virtually agreed never to fight. Maybe the League of Nations should send a messenger boy over and tell 'em to stop.

CHANCE TO WRANGLE

France is agreeing upon the terms of its debt settlement with America, but there is still our own Senate to appease and satisfy. That is always a long and tedious process and is frequently impossible. The House once approved the French settlement and can again ratify without much delay, but when the matter gets before the Senate no one can predict what will happen.

MANY MERGERS

There are mergers and combinations in every trade and industry. No business is either too large or too small to escape the attention of the trained bloodhounds. The day is at hand when the hot-dog distribution of the country will be in the keeping of some massive corporation which will have its uniformed representative on hand wherever two or three humans are assembled for sport or play. A melding of the hot-dog and hamburger industries of the nation would be a warm proposition if full rations of mustard were included.

THE PONY CAR

Now we are to have mass production in America of a low-priced English car. Sir Herbert Austin, distinguished British motor magnate, is reported as having acquired a great plant in Pennsylvania in which to turn out thousands of the tiny cars which are so famous and popular in Great Britain. The Baby Austin is nine feet long and less than four feet wide, but it can do better than eighty miles an hour and deliver fifty miles to a gallon of gasoline. If it can be sold here for less than $500 it may be found handy for folks who crave that kind of a car. Sir Herbert employs 15,000 men turning them out in his big plant at Birmingham and has ambitions for world trade. His readiness to compete with Henry in Detroit shows the quality of his courage.

MODES FOR MEN

An esteemed correspondent urges the American makers of men's wear to do something for their country besides selling its citizens foolish apparel. The clothing manufacturers are asked to organize a world-wide competition in designing more sensible garments for the males. It is argued that by this time our men should have a new uniform. In the last twenty years there has been a complete revolution in the apparel of woman. There isn't a hangover from the last century. But with the men the changes are comparatively slight. A woman's street raiment used to weigh twelve pounds. Now it weighs twelve ounces. It is time something was done for the men. The clothing men are urged to ask the designers to create something new and radical. The points to be considered are usefulness, adaptability, comfort, cleanliness, freedom from frills, durability and economy. Men care more for good materials than exotic patterns. They care more for comfort than for style. It would be possible to create an entirely new line of raiment without seriously disturbing the trade. There would at least be no harm in gathering ideas on the subject. Let the artists and designers think it over.

A NEW FORCE FOR PEACE

President Hoover's proclamation that the Kellogg-Briand pact renouncing war is now in full effect was given additional emphasis by the later announcements, in London and in Washington, that the naval expansion programs of Great Britain and the United States have been suspended pending negotiations for a naval agreement and the settlement of outstanding differences. The announcements cannot be regarded as a direct result of the peace treaty, since they were rather the outcome of other forces, but they constitute to the world a pledge of the sincerity of two of the great signers and set an example which, it is to be hoped, other signers will follow within a short time.

Meanwhile the pact is unquestionably one of the influences in the prevention of war between Russia and China, at least so far, and thus has established its practical usefulness as a new force for peace in the world.

The effective paragraphs of the treaty are short, simple and concise. They read as follows:

Article I. The high contracting parties solemnly declare in the names of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another.

Article II. The high contracting parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means.

The agreement became effective through the deposit at Washington of the ratifications of the original fifteen signatories and of thirty-one other countries, while five additional ratifications are in process of being transmitted to Washington. The United States, the various nations of the British Empire, Belgium, Czecho-Slovakia, France, Germany, Italy, Japan and Poland constituted the original signers, and the additional acceptances make the sway of the treaty world-wide and virtually complete.

There is nowhere that its influence does not penetrate, since every non-signatory nation has a near neighbor which has declared allegiance to the pact.

The parallel announcements of Premier MacDonald and of President Hoover concerning the forthcoming naval agreement speak of it almost as an accomplished fact and give sure indication that minor differences will be brushed aside or compromised when the time comes to formulate it. Premier MacDonald set the time for his visit to Washington to discuss the matter with President Hoover directly, for next October, but in the meantime preliminary negotiations are proceeding, mainly, between the British Foreign Office and Ambassador Dawes.

The Premier's reference to a "survey of the whole field of Anglo-American differences" must be taken as meaning that the delicate and difficult question of freedom of the seas has been among the matters discussed and that there is sincere belief on both sides that a settlement of it can be reached. But it is plain the Kellogg-Briand treaty has here a strong influence. The question of the freedom of the seas has no importance except in war time and the reduction of the probability of war obviously reduces also the likelihood that the question will arise. That the importance of the question has been reduced in another respect has been already pointed out: the consideration that, if another war should ensue, there would be no neutrals, since every important nation would be aligned against war either through the Kellogg agreement or the League of Nations or both.

The suspension of naval construction is admittedly undertaken by the British government, in part from motives of economy, but its motive does not matter. What is important is the fact. Economy or not, it would not have been announced or determined upon had there not been an equal determination to bring about general naval disarmament without quibbling over details. Premier MacDonald proclaimed the acceptance of the principle of parity between the British and American sea forces and President Hoover, mentioning the same principle, indicated that reduction will be brought about without too much attention to whether actual equality, ship for ship, gun for gun and man for man, is the result or not.

The United States does not intend to build ships for use against Great Britain and Great Britain does not intend to build ships for use against the United States and since this is the case parity becomes a rather academic matter.

The fact that both are signatories of the Kellogg-Briand treaty is but one influence that led to making this double statement of policy; other influences include the increased cordiality of the two nations since President Hoover and Premier MacDonald took office. That cordiality is a potent factor for world peace.

PHILIPPINE JINGO SPIRIT

July weather in the Philippines is generally warm enough, but this year it is hotter than ever down there, owing to the boiling over of the political pot. Gen. Aguinaldo is hotly attacking Manuel Quezon, president of the insular Senate, charging bungling and grafting; the Legislature is clamoring anew for the independence of the provinces and there is a loud howl against the proposed American tariff on certain products of the islands.

It would seem that, in their simple way, the Filipinos are contemplating a military move of some sort or other. A bill has been introduced in their Legislature providing for the sending of men to Europe to study the manufacture of modern weapons of warfare. The proponents of this measure say: "We need trained men in the manufacture of modern weapons of warfare if we mean to be an independent people."

It is charitable to assume that these weapons, when secured, will not be used to shed American blood, for that would be the height of ingratitude. It may be that they are only to give proof of the strength of the movement for independence and to clinch the demands for freedom from "the American yoke."

Many Filipinos liken their condition to that of our colonies under the harsh rule of England and say that it is illogical for us to deny them rights identical with those sought by the old colonial patriots. This is an obviously insincere and, indeed, silly statement of the case. The Filipinos are not living under an American tyranny nor are they being exploited in any way save by their own politicians. In 1912 William Howard Taft said it would be twenty-five years before these islanders would be ready for independence. Now after thirteen years or more of political dissension among themselves, of graft and of what Aguinaldo terms "cabaret leadership" in the Legislature, it would seem that it would be at least twenty-five years more before they can safely be intrusted with self-government.

True, it would satisfy Filipino pride to achieve independence, but the trade and prosperity of the islands would suffer and many would go hungry that are now well fed. As for this newly intimate resort to arms it is Quixotic and if there is a remnant of common sense left in the island Legislature his grotesque piece of jingoism will be voted down.

THE BISCAILUZ APPOINTMENT

Los Angeles county will be sorry to lose the services of Eugene Biscailuz, undersheriff for the past eight years and an efficient officer in the Sheriff's office since 1907, but glad to see him at the head of the new State motor patrol. That he will be an excellent organizer and competent head for this force can, from his past record, hardly be doubted.

The principal function of the State motor patrol, as outlined by the Governor in his announcement of the appointment, is to keep traffic moving safely. This involves the pursuit of reckless and intoxicated drivers, but not annoyance of drivers who may violate the letter of unimportant rules, but endanger no one by so doing. Biscailuz himself possesses the tact in dealing with the public that is required for such a post, and if he can, with his long experience, impart it to his subordinates, he should be completely successful.

The State motor patrol is something of an experiment. It is a device to promote uniformity in the enforcement of regulations, so that motorists will know what to expect in all parts of California. While it will not, at the start, cover every county of the State, if its operations prove satisfactory its extension to all will in time be accomplished. Its commanding officer, who knows how to apply the principle of the firm hand in the velvet glove, will, those who know him believe, be able to go far in making it satisfactory, if he is unhampered by politicians.

STILL AT IT

Arlie Latham, who was one of the shining lights of the American diamond more than a generation ago, is helping make baseball popular in England. At the age of nearly 70 he is umpiring in a recently formed league in Great Britain. Old-timers will recall him with pleasure.

The LEE SIDE O' LA
BY Lee Shippey

SOME baseball teams, seeking names which will suggest the unconquerable spirit which comes back and comes back, in face of no matter what discouragements, call themselves the Giants or the Invincibles or the Sluggers. But a Hemet nine beats them all. It is known as the Hemet Red Ants.

A Romance of Little Nippon

Whether it's Abie's Irish Rose or little Miss Cherry Blossom, human nature is just the same.

Maybe we shouldn't tell this story, for it was told to us by a charming young Japanese over the dinner table. But it struck us as such a human story that we can't resist the temptation.

The Youth Movement

"It is not only the American older generation which finds the rising generation hard to understand and painfully ready to overthrow tradition," he said. "I was born and reared in America, and until I came to Los Angeles could not understand Japanese. I cannot write it yet. And the older Japanese cannot understand that.

"Then I yearned for an artistic career, for a chance to express myself. And though the cultured Japanese are very artistic, those who have to make their livings are very practical. They pointed out to me that by going to work in the market I could make $150 a month, with a percentage on the sales, and within three years could be making at least $300 a month, if I was energetic and applied myself with assiduity. In my more artistic career, the only opening was at about $60 a month!

They, Too, Have "Fool Notions"

"I told them we must remember that we cannot hope to have Americans look on us as fellow-Americans — not as Japanese Americans—unless we cease looking on ourselves as Japanese Americans. It is well for some of us to serve this our country as gardeners and marketmen, but some of us must show aspiration along intellectual lines in order to merit full respect.

"You know how the 'fool notions' of youth—the idle vaporings of the impractical—annoy the older generation? It is the same in Little Nippon. They shake their heads and say they don't know what the young people are coming to.

"But the rising generation know what they are about. They see a clear vision, are following a clear ideal. I found understanding sympathy among them, especially from one lovely girl.

Old Enough to Marry

"She was about 19. Just the right age, the older generation thought, to marry some man of 40 or 45 who could give her assured position—who had made his pile in the market or as a huckster, maybe, and now owned a business and hired others to do the real work for him. They honestly believe, many of the older generation, that a bride is much happier with a man twice her age because he has come to years of wisdom, so she is sure to be wisely guided.

"So when I asked to marry that lovely girl there was indignation, alarm, stern orders that we avoid each other. Let me establish myself before I dared suggest such a thing again.

Elopers

"And so she and I eloped. That may not mean much to you, but elopements are unknown in Little Nippon. There was anger in both her house and mine. Many useless words were said. But we had each other, so we did not care.

"I had to get another job—I have two now. I make our living out of one and give outlet to my yearning for artistic expression in the other. I did not let my wife suffer for anything. But all the sacred traditions of both families had been outraged. My wife's parents and mine did not speak when they met. It looked as if there never could be forgiveness for me from my wife's parents, or anything like a general reconciliation.

The "Dove" of Peace

"But then we learned that the stork is coming. That news got around Little Nippon, of course, but apparently had no effect on the angered. Not for months. But as the time for that wise old bird to arrive drew near the grandmothers - to - be grew anxious. And the grandfathers-to-be, though they never would have softened on their own account, of course—were such indulgent husbands that they consented to let their wives come and see us. In fact, they drove them around themselves.

"And now? Well, now all is very, very pleasant. The two families treat each other with most distinguished courtesy. And they cannot do enough for us. I hope you will come and see us. My father-in-law's car will be at my disposal any time you can."

PLAYING PEEK-A-BOO

A near-by town has an ordinance which provides that if three or more men are gathered together in a home or other place they mustn't pull down the blinds. Of course if there are ladies present the blinds go down, but the town fathers are apparently of the belief that if the group is made up of men only a game of penny ante may be in progress and they will not abide such devilment. They take no chances. They propose to see what is going on with their own eyes.

GOOD NEWS
By James J. Montague

It has been discovered that criminals are not all morons.

It always has riled me a trifle to hear
That the fellows who follow an evil career—
The burglar, the thug and the rough racketeer—
Were men of inferior mind.
I've been told that the person who pilfered for gain
Was either a little deficient in brain;
And that more or less goofy—I should say insane—
Is all of the criminal kind.

If men of the type who are quick on the draw
Can hold intellectual people in awe
And sinfully sneer at all semblance of law—
If these scoundrels are mentally dense
And still can outwit us whenever they please,
Scoff lightly at social and legal decrees
And gather large fortunes with obvious ease,
What's the use of possessing good sense?

It doesn't much flatter us good honest folk
To think that a low-browed and moronic bloke
Considers us all in the light of a joke,
And forever to have to beware,
When we go to our favorite night club to eat
Or drive in a car down the busiest street,
Of our lives and our cash if we happen to meet
With a person who isn't all there.

And, therefore, it's pleasant the news to impart
That the people who practice the criminal art
Far from being obtuse, are exceedingly smart,
Of our wits we could hardly be proud
If men who were patently weak in the bean
By dint of employing a blustering mien
Whenever they happened to come on the scene
Could have us all instantly cowed.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

Fly Screens for Trees

ESCONDIDO, July 22.—(To the Editor of The Times:) As an orange grower I am reading with great interest John Steven McGroarty's stories of the Mediterranean fruit fly. The Times should have the thanks of every interest of Southern California for the dissemination of the valuable information contained in these articles.

May I use your columns for a suggestion? It has occurred to me that citrus trees could be screened against a pest like the Mediterranean fly. Nets similar to mosquito bar, but heavier and large enough to cover a tree like a fumigation tent, could easily be manufactured and handled without great expense or difficulty. I should like to know how other growers feel about it, or whether the experts of our horticultural commissions would consider screening practical, not only as a method of protection but of control as well. I. DEACH.

In Line For Wings

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—(To the Editor of The Times:) I have been waiting for some one to reply to Alma Whitaker's article on the bathing suit controversy appearing in your Sunday Magazine, July 7. As no one has done so I am venturing on this dangerous ground.

Of course we all know the body is more than raiment—the beaches prove that. However, I am very pleased to have learned one thing from this bathing suit controversy, viz, the good old Methodist professor told the truth when he said "The world is getting better," for since all your correspondent lovers of skimpy bathing attire declare in no uncertain terms that no one save we who would like an added inch or two in bathing suit length have evil minds, and further one of your correspondents thinks a walled space of about twenty feet square would house us all, then all the other beach habitues must be in line for wings. Let us say grace and give thanks. A. L. C.

An Added Attraction

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—(To th Editor of The Times:) Of all the comparisons which I have heard made between Los Angeles and other cities "back East" I am sure the one made by your correspondent under the head of "Hares and Tortoises" in today's Times is the very most "unusual." To my mind it is vastly in favor of our beloved city and another of its added attractions. In this rushing age of speed and hurry a little more deliberation of movements on the streets seems greatly to be desired from every point of view. The opportunities to be gained for better observation and enjoyment of its scenic beauties on every side, as well as the greater safety in the crowded traffic of this live city.

We may not be as speedy as Chicago and other cities named in the before-mentioned comparison, but I do not believe any fair-minded person will even accuse Los Angelenos of being slow.

Note in proof the astonishing growth of this city and its environs in the few years past, which is equaled by few, if any, of those places named in the comparison made by the Chicago corresoondent.
JEAN W. REYNOLDS.

Too Much Bawling

LOS ANGELES, July 20.—(To the Editor of The Times:) Is there a city ordinance in Los Angeles prohibiting hucksters from bawling their wares at all hours, day and night, on the city streets? And does that include news men and boys who yell, bawl, roar, bellow on street corners from 5 a.m. until 2 a.m., only leaving three hours of peace for the residents of this wonderful city. It not only makes nervous wrecks of home people, but it makes a sick town of our city.

I have lived in many cities and this is the only one in which I have been made sleepless night after night until I have had to move twice. Is it fair? MRS. CROSBY.

THE GOOD OLD BOOKS

With all this talk about new books and the cry for the latest thing in print just off the press, it is encouraging to learn that our good old friends, the Dickens books, the George Eliot books, the Sir Walter Scott and Robert Louis Stevenson tales still find many buyers at the book stores and many borrowers at the public libraries. The Los Angeles Public Library reports that twenty copies of such standards as "David Copperfield," "Tale of Two Cities," "Adam Bede," "Romola," "Kidnaped," "Treasure Island," "The Cloister on the Hearth" and "Lorna Doone" are kept in constant circulation from the Central Library alone. Recognizing the precocious tendencies of the youngsters of today, the library has duplicated such titles for the children's rooms and every child of junior high-school age in Los Angeles knows his classic fiction. This is partly due to the excellent work of the publishers and illustrators in giving us beautifully printed and illustrated editions of our old favorites in place of the forbidding eye-straining type known to our childhood years. But They Don't Care

People who hope they don't intrude usually do.—(Shoe and Leather Reporter.

THE BOOK OF NUMBERS

BY HARRY BOWLING

According to the Chamber of Commerce Los Angeles now has a population of 1,450,000, with the prospect of being rated the fourth largest city in the United States at the taking of the next census. At which there is much whoopee and marked activity among the cheer leaders.

Los Angeles has passed its Genesis and Exodus, accepted its Leviticus and has now reached the fourth book in the Bible, Numbers. And it finds the contemplation of that book so entrancing that it seems to consider it the "ne plus ultra." Yet there are sixty-six books in the Bible before we reach the final Revelation. Why put all the emphasis on Numbers?

Why, indeed, should people judge a city's importance solely on the number of human beings it can pack into a given space? To me the phenomenal growth in the population is not a prize to exult over; rather it is a penalty Los Angeles has to pay for occupying the center of the most attractive terrain on the surface of the globe.

Neither a city nor a nation has achieved lasting fame by numbers alone. King David nearly lost his throne by provoking Jehovah through a display of boastfulness in numbering the Children of Israel. That was the first historic instance of taking the census. Palestine was never quite the same after David's display of this pride in numbers.

Babylon was once the most populous city of the ancient world. In the East it occupied the same uniquely favorable position that Los Angeles today occupies in the modern West. Babylonians "pointed with pride" to the census figures that every year left Jerusalem and Damascus more hopelessly in the rear. Yet Damascus and Jerusalem today are still going concerns.

When Manchus were the leaders of Asia, 400 years ago, Manchuria was sparsely populated. Yet it swung all China and scared all Europe. At the beginning of the century with a population of 7,000,000 it was still all-powerful. With unrestricted immigration its population has swelled to 27,000,000—and this is what Fred Hogue finds in Manchuria today. "With this increase has come ignorance, sloth, exhaustion of the soil, impoverishment . . . the universal brotherhood of misery."

Too many nations that dwelt too much on the book of Numbers have had to turn from the story of Job to the lamentations of Jeremiah. Only those that set their affections on something more than the census returns reach the happy destiny of the people.

Los Angeles has grown, is growing and will continue to grow. But let us not spend too much time over the Book of Numbers. The indestructible hope we rightly cherish for its future is not in the quantity but in the quality of its citizens.

WHERE CAN I LEARN Harmony?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Musicians find a knowledge of harmony indispensable for advancement in their work, either in singing or playing some instrument. The Polytechnic Evening High School, 400 West Washington Boulevard, offers free instruction in elementary harmony on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 8 to 9 p.m. in room 356.

The class studies by the Alchin System, beginning with the scale formation, then harmonization of melodies with primary harmonies. The students also study chords, their construction and combination and application to all phases of music, to make accompaniment from a single melody; also to transpose.

The instructor is Mrs. Eleanor D. Ferguson, trained in the Boston Conservatory and at the University of Southern California.

A Rose, His Monument

Michael Walsh, 74 years of age, originator of the rambler rose, is dead in the month that from countless trellises throughout the land a delicate but gorgeous mass of beauty and color is springing into life. Could anyone wish a more beautiful monument?

No other one man, perhaps, has done more to make the world pleasing to the eye, nor to make trim little cottages seem better places in which to live than the finest mansions erected by the wealthy.

Michael Walsh and his roses have put a song in the heart of many a man and woman.

If we harbor ambitions linguistic we may be "green" with envy at the announcement from Rome that the title of "Emperor of Words" has been conferred upon the poet, Gabriele D'Annunzio, for possessing and using a vocabulary of 40,000 words. It is safe to say that most of us struggle along with a paltry 500 or 600 words augmented, now and then, by a catchy slang term. Be that as it may, our D'Annunzio employed ten terms to say "green." How many can you conjure—spring-like, verdant, emerald, verdigris, creme de menthe, aquamarine . . . ! An excellent occupation for a hot day—think "green" in ten words!

In many hospitals for the treatment of nervous and mental diseases good nourishing food and plenty of it is regarded as one of the most beneficial "medicines." The theory that good physical condition aids mental recovery is the basis for the treatment.

Virtue is its own reward. The collection plate gets the poor, the devil gets the dollars.

Poverty wouldn't be so bad if it come in at the door if we would only go out and hustle for a job.

Many a man spends half his life making assertions and the other half looking for a hole to crawl through.

RIPPLING RHYMES by Walt Mason

TOWN LOYALTY

At home in Piutown I deplore a lot of things that every day; the citizens run low me roar with ardor, as I go my way. I criticise the boisterous lads who run our village government, bewail the old ways of our dads—the new ways aren't worth a cent. I write long letters to the press concerning things at every chance I get, pointing out the graft that's caused by business ignorance. I think when citizens would spend some money for a village pump, and safeguard will this grey old? Piutown head for the poorhouse. But when I go away from home as sometimes I am prone to go in far-off bailiwicks to roam, I boost old Punktown to and fro, visit Squashville-by-the-Sea, a village that is sad to see, where citizens come up and say, "What think you of our progress, pray? We think she has a future skinned, she's diamonds as compared with glass; you've been to the furthest End and find no village in her class." So her points, I must admit, I have at such a time declared, she would never make a hit she with Punktown were compared. I would not run your village down; I'm not dissatisfied her worth, but Punktown is the noblest town that ever grew on this old earth. Her streets are great and wide, her officials are the best, the place is full of happy folk, that is existence there is blest. In Punktown you won't find a trace of criticism in the air, the voters never make a row and wring their hands and tear their hair." And then to Piutown I return, and kick around just to get rid of old; rank evil in me stirs, my spirit burns, and I grow real rant and scold.

The end came in the second round after one minute and fifty-five seconds of fighting. Fields, who had rushed the champion all over the ring in the first round and who staggered him with rights and lefts to the jaw and heart, continued his rushing attack at the start of the second.
STARTS COUNT
Referee Elmer (Slim) McClelland started the count. As he reached five Dundee got to his hands and knees, pulling himself across the ring to the ropes on the other side. He managed to regain his feet at the count of eight.
Fields rushed from a neutral corner and continued the attack. Dundee, staggering and groggy, backed away. He tried to cover but Fields, brushing aside Dundee's left, drove in his right. Dundee's guard sank and a fusillade of rights and lefts sent him staggering against the ropes.
Dundee broke loose but Fields was on top of him. Joe dropped again. He rolled over on his side as the referee, waving his arms, counted the seconds.
At the count of seven, Dundee managed to regain his feet. He backed into a corner, Fields after him. Fields's two fists were moving in rhythm, most of the blows landing. Twice Dundee started to go down, but he managed to find the ropes and prop himself up. Dundee slid into a neutral corner.

BURKE IS GIVEN JOB AT U.C.L.A.

Former Oakland Trainer Takes Finley's Place as Physical Director

Billy Burke, who has trained the ball players of the Oakland Coast League club for the past eleven years, was yesterday given the position of trainer of the athletic teams of the University of California at Los Angeles by Bruin athletic authorities over "Doc" Cassidy, his nearest rival in the thirty-odd applicants for the job. Burke will be given a year's contract, and will be required to take over the reins of the new Bruin training quarters on the Westwood campus no later than September 1.

Burke will replace the former trainer, the late "Scotty" Finlay, who supervised the U.C.L.A. athletics the last four or five years. Finlay was killed on the night of June 21, last, in an automobile accident.

In addition to having charge of the physical welfare of the Oakland ball players, Burke was trainer at Santa Clara University during the off-season. He also coached the Broncho swimming, water polo and boxing teams.

HOLLING HALTS SOLONS' ATTACK

Sacs Rap Walsh to Showers in Fourth Inning

Locals Get Seventeen Hits Off Gillick, Vinci

Twelfth Straight Loss for Sacramento Squad

BY BOB RAY

Reverting to slugging ways, Jack Lelivelt's ambitious Angels hammered two Sacramento hurlers for seventeen hits and walloped their way to a 10-to-8 triumph over the sagging Solons yesterday at Wrigley Field.

The win made it three straight from the Sacs and four in a row for the Angels, who are clinging just one game behind the leading Seals. The Seraphs are going places and they're confident it will be just a matter of time before they pass the Seals.

Carl Holling came to the Angels' rescue in the fourth after the Senators had batted Augie Walsh to the showers with a five-run attack that punched a lot of holes in the Home Guards' six-run lead. Holling, however, held the Sacs sufficiently in check during the remaining innings for his mates to pull farther out in front and was credited with the victory.

ANGELS HIT BALL HARD

Young Larry Gillick, a sizable right-hander picked up by the Sacs when the California State League went bloosey, and Louie Vinci, the Sicilian southpaw, divided the pitching burden for Sacramento and were treated with little or no respect by the Seraph sluggers. No less than seventeen Angel safeties caromed off the offerings of these two twirlers, Fred Haney leading the attack with a double and two singles.

The defeat marked the twelfth straight for the Solons, who need but five more to equal their own record for consecutive setbacks.

Before being batted out of the box, Walsh rapped one of Vinci's fast ones over the left-field fence in the third inning, scoring a man ahead of him. It was Angie's first circuit clout and entitled him to one of Joe Patrick's free suits. Art Koehler, who gathered three of the Sacs' nine hits, also got himself a home run during the contest.

The game started out as though it would be a walk for the Cherubs, but the Sacs put across five runs in the fourth to give Lelivelt a few shivers. But the Angels had a few more solid swats left in their bats and won despite the bad inning.

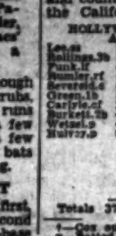
Santa Monica Star Battles New Yorker Today as Canadian Championship Narrows Down

TORONTO, July 25. (AP)—Two Canadians and two stars from the United States gained the semifinal round of the Canadian lawn tennis championships today.

John Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., will battle Frank Shields of New York in one semifinal tomorrow, while Willard Crocker and Jack Wright are clashing in the other.



Doeg, seventh ranking player in the United States, defeated Walter Martin of Regina, Sask., in the quarter-final round today, 2-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3. Shields, ranked No. 10 below the border, eliminated Charlie Leslie of Montreal, after the Canadian had gained a lead of two sets to none. The scores were 4-6, 8-7, 8-6, 6-1, 7-5.

Crocker, No. 2 player in Canada, defeated Fred C. Baggs, veteran New Yorker, 6-3, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3, and Wright put out Gilbert Nunns of Toronto, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2, 2-6, 7-5.

Ducat Brokers Lose Verdict

CHICAGO, July 25. (AP)—Nine thousand perspiring fight fans who assembled last night to watch Herr Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, make his debut, were forced to stand outside the Chicago stadium while Promoter Paddy Harmon "broke" a strike of ticket-sellers.

The difficulty arose when Harmon insisted upon using his own ticket sellers, which caused employees connected with the Ticket-sellers' and Ushers' Union to walk out. Harmon called upon friends for assistance in the emergency and after a short delay, the doors were opened.

Shoots 66 Over Montreal Course to Top Canadian Championship Field; Diegel Defends Title

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANAWAKI GOLF CLUB, MONTREAL, July 25. (AP)—"Long Jim" Barnes, retired professional golfer of New Rochelle, N. Y., who scorns knickers, showed as little respect for par over the Kanawaki course today and with a great 66, led the field in the first round of the Canadian open golf champions. The former American and British open champion, who insists on wearing trousers long enough to cover all his long legs, compiled his score early in the day and despite an all-day assault, it stood when the day's work was done.

Little Ernie Wakelam, 20-year-old pro from Brockville, Ont., a product of English golf by way of Hoylake, occupied second place tonight with 68. Two other sub-par scores, a pair of 69s, returned by Tommy Armour, Detroit, former United States and Canadian open champion, and Billy Burke, Westport, N. Y., New York State open champion, represented a tie for the "place" position.

The free predictions that the stars of two countries would drive the par 70 of Kanawaki to cover were slightly premature. Only this quartet of able golf citizens could shade it. An overnight rain took some of the roll from the ball and after all was said and done par was far from disgraced. Emmett French, Southern Pines, N. C.; Leo Diegel, the defending champion from Mexico, and George Elder, young Montreal pro, equaled it and everybody else was over.

George Von Elm, Detroit's star amateur, led the Simon Pures home with 71, a mark hung up by Bill Mehlhorn and Joe Kirkwood. The two Smiths, MacDonald and Herton, stood at 72 with Bobby Burns, another Montreal pro. C. H. Perkins, West Hartford, Ct., and Charlie Lacey, Pine Valley pro.

There were a flock of 73's including Walter Hagen, Ross Somerville, the Canadian amateur champion, George Cumming, veteran Toronto pro, Al Watrous, John...

TILDEN FACES COCHET IN BITTER SINGLES BATTLE

Lott Tackles Borotra in Opening Match of Historic Competition for World's Court Laurels

PARIS, July 25. (AP)—Just as America would have it, and with France entirely satisfied, too, the Davis Cup forces of two great tennis nations will swing into action tomorrow in the opening singles battles with Big Bill Tilden facing Henri Cochet and George Lott in the opposite court from Jean Borotra.

The draw for the challenge round for the historic trophy was staged today in all solemnity in the presence of the players and diplomats of both nations.

The veteran Tilden, at 1 [illegible] America's chief hope for victory, will face Cochet, world's champion, in the crucial duel of the day at 4:30 p.m. after Lott, fiery youngster facing the challenge-round test for the first time, opens the series with the veteran Borotra at 2:15 p.m.

In the French mind Borotra is a 2-to-1 favorite to defeat Lott, 22-year-old youngster from Chicago. Despite recent defeats, Tilden's reputation still carries such weight in France that he is quoted at even money with Cochet, who whipped him decisively at Wimbledon a few weeks ago.

The pairings, as drawn today, will be reversed for the second singles matches to be staged Sunday. Saturday, Wilmer Allison, young Texan, and John Van Ryn, former Princeton ace, will engage the French in the doubles combat. Although France's doubles team will not be announced until tomorrow, Cochet and Borotra are expected to carry that part of the cup defense burden also.

With America's chances of regaining the cup, lost to France two years ago, increased because of the illness of Henry Le Conte, co-partner with Cochet in domination of the men's tennis world for three years, the French public is showing unprecedented interest.

The advance sale has exceeded any other competition in the history of French tennis and not a single reserved seat in the spacious Roland Garros Stadium was left tonight. Prospective spectators early in the evening hired messenger boys to stand in line at the wickets for the 2000 general admission tickets that will go on sale at 6:15 a.m.

Helen Wills Takes Match

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—A wireless message from the steamship Aquitania told of the victory of Helen Wills over Betty Nuthall, English champion, in an exhibition game of deck tennis aboard the liner. The message read:

"Hundreds of passengers, including members of the British Wightman Cup tennis team, watched Helen Wills defeat Betty Nuthall, 6-2, 6-2, in an exhibition game of deck tennis on the Aquitania today. Capt. Diggle, commander of the Aquitania, was referee. 'Play you again in regular tennis soon,' was Helen's good-by to Betty."

Homer Sheridan Favored Over Everett Strong in Hollywood Legion Feature Tonight

MIDDLEWEIGHTS MATCH PUNCHES

Popular Sluggers Feature Weekly Program

Jimmy Piela Hooks Up With Ponce in Semifinal

Hard-Hitting Preliminary Boys Are Signed

HOMER SHERIDAN

Homer Sheridan, who wears the skull and cross-bones on his bathrobe when he enters the ring, will be a favorite to beat Everett Strong in the main event at the Hollywood American Legion stadium tonight. Strong isn't a novice, and he can hit just as hard as Sheridan but Everett is a rushing type of fighter which is to the liking of Sheridan who likes to stand off and counter when his opponent leads.

The fight itself is expected to be entertaining because the principals haven't any great reputations to protect. Strong is trying to make the grade as a main-eventer at Hollywood. He can get another shot if he beats Sheridan, and if Homer fails to beat Strong he must go out in the sticks for his main events.

It wouldn't be any surprise if the headliner didn't go the limit. Sheridan has a mean left hook that spills the boys when it lands. Vincent Forgione is about the only fighter here whom Sheridan hit flush, and held his feet. Strong undoubtedly will carry the fight to Sheridan and by doing that he is going to leave himself open for a few pot shots by Sheridan. Either fighter can win, but Sheridan has the better chance.

Some very good club fighters are on the bill. Jimmy Piela and Kid Ponce may turn the semi-wind-up into a whale of a shot. They are stiff sockers, and either can win by a knockout. Piela is liked because he is younger, and better fitted physically.

Another good boy on the card is Bobby Herman, who fights Raymond Lago in the special event. Herman figures to beat Lago to the decision.

Leonard Allen and Johnny Ramirez, welterweights, fight one of the four-rounders and Wellington O'Connor meets Sammy Seaman in the curtain raiser.

JACKIE FIELDS WINS ON FOUL

Fields was in front of him, hammering away. Dundee started to sink to the canvas floor. Suddenly his right came up. He caught Fields in the groin. Fields rolled back holding his groin. The referee was undecided. Fields looked at the referee and then at Dundee.

As Fields returned his attention to Dundee the champion brought up his right again. This time he landed in Field's groin with all he had left. Fields doubled up and sank to the floor, writhing in agony. It was the end of the fight.

So departed Dundee from the ranks of the boxing champions. He held the title two years. During that time he was beaten four times, knocked out once and thrown out of the ring twice. He managed to hold his title because he forced his opponents to come in at catch-weights.

Tonight he met a fighter who was his superior every minute of the fight.

As the first gong sounded Dundee trotted out of his corner and advanced on Fields. It was his one aggressive move of his last fight as champion. Fields caught him coming in with rights and lefts to the head that staggered him and Dundee was beaten from that moment on. He kept retreating. His guard was low and Fields kept hitting high. He never hit below the heart. Most of his blows landed in the face and on the jaw.

NO DEFENSE

Dundee had no defense for Field's attack. His guard rarely came up. When it did, the attempt was awkward. Fields knocked the guard aside, or punched between Dundee's arms.

Fields's attack was the most aggressive a welterweight has shown in a championship fight in the last decade. It was an attack before which Dundee retreated in bewildered fashion.

This was Fields's nineteenth fight as a welterweight. He won all of them, ten by knockouts and tonight, for the first time in his career, he won a bout on a foul.

As Dundee, battered and beaten, left the ring the crowd hissed and booed—his defeat was as inglorious as his reign.

Fields, in charge of a doctor, was carried from the ring and to his dressing-room, passing through a wildly cheering throng.

Thus was a new champion crowned.

CROWD PAYS $125,000 TO SEE TITLE FIGHT

BY CHARLES W. DUNKLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT, July 25. (AP)—Jackie Fields won the world's welterweight championship tonight. Fields defeated Joe Dundee, the title-holder, on a foul in the second round of their scheduled fifteen-round contest.

Dundee, reeling and staggering after twice hitting the floor in the second round, delivered a terrific right-hand punch low in foul territory, a minute and fifty-five seconds after the second round opened.

Fields, writhing in intense agony, backed into the ropes and then jack-knifed to the floor. His seconds rushed into the ring and dragged him to his corner. He was in such pain that he was unable to sit on his chair. He fell into the resin in his own corner while his handlers worked frantically over him.

Meanwhile, Dundee, hopelessly beaten, staggered into his own corner. He was rocking like a reed in a heavy wind from the barrage of punches that knocked him to the floor in the second round for the counts of nine and seven.

The battle was witnessed by a crowd estimated at 27,000 with net receipts around $125,000, a new record for a welterweight championship contest. The gate eclipsed the previous high mark of $86,000 when Dundee won the title from Pete Latzo at the Polo Grounds in New York in 1927.

The champion had a desperate time in making the welterweight limit of 147 pounds when they weighed in at 2 o'clock this afternoon. He just managed to make the weight, scaling about an ounce under the prescribed poundage, while Fields tipped the beam at exactly 148 pounds.

Dundee said the foul was unintentional.

"I think Jackie knows that," the former titleholder said. "Fields is a great fighter and I wish him luck with the title."

After recovering from the effects of the foul punch, Fields was so happy that he limped across the ring and kissed his manager, Gig Rooney. He said he was sorry that he had to win the title on a foul, but he was confident he would have knocked out the titleholder.

"I know he didn't mean to do it," Fields said. "It is the only bout I ever won on a foul. I regret that it ended that way for the sake of the spectators. I only wish it had continued. 'I'm sure I would have finished him."

UNDISPUTED CHAMP

With his victory, Fields comes into undisputed possession of the world's welterweight championship. He previously had been recognized by the National Boxing Association as titleholder because Dundee had refused to defend his championship against a logical contender. Fields has the distinction of defeating young Jack Thompson, the negro warrior, who scored a surprising knockout over Dundee in their non-title engagement in Chicago a year ago.

The Michigan Board of Athletic Control which governs boxing in this State, may find itself in difficulty if it considers fining Dundee for fouling. Dundee received $50,000 in cash before entering the ring in defense of his title. The commissioners therefore may have a hard time paying a fine loose from his end of the purse. Dundee got $10,000 at the time the match was made and the remaining $40,000 tonight before he pulled on the gloves.

Billy Clemmens, Cleveland heavyweight knocked out Sully Montgomery of Fort Worth, Tex., in the first fifteen seconds of their six-round bout. Clemmons cut loose with two punches, the second a right to the chin knocking Montgomery sprawling.

Billy Angelo, Philadelphia, 150-pounder, won a six-round decision over Sam Bruce, Buffalo negro.

In the first preliminary Morrie Sherman of Detroit won the verdict over Billy Taylor of Philadelphia in six rounds. They are welterweights.

MAZZOLA WINS

Carl Mazzola, Detroit featherweight, was given the decision over Johnny Martinie of Chicago in six rounds. Mazzola won through superior aggressiveness and punching power. Roger Bernard, Flint (Mich.) lightweight, scored a technical knockout over Young McGovern of Pittsburgh in the second round of their six-round contest. McGovern was floored four times, twice in the first session and twice in the second before a towel was tossed into the ring.

Soldier Dombrowski, Detroit featherweight, outpunched Pete Pirpo, also of Detroit, to win the verdict in six rounds. Pirpo was floored four times.

McLARNIN MAY TAKE ON FIELDS

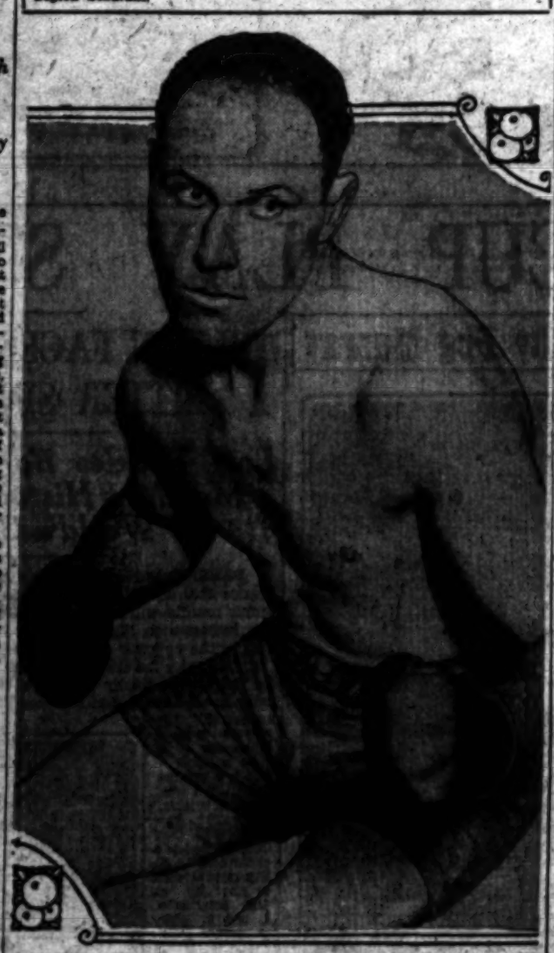
VANCOUVER (B. C.) July 25. (AP) Charles (Pop) Foster, manager of Jimmy McLarnin, received a telegram today from Floyd Fitzsimmons of Detroit offering McLarnin a match for the title with Jackie Fields, victor over Joe Dundee.

The bout would be held in the big new outdoor arena in Detroit in September.

Foster has replied that he will accept the match, providing suitable terms can be arranged. Jimmy has a two-round knockout against Fields and has an idea he can repeat.

PLAIN POISON TO FOES

That's what Homer Sheridan's friends claim he is to his ring rivals. In fact, Homer's so tough that they dubbed him "Poison" and adorned his tights with skull and cross bones. Everett Strong is scheduled to see how strong the dose is tonight at the Hollywood Legion Stadium.



FIGHT BY ROUNDS

ROUND ONE

They shook hands in the middle of the ring and came out fighting. Dundee missed a left and right to the head and they clinched. Fields dug a left to the body. Dundee drove a right to the head. Fields was short with a left to the head, but drove a right to the body. Fields hooked two lefts and rights to the head. They came together, Dundee landing a right to the head. Fields shot two lefts and rights to the head with Dundee backing to the ropes. Fields hooked a left to the body as the champion came into range. They traded lefts to the face. Fields hooked a left to the jaw and a right to the cheek. Fields hooked another left to the jaw with Dundee backing away as the round ended.

ROUND TWO

Dundee was short with a left to the head and they clinched in mid-ring. They exchanged body punches. Fields hooked two lefts to the body and a terrific right to the jaw. Dundee backed to the ropes and was floored with a heavy barrage of punches to the head. He got up at the count of nine and was knocked down again a moment later for a count of seven. Fields drove three rights to the jaw that had the champion reeling. Dundee drove a hard right to the foul territory and Fields fell to the floor in pain. His seconds started to work over him while he was dragged to his corner. He was unable to sit on the chair and fell to the floor. A doctor was called into the ring to make an examination.

Fields was unable to continue and the fight was awarded to the challenger.

TO OPEN NEW ROAD TO SUNSET FIELDS

Golfers of the Sunset Fields public courses are eligible to compete in an eighteen-hole medal play tournament scheduled Saturday, August 3, as a part of the celebration planned for the opening of Angeles Mesa Drive from Jefferson to West Vernon avenue. This celebration is being put on by the Southwest Breakfast Club and includes an elaborate fireworks display in the evening. Trophies will be given for leading gross scores, for winning blind bogey scores and for winning scores in a tournament played over the eighteen-hole mashie pitch course.

WADHAMS AFTER BRADDOCK

Conqueror of Griffiths Sought as Opponent for Yale Okun in Olympic Battle

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams was on the trail of James J. Braddock yesterday as an opponent for Yale Okun. The light-heavyweight puncher who stopped Tuffy Griffiths has been offered a big guarantee to work here next month.

The Olympic will show several other eastern stars in August, among them being Gorilla Jones vs. Dummy Mahan on the 20th and possibly Kid Chocolate the week following.

Tuesday night Max Schmeling, the German Jack Dempsey, will box a four-round exhibition on the Eddie Mack-Doc Snell card. This show will probably pack the arena since Schmeling is the most talked-of heavyweight of the day.

JAMES J. BRADDOCK

The Olympic has not learned the exact time of the arrival of the Black Uhlan, but Billy McCarney has intimated in correspondence they might fly here by plane from Denver in order to cover territory faster.

McCarney has found that he could book the German in twice as many towns as the original schedule called for if they had the time.

The tour is slated to end August 18 in Minneapolis, where Schmeling's exhibition will be refereed by Dempsey, himself, according to present plans of Mike Collins, promoter.

The German society here is planning a function for the distinguished Rhynelander. Schmeling has been mobbed by the crowds in every city where he has appeared by his countrymen and others.

Wadhams announced yesterday that Sammy Jackson, star negro welter, will box Omar Wright on the semi-wind-up under Mack and Snell. Al Rivers, Mexican lightweight from Denver, will face Frankie Carter in the special event.

The two fours are Clyde Warner vs. Jose Gabuca and Dick McDaniels vs. Jimmy O'Neal.

DIXON'S MANAGER SUSPENDED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25. (AP)—George Moore, manager of young George Dixon, negro middleweight of Portland, was suspended temporarily today for haranguing Referee Toby Irwin last night. Irwin refereed the fight in Oakland between Dixon and "Red" Uhlan. Moore objected to low punches struck by Uhlan. Dixon stopped Uhlan in the ninth after giving the Oaklander a beating.

To Begin Work on New Bruin Gym Buildings

Construction will start within the next few days on two temporary gymnasiums on the Westwood campus of the University of California at Los Angeles to be ready for use by the latter part of September when the university occupies its new site, university authorities announced yesterday. The temporary gymnasium men's and women's, are to be wooden structures of 30 by 100 feet, and will cost approximately $3500 apiece.

The two gymnasiums will be located on the east side of Westwood Boulevard, just down the hill from the main quadrangle of the campus and near Beverly Boulevard. They will be right next to the now proposed site for the permanent gymnasium, construction on which will be started in the fall. The old Armory Building, used by the University R.O.T.C. unit and now located on North New Hampshire avenue on the Vermont-avenue campus, will be moved out to Westwood within a few days also, and will be placed next to the gymnasiums.

Work is now fairly along in the construction of three sawdust football fields for the Bruin grid teams, and also of a large grass plot for the physical education classes. A turf football field will not be constructed until next year, according to present plans.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWDY

BOSTON OR LOS ANGELES?

APPARENTLY the only way to decide whether Boston is a better wrestling city than Los Angeles is to stage a match here between Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg and Strangler Ed Lewis.

Boston has had all three versions of the Sonnenberg-Lewis soirees—the first in which Sonnenberg rendered himself hors du combat by diving out of the ring and onto a cement floor in essaying a flying tackle; the second in which he removed the title from Lewis's brow, and the third in which he successfully repulsed Lewis's attempts to regain the crown.

This last contest drew 9153 persons who paid a total of $42,490. It was staged two weeks ago.

The other night approximately 10,500 persons paid over $30,000 to see Sonnenberg defeat Joe Malcewics in straight falls.

It doesn't take a mathematician to discover that more persons saw the local match, but that Boston had the larger "gate" because larger "tops" for seats were charged there.

The only thing left for Promoter Carnation Lou Daro to do is stage an outdoor match at Wrigley Field and set a record for the Boston boys to shoot at. Carnation Lou swears there were 5000 more who wanted to see the sensational match here the other night, and undoubtedly there are thousands more who would take in an outdoor match.

Particularly when the colorful Strangler person is pitted against Mr. Sonnenberg's flying tackle.

ANOTHER DIXIE KID

OLD-TIMERS will remember the Dixie Kid.

The Kid won the welterweight title from Joe Walcott back in 1904 and though he only weighed 142 pounds he fought many a battle against middleweights, light-heavyweights and even heavyweights.

He was an ebony-hued warrior who got his start in this city back in 1899, fighting at the old Manhattan Club on Los Angeles street.

His last local fight was a twenty-round knockout of Al Neil, and it was waged at Hazard's pavilion, where the Philharmonic now stands in Fifth street.

The Dixie Kid fought twenty-one years before a spine injury forced him to quit for good.

Now he's back in the city press-agenting Dixie Kid, Jr., 17, who has had a few fights in New York.

Young Dixie Kid weighs less than his illustrious fighting father—136—but the senior Kid says he has all the earmarks of a real fighter, and he craves action for the youngster.

A FOOTBALL IDEA

IN SPITE of the elevation of the mercury it appears the football boys aren't going to let their favorite topic die—even with fall practice not due to open until September 15. The following is a bleat from Prof. Louis Chambers of Glendale:

"Have been wondering why some of the big football games couldn't be Movietoned and put on the screen. Imagine being able to see and hear the last U.S.C.-Stanford game on the screen; to be able to take another look at the plays U.S.C. used just before the final one that put over the touchdown, or the forward pass, when Thomas caught Stanford by the pants. Imagine, having a chance to see and hear the mob yell as their favorite team makes a few yards, because at that time it is impossible to hear the others. Or, too, imagine being able to hear the impact when George Dye happens to be in Mr. Fleishhacker's way when he is trying to take the ball through center.

"And, imagine having a chance to see and hear the next U.S.C.-Notre Dame game in its entirety, on the screen.

"Don't you agree this is a worthwhile subject for discussion with the motion-picture companies or universities? The universities could make a charge to the company for use of the film, which would create a large revenue for the producer. The cost of production would be extremely low as the plot, location, actors and spectators would all be provided."

shot to left. The bases were filled when Jacobs hit into a double play to end the round.

Koehler's homer over the left-field wall evened the count for Sacramento in the second, but Sandberg's infield single, a walk to Haney and Statz's single put the Angels ahead again in the home half.

The Seraphs apparently sewed up the struggle in the third when they put on a five-run rally that gave them a 7-to-1 margin. Berger led off with a single and continued to second on Heag's enthusiastic, but poorly directed throw-in. Tolson's hit to center sent Berger to third. Ray Jacobs then doubled into left field to score Berger. When Dittmar followed with another double down the line that tallied Tolson and Jacobs, Ryan lifted Gillick and sent Vinci to the mound. Sandberg bunted Dittmar to third and then Walsh lofted one over the left-field wall. Vinci got the side out by retiring Haney and Statz.

Walsh started off nonchalantly in the fourth, getting rid of McLaughlin, but he hit Bescher to pave the way for a lot of trouble. Rohwer doubled and Bescher came home. Koehler walked and Heag hit a sacrifice fly that sent Rohwer to third. French whacked a single that scored Heag and Krasovich followed with another hit that brought Koehler home. When Vinci walked to fill the bases, Holling replaced Walsh. Burke hit Holling's second pitch for a single that scored French and Krasovich, but McLaughlin popped to Dittmar for the third out.

Dittmar's second double and Haney's hit gave the Angels another run in the fifth, while Holling's single, Haney's two-bagger and Statz's single produced the final two Cherub counters in the seventh.

Sacramento threatened in the eighth when Koehler singled, Heag was hit by a pitched ball and French singled to drive in one run. French, however, was out stealing and then Haney tossed out Krasovich to end the scare. Heag tallied on Krasovich's infield out.

Another one today with Bascht and Keating slated to do the twirling. Score:

Foul Tips

Jack Jacobs and Dick Sebolla, two of the Angels' youngest hurlers, were rapped hard by batters in the first game in the club's present series with the Legion regulars. The Angels still have seven games to play and probably will get rid of another pitcher in a week or so.

Either Ed Baecht or Doc Crandall will take the mound for the Angels in today's game. Ray Benge, the regular pitcher, is scheduled to pitch for Sacramento.

Lew Mendiola, Sacramento scout, arrived here yesterday. He will make a trip to San Diego today to see Bescher in the Padres' big ball club to the border city. It understood that Mendiola wants a couple of players for his franchise along, or might sacrifice the pitcher to get the pair of Sacramento.

That's a pretty steep price.

There's a rumor circulating around that Manager Ernest Nei is to go to San Diego, Bill Lane will take the helm of Sacramento.

Fred Haney and Jigger Statz, the leading base stealers of the Angels, pilfered a pack yesterday. Haney stole his thirty-first base in the first inning, while Statz pilfered his thirtieth after he had the ball in the second frame. Haney has stolen twenty-seven bases this season.

Buddy Ryan and Holling had a few words yesterday when the latter disputed Umpire Carl Wyatt's decision on Ryan for dusting off Rohwer in the eighth inning.

Burl Wilds got two hits yesterday, but on his other three trips to the plate he struck out.

RAIN HALTS ESSEX TENNIS TOURNAMENT

MANCHESTER (Mass.) July 28. (AP)—Rain forced a twenty-four hour postponement of today's semi-final matches in the Essex Country Club's women's invitation tennis tournament. The postponements involved Mary Greef of Kansas City, who was due to clash with Eleanor Goss of New York, and Edith Cross of San Francisco, down to match strokes with Mrs. F. I. Mallory of New York. These matches have been reset for tomorrow morning and the doubles play has been posted for the afternoon hours.

LIVELY BALL LOSING FAVOR

Old-timers Would Murder Pill, Says Scribe

Magnates, Seeking Cash, to Blame for Ball

Homers a Joke Because of Short Fences

BY IRVING VAUGHAN

NEW YORK, July 28. (Exclusive)—If the prevailing home-run epidemic is wrong—and it is wrong because it has destroyed certain features of baseball—you can blame it on the magnates. They have been charged with worse offenses and not complained. They won't mind another indictment just as long as the receipts roll in. The hue and cry about homers, not in the midst of its annual airing, has to do mainly with the lively ball. That is only part of the story, and a small part. For fifteen years or thereabouts the owners have been moving step by step toward the present situation. Every move has been toward the same goal—the suppression of the pitchers. A new ball is kept in play constantly, all form of tempering with or even soiling the cover of the ball are taboo and what the players now speak of as the potato, has more life than the baseball vegetable of ten or so years ago. Even the playing fields have been cut down in the mad stampede to get more seats.

BALL LASTED

In the old days it was not uncommon for nine-inning games to be played with three or four balls. A ball might be fouled out of the park, but if recovered it would be returned to the umpire. The writer recalls one game—the Cubs at Cincinnati about 1914—in which only one ball was used. There were two or three other incidents of the same kind. Today it is almost unusual for one ball to survive even half an inning and once the ball goes out of play it does not come back. A new one takes its place.

A new ball in play all the time works to the batters' advantage in two different ways. A pitcher has difficulty gripping a new sphere because of the smoothness of the cover and without a grip he is able to get less "stuff" on it. And the new cover, while against the customary green background increases the visibility for the hitter. Some of our fair hitters of today probably could not hang on in the majors if they had to look at the black, feathery article that was thrown up to the plate a decade ago.

AT RIGHT TIME

It has not occurred to many people that Babe Ruth might never have been known as baseball's superman if he hadn't happened along at the right moment. He reached his height just at a time the pitchers were working under their greatest handicap. Not that Ruth would not have been a great hitter or the producer of occasional home runs even under the old standard. He can hit, there never has been any doubt about it. But what would a few other hitters before him have done under the same conditions? Joe Jackson, for instance, hit a ball over the second deck of the Polo Grounds before anybody ever heard of the jackrabbit baseball. The hitters don't even do it now with the new ball.

It is because of Ruth that the magnates now are reluctant to baretrack and restore some of the old balance between pitching and hitting. Ruth by his homers made money for the American League. He is still making it. The National League made no secret of its wish to develop a similar attraction, but never did, although it did develop hitters who satisfied on a smaller scale the fans' supposed home-run appetite. Now, having prospered during the period of terrific hitting the owners naturally want to continue offering the same attraction. But there can be too much of a good thing and this point isn't far away.

OLYMPIC BARGES ATTRACT ANGLERS

HERMOSA BEACH, July 28.—Warm summer days of the past weeks have resulted in an unprecedented number of fishermen flocking to the Olympic barges operated by Capt. Anderson off the Hermosa Beach pier. Week-ends have found the boats jammed to the gunwales, while turnouts during the week have also been large.

Halibut have been biting well lately, along with sand dabs, bonito and some barracuda. With the change of the moon fishing will be even better than in the past two weeks, in which case Anderson may have to build an addition to his fleet.

MOOSE TAUSSIG TO SECOND NAKAMURA

J. H. (Moose) Taussig, who ranks with Gig Rooney, Jackie Fields's manager, as one of the real veterans of Pacific Coast boxing, arrived today from San Francisco to second Kano Nakamura in the latter's clash with Joe Borgia tomorrow night at the Main Street Athletic Club. Taussig has guided the little brown 128-pounder through forty-three battles, with only three decisions chalked against him.

JACK HAYWARD WINS PASADENA MAIN BOUT

Jack Hayward, hard-hitting Monrovia colored light-heavyweight, won the decision over Tommy Morgan, Irish 178-pounder, after ten hot rounds in the main event last night at Pasadena.

In the other bouts Kenneth Johnson defeated Oriel Astudillo in the six-round semi-wind-up; Canto Robleto beat Johnny Gabuso; Jack Stewart and "Boilermaker" Jones fought a four-round draw, and Teddy Palacios won over Melvin Bobo.

Bruin Coach Learns Play Under Jones

The U.C.L.A. Bruins, who will play their first football game in history with the S.C. Trojans September 28, stole a march on their prospective foes recently. When Coach Howard Jones of the Thundering Herd called the roll in his summer school coaching class he discovered the name of A. J. Sturmsegger, Bruin line coach. Not a whit abashed, but complimented by the evident faith the U. C. L. A. mentor had in Jones's ability, the Trojan leader proceeded to single out Sturmsegger as the object of several important bits of strategic play by linesmen. Jones is one of the best line coaches in the business, and was an all-American end at Yale.

AUTO RACES SCHEDULED NEXT MONTH

Permission Given to Hold Event at Alhambra Oval on August 8

Although the automobile races of last Saturday night at the American Legion Speedway were expected to be the last of the summer season, A. C. Pillsbury and the A.A.A. yesterday came out with the announcement that the American Legion has been granted permission to stage a big meeting on August 8 at the Alhambra Boulevard oval.

By special courtesy from the governing board of racing in the United States, the Legion track has sandwiched in a date immediately following the meeting at San Jose.

Herb Marow, manager of the local oval, yesterday announced that the main event of August 8 here will be the biggest of the dirt-track season thus far and will be enlarged to forty laps. It was rumored yesterday that Jack Dempsey will be the donor of a Dempsey cup for the victor in this event, which will include such drivers as "Stubbe" Stubblefield, Walt May, Art Beyer, Nick Martino, Jimmy Sharp, and Mel Kenealy.

One of the prime reasons for extensive efforts having been made to continue the season into August was the great success of the races last Saturday night here, when 8000 fans witnessed the most pretentious "castor oil" line-up of the year, it was announced.

HOLD SERVICES FOR ROMAN GRID PLAYER

Funeral services were conducted at the Little Church of the Flowers yesterday for Charles Frederick Noyes, Los Angeles High School football and track star, who was killed in an accident near Oxnard Monday while doing free surgery work. Interment was at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

The lad was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Noyes, 1800 South Oxford avenue. He was born in Los Angeles eighteen years ago. Besides his parents, he leaves two brothers, Harold and Frank.

MAHAFFEY HARDEST WORKER

Mahaffey of Portland was the first Coast League twirler to work through 200 innings this season. Mahaffey has toiled through a total of 208 innings. He has pitched through fifteen complete games and has served as a relief hurler in nine contests. Mahaffey has scored ten wins and has been charged with sixteen defeats.

White Sox Beat Washington in Tenth Inning

PHILADELPHIA, July 28. (AP)—The Athletics staged a tremendous slaughter at the expense of the Cleveland Indians today, winning 21 to 2. The victory increased the Athletics' lead over the idle Yankees to ten and one-half games.

Jimmy Foxx brought his home-run total up to twenty-two for a tie with Babe Ruth and Al Simmons for second place in the American League by slamming out two in the first three innings. He now has hit four in three games. Mule Haas and Grove also hit homers. Score:

SOLONS WIN

WASHINGTON, July 28. (AP)—Chicago and Washington battled relentlessly for eight innings today, but the White Sox broke through Fred Marberry for a run in the ninth and two more in the tenth to take the rubber game.

Marberry pitched the entire game for the Senators but Ed Walsh was relieved in the ninth by McKain, who later gave way to Welland, both of whom held Washington hitless. Score:

MILE HIGH MEET SUNDAY

Southland Swimmers Preparing for Lake Arrowhead Aquatic Event; Mercury Stars Enter

Southern California's finest swimmers and divers are preparing this week for the annual mile-high swimming championships to be held at Lake Arrowhead Sunday afternoon. The meet is attracting leading stars throughout the south and is certain to develop into one of the best mile-high events on record.

Fred Cady, L.A.A.C. swimming instructor, who is in charge of the program has mapped out a dandy card of eight events. Cady's two champion divers, Mickey Riley and Dutch Smith, will appear as will stars from the Hollywood A.C., Southern California A.A.U. champions in the men's division.

The mile-high championship was started in 1922 by J. B. Van Nuys and has since developed into the swimming classic of Southern California.

Riley and Smith, who will feature the men's diving, placed one-two in the senior indoor meet recently at New York and are now in training for the outdoor championships, to be held soon at San Francisco.

Hollywood A.C. stars will provide some great battles in the men's races with Wes Kimball, Austin Clapp, George Harris, Lloyd Varney and other stars entered.

Del Monte Attracts Golfers

MRS. PRESSLER IN EXHIBITION

Faces Glenna Collett Over Cypress Point Course

Frank Stevens, Jack Neville Complete Foursomes

Preparations Completed for National Amateur

DEL MONTE, July 25.—An unusual amount of interest is at present being evidenced in an exhibition golf match which will take place here August 3 and 4 with Glenna Collett and Jack Neville opposing Mrs. Leona Pressler and Franklin C. Stevens, Jr. There have been many locker-room arguments as to the respective abilities of Miss Collett, national women's golf champion, and Mrs. Pressler, who at present holds four major titles—western, California, Southern California and Del Monte women's championships. Therefore, a large gallery is expected to follow this thirty-six-hole event. Cypress Point will be played Saturday, August 3, while Pebble Beach will be the scene of the final eighteen holes, Sunday, August 4. Jack Neville won the California amateur title for the fifth time recently at Pebble Beach when he defeated Stevens, 3 and 1, in an exciting thirty-six-hole final match.

GLENNA COLLETT

Elaborate preparations are being made for the national amateur golf championship at Pebble Beach, September 2-7. Every detail in connection with the national tourney will have been taken care of well in advance of the championship dates, according to Roger D. Lapham of San Francisco, who recently visited Del Monte on an inspection tour. Lapham is burdened with a twofold responsibility, for in addition to being vice-president and executive committeeman of the California Golf Association, he is president of the United States Golf Association. Lapham has appointed all of his committees in charge of the various tournament details and has named Brace Carter, San Francisco, secretary of the California Golf Association, as general chairman of the tournament committee to represent the California Golf Association. This committee has been hard at work for several weeks and arrangements are rapidly approaching a definite conclusion.

It is the hope of those in charge of the Del Monte event to make it the most smoothly handled national amateur tournament ever held in the United States. Their task is complicated by the fact that this is the first time this important competition has ever been held in the West, and also by the fact that Del Monte is 125 miles from the nearest metropolis, San Francisco. This fact presents unusual problems in handling spectators and accommodating galleries, for in spite of the distance from San Francisco, Los Angeles and other California cities, an attendance of between 5000 and 10,000 spectators is anticipated during the semifinals and finals, particularly if Bobby Jones runs true to form.

Every golfer on the Pacific Coast is looking forward to his first glimpse of the immortal Jones. To the western golfer, Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., seems a sort of demigod, almost a myth, and every devotee of the game who can get together the necessary nickels for car fare will be at Pebble Beach to see Jones in the flesh.

Vast preparations are now being made for adequate parking spaces, press accommodations, national radio broadcasting facilities, and a score of other details that are incident to a national championship. According to Lapham, everything will be in readiness at least a fortnight before the great event.

MANDELL, MAGDELINO READY FOR RING GO

Maipo Magdelino and Jackie Mandell will headline Promoter M. T. Shephardson's Ventura Athletic Club card tonight in a ten-round battle. Magdelino is making a good comeback after a long lay-off from ring action.

Five four-round bouts precede the main event. Frankie Dias and Julia Romero, lightweights, are scheduled for the semifinal. Other bouts are as follows: Ray Rodriquez vs. Pat Varner, 126 pounds; Hartley Marcel vs. Floyd Barrows, 183 pounds; Oliver Brockman vs. Clarence Elliott, 150 pounds and Frankie Chaves vs. Joe Salidore, 133 pounds.

SPEEDBOAT BOGIE SETS NEW RECORD

ST. LOUIS, July 25. (AP)—The steamboat Robert E. Lee, once called the "Monarch of the Mississippi," stood vanquished tonight. Its fifty-nine-year-old speed record from New Orleans to St. Louis was beaten today by a modern motor boat, the Bogie, which completed the 1184 miles in 57h. 31m. to clip two hours and forty-three minutes off the Lee's mark.

But it was an endurance test for even the modern craft, a twenty-six-foot boat equipped with a 150-horsepower motor, for it beat the Lee's record only after a strenuous dash over the last fifty miles of the course.

CHAMPION OF NAVY IS KNOCKED COLD

SAN RAFAEL, July 25. (AP)—Charley Miller, San Rafael lightweight, knocked out Jim Lumbardt, all-navy champion of the Philippine Islands, in the fourth round of a six-round bout here tonight.

In the semifinal bout Jim McMaster, San Rafael welterweight stopped Tony Campos, Vallejo, in the second round of a four-round

Overlap Grip Favored by Jones

BY SOL METZGER

What grip do you use? Jones sticks to the overlap. It's sketched above. Sarazen uses the interlock. "Jimmy" Johnston, the palm grip, that is, all eight fingers are on the leather. And all play sterling golf.

The overlapping grip is more in favor, though British amateurs will likely lean to the palm grip, now that Cyril Tolley won the British amateur with it. Styles in golf change as champions come and go.

The main thing in iron play is to employ a grip that will enable you to cock your wrists at the top of the swing as shown in the sketch. You must have the sense of throwing your club head through the ball in this stroke. You cannot gain it unless you cock your wrists. Tomorrow—one cause of failure in iron play.

Cure that hook or slice. Straighten out your drive by writing Sol Metzger, care of the Los Angeles Times, for free leaflet on driving. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Californians Take Matches at Seattle

BY FRANK G. GORRIE

Associated Press Sports Writer

SEATTLE, July 25. (AP)—An invading band of net stars from California captured a lion's share of important matches in the Washington State tennis championships here today.

Led by the dynamic Larry Driscoll of San Francisco, five southerners forged into the quarter-finals of the men's singles, while three feminine aces copped semifinal places.

Driscoll, winner of the Pacific-Northwest singles title at Tacoma last week, easily disposed of Windy Langlie of Seattle, 6-2, 6-2.

Two California men were eliminated, one by a "native son" and the other by Leon De Turenne, Seattle's team captain. Ed Levy of San Francisco won a hard-fought match from Frank Gove of Palo Alto, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2, while De Turenne conquered Harry Plymire of Palo Alto, 6-1, 6-4.

Worth Oswald of Spokane fell today before the brilliant playing of Jerry Bartosh of Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-2.

Jack Tidball, Los Angeles youth, lost a thrilling battle to Mel Dranga of Seattle, 6-8, 6-1, 6-4, while Billy Newkirk defeated Howard Langlie, 9-11, 6-2, 6-1. Both are Seattle boys.

Ray Casey of San Francisco was the other Californian to survive today's play. He disposed of Lloyd Nordstrom, Seattle, 6-4, 6-3.

Dorothy Weisel of Sacramento, Mrs. Golda Myer Gross of San Francisco, Mrs. Jerry Bartosh of Los Angeles and Marie McNab of Vancouver, B. C., won their matches to enter the semifinals. Miss Weisel, Oregon State and Pacific Northwest champion, meets Miss McNab.

Mrs. E. L. Betts of Seattle fell before Miss Weisel, 6-0, 6-1, today, while Mrs. Gross defeated Alberta Deal of Tacoma, 6-1, 6-2; Miss McNab eliminated Bernice Dapotte, Seattle, 9-7, 6-0, and Mrs. Bartosh beat Genevieve Grant of San Francisco, 6-0, 6-2.

Junior Stars Are Royally Entertained

Vane Baker, national Junior Olympic champion in the junior division, is the center of attraction in his home town, Huntington Park. A round of official receptions have been planned for the diminutive youth who startled America with his high score at the national finals in Atlantic City. At noon today Vane with his coach, "Pop" Squires, will be guests at the Huntington Park Kiwanis Club. Monday Baker and Squires will be guests at the Rotary Club. Last Tuesday the Junior Olympic champion was entertained by the Huntington Park Chamber of Commerce.

Robert San Jose, national senior champion, and Jerry Deal, runner-up to Baker, will be guests this noon of the San Pedro Rotary Club. Tomorrow they will be entertained by the Southeast Los Angeles Business Mens' Association.

MOTION-PICTURE NET TOURNEY OPENS SOON

The fourth annual motion-picture tennis tournament will be held August 3, 4, 10 and 11 on the courts of the Beverly Hills Hotel, under the management of Harvey Snodgrass.

The events will be men's singles and doubles and mixed doubles. There will also be women's singles if sufficient entries are received. Snodgrass expects from 100 to 150 entries in the tournament, which was practically monopolized last year by Salvini Baiano, Jr., former high school star who is now a studio violinist. Baiano carried off silverware in singles, doubles and mixed doubles.

Wesson Will Depart for Island Tour

Al Wesson, talented purveyor of Trojan sports publicity, leaves tomorrow on the City of Honolulu, to visit his father in the Hawaiian Islands. Wesson plans to be away for about a month. The elder Mr. Wesson is head of a boys' school in the islands, and will be one of the leaders in the welcoming of Los Angeles' Junior Olympic champions when the latter journey to Honolulu next month. Forrest (Bud) Lichty, well-known Trojan minor sports star, is getting into shape for next season, working on the City of Honolulu.

UPLIFTERS READY FOR HOLLYWOOD

Will Rogers to Lead Four Against Movie City Squad in Sunday Game

Will Rogers, humorist and polo player, will devote Sunday afternoon in the latter role when he leads the Uplifters Blue polo ists into action against the Hollywod four, captained by Owyn (Big Boy) Williams. The tilt will be the first of a two-game series between the two squads. Uplifters officials are eager to establish low goal polo on the map on the summer sports program. Sunday's game and the one next week are the result.

The Hollywood four will be making their first appearance on the Uplifters field. Williams will have Joe Flores, John Brandies and Winslow Felix as his team-mates.

Rogers will have Jim Minnick, his old-time cowboy pal, riding with him Sunday. Minnick and Rogers rode the range many years ago. Georges Musaphia and Lyell Puckett complete the Uplifters team.

Puckett is a local product. Lyell has been playing consistent polo all summer and the experts look for him to put up a good game Sunday.

The ball will be tossed in at 2:30 p.m.

Hard Tack is Race Winner

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—Hard Tack, a big 3-year-old chestnut son of Man O'War, cost the Wheatley stable $35,000 as a yearling but he gave every indication of being worth the amount as he graduated from the maiden ranks today in winning the Knickerbocker handicap at Empire City.

Like all of the get of his illustrious daddy, he has been slow to round into form. He started twice as a juvenile, finishing ninth his first time out and sixth the second. Ten days ago he made his 1929 debut at Empire and ran third in his first public appearance at a mile and seventy yards. Three days later he ran second to the flashy Star and Bars over the same distance and then today advanced another notch to win his initial race at a mile and one-sixteenth.

Hard Tack drew away from Soul of Honor to win by four lengths. Chatford was third. Hard Tack stepped the distance in 1:46 3-5 to put $4050 in his owner's pocket.

Big Six

By the Associated Press: Half of the big six was kept idle by weather yesterday, but the other half did enough hitting for the full membership. Jimmy Foxx, the leader, registered a two-point gain by hitting two home runs in three times at bat. He also scored four runs. Rogers Hornsby got three out of five to lift his batting mark three points to .385, while Mel Ott went up to .326, with two out of four. A semiofficial revision in the figures removed one time at bat from Ruth's figures, adding two points to his average. The standings:

HOLLYWOOD SWIMMERS IN ARROWHEAD MEET

Five swimmers under the leadership of Coach Clyde Swendsen will make up the Hollywood Athletic Club delegation which will head for Lake Arrowhead tomorrow afternoon to participate in the mile-high championships Sunday.

Those who will make the trip are George Harris, Weston Kimball, Frank (Red) Walton, Lloyd Varney and Austin Clapp, youthful Olympic star.

In first-class condition and with a long list of triumphs behind them, the H.A.C. natators will be favored in all the events in which they are entered. Walton will be a heavy choice to cop the back stroke, Kimball will be the free-style favorite and Varney will be the pick in the breast stroke.

TIED FOR FIFTH

Three Coast League players were tied for fifth place in the batting averages after Wednesday's games. "Buzz" Arlett of Oakland, Cleo Carlyle and Bill Rumler of Hollywood were all hitting .378.

NEW SCHEDULE FOR CATALINA

Island Resort to Get Better Year-Round Service

Two Sailings Each Way Daily Ordered by Owner

Present Five-Trip Program Continues in Effect

BY WAYNE R. CAVE

A service of two ships a day each way between Wilmington and Catalina Island every day in the year was ordered by William Wrigley, Jr., just before he departed for Chicago, it was announced yesterday by David P. Fleming, secretary-treasurer of the Wilmington Transportation Company. Heretofore the island has been served in the fall, winter and spring by only one sailing each way.

The new policy does not interfere with the extra sailings, giving five ships each way to and from the islands this summer, a schedule also ordered by the gum king during his recent visit to Avalon. The five round sailings daily, however, are just the summer months, and as long as the patronage justifies them.

So far this summer the five ships have been comfortably filled and there were occasions when an additional sailing to handle the crowds, which have broken all records by scores of thousands, appeared imminent.

"Catalina has been growing in popularity as a winter resort, as well as a summer attraction," Mr. Fleming explained, "and Mr. Wrigley is doubling the winter service to stimulate such travel, as well as to give the islanders greater convenience in coming and going."

CHAMBER EXCURSION TO HAWAII OUT TODAY

The fourteenth excursion of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to Hawaii will sail for Honolulu tomorrow noon on the Lasso liner City of Honolulu. The party will comprise more than 150 travelers headed by Shannon Crandall, president of the chamber, and will be in charge of Charles Bayer, field secretary. Two hundred fifty other passengers also will sail on the ship. The liner will remain nine days at the islands to afford the excursionists more time to visit the islands' charms, returning here August 17, setting the schedule back one day.

The new British steamer Desbank from Belfast and New York made her debut here yesterday, as the first Bank Line ship to call for cargo. She is one of eight fast steamers and motorships which the line will send here in a new globe-girdling service westbound.

Heretofore the line has sent ships here intermittently and only for bunkers. They were older vessels also, all of which are being replaced by faster, new freighters making the globe-circuit in five months instead of six.

The Desbank, in addition to bunkering, is taking on 7000 barrels of fuel oil in her deep tanks at Western Oil and Refining Company station for delivery in the Orient. Capt. Walter Gay, coast manager for the line at San Francisco, was down yesterday to attend the inauguration of the service. John Marshal represents the line here.

Eighteen days and nineteen hours from Melbourne, Australia, to Los Angeles, was the record set by the Swedish motor liner Parrakoola, in yesterday for the Trans-Atlantic Line, General Steamship Corporation, agents. The ship averaged 15.52 knots despite headwinds, adverse currents and a choppy sea all the way, according to Capt. Hjalmar Carlson, master and commodore of the Trans-Atlantic fleet. The motorship bunkered and sailed north after disembarking nine passengers. Among the travelers were Henry Woolfe, leading Australian stock raiser and packer, and Mrs. Woolfe, to pass three months in America, and a theatrical troupe headed by Jules Garrison, former master of ceremonies for Sid Grauman, which has been touring Australia since February. The liner will return August 20 to embark a dozen travelers for Australia and around the world.

Small boats which cut across the bows or sterns of moving vessels in Los Angeles Harbor are a menace to navigation and will be dealt with severely if the practice is not discontinued immediately, according to a warning served yesterday by John K. Bulger, supervising inspector for the United States Steamboat Inspection service. Mr. Bulger is here from San Francisco relieving Capt. S. A. Kennedy and Joseph Moody, inspectors of hulls and boilers, while the two are on vacation. The supervising inspector is rounding out thirty-nine years of service with the Federal government and appears fit for as many more.

Bids for repairs to the lumber steamer Anne Hamify are to be opened at San Francisco at 9 a.m. today by David C. Young, representing the United States Salvage Association. The vessel went ashore at Point Honda the 2nd inst., and later towed here, where she was lifted on drydock at Los Angeles shipyards, revealing damages expected to approach $40,000.

CORONER'S JURY ACTS IN TRAGEDY

Sallino Inquest Verdict, However, Fails to Clear Mystery in Stabbing

Leaving the mystery of Frank Sallino's assassination unsolved, a Coroner's jury yesterday returned a bare verdict that he "died of stab wounds inflicted by a person or persons unknown." Sallino, asserted bootlegger, succumbed Wednesday in General Hospital where he was taken the preceding night in a dying condition, suffering with stab wounds in the abdomen. He had been called away from a dinner party at 1341 State street just prior to the fatal attack.

Detectives working on the case assert there is a connection between the stabbing of Sallino and the shooting of Frank Carnigella, who was wounded the same night and also taken to General Hospital. Carnigella was a witness at the trial of three racketeers for the murder of August Palombo.

New developments were promised by the homicide squad detectives yesterday as a result of the arrest of Dominic Sica, who, the police say, is the driver who called for Sallino prior to the stabbing and who took Carnigella to the hospital.

UPBRAIDED WIFE FREED

Woman Says Husband Complained About Her Housekeeping Methods

Mrs. Rachael Brown appeared before Superior Judge O'Donnell yesterday asking for a divorce from William Brown whom she accused of going out horseback riding with other women.

Mrs. Brown also asserted her husband frequently upbraided her for her style of housekeeping, telling her that if she didn't do better, according to his idea of the way a house should be kept, he would go out and find himself another woman.

After hearing the wife's testimony Judge O'Donnell granted her a decree.

What a Splendid way to start the day!

Up on the dot. Dressed in a jiffy. Down to your beaming breakfast of "something good"—really good—Heinz Rice Flakes.

Crispy, crunchy flakes of nut-like flavor. Nestling in a bowl of cream and sugar. In goes your spoon. Up comes that first luscious mouthful to greet your eager appetite.

Who wouldn't be happy?

Especially so since the delight of these breakfasts is followed by the delight of doing things with a new freshness of vigor and a swirl of energy.

For Heinz Rice Flakes are good to eat as well as good to taste!

By a new, patented, Heinz process, these fairy-like flakes contain a pure, edible cellulose which comes from the natural roughage element of the rice itself. And this provides the health-giving qualities of a gentle, natural laxative.

What fun it is to be healthy and to keep healthy in this happy, natural way!

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Formal announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. George Fullerton of Orange Grove avenue, Pasadena of the engagement of their daughter Helen to Shannon Crandall, Jr. The news was told to a small coterie of intimate friends at a beautifully appointed luncheon with which Miss Frances Crandall, sister of the bridegroom-elect, entertained yesterday afternoon at the California Club.

Miss Fullerton was graduated from the Finch School in New York City and for two years after being graduated studied art abroad. Young Crandall is a member of the California Club, Midwick Country Club and a prominent member of The Bachelors. He attended Stanford University and is affiliated with Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity. The wedding is to be an event of the latter part of September.

Felicitations

Congratulations are being extended Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Justus Grover (Helen Marjorie Broomfield) upon the arrival recently at Monte Sano Hospital, Glendale, of a daughter. Mrs. Grover is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Broomfield of 1006 North Roxbury Drive, Beverly Hills, and this is the first grandchild, and the second girl to be born in the Grover family in a century. She is to be called Susan Carolyn Grover, after her two grandmothers.

Visiting Here

Among the attractive visitors to the Southland are Miss Margaret De Vaux and Miss Evelyn Walker of Fresno, who are house guests at the home of Misses Dorothy and Helen Wilson, 1675 Buckingham Road, for several weeks.

Many lovely affairs are being planned in honor of the visitors, the Misses Wilson entertaining with an evening of bridge at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wilson.

Miss De Vaux is planning to enter Mills College in the fall, while Miss Walker will matriculate at the Fresno College and both the Misses Wilson are entering University of California at Los Angeles at the fall semester.

For Bride-elect

Miss Helen Squires of the University of Southern California, whose wedding with Robert A. Farries will be an event of August 4, at the Little Church of the Flowers, was honored with a miscellaneous shower last Saturday, given by Miss Mildred Arrasmith at her home, 641 North New Hampshire avenue.

The guests included Mmes. Josephine Squires, A. S. Farries, Donald Brannan, Stephenson Barnes, Charles Geron, Pauline Miller, Jess Hess, Jack Parsons, and Misses Mae Patmore, Sue Lampert, Dorothy Bowles, Alice Joy Martin, Gladys Taylor, Genevieve Squires, Jean Maschio, Fannie Sue Peters, Gwendolyn Tucker and Wilma Allen.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Daughter of Dean at U.S.C. Honored

[Ray Huff studios]
Miss Bernice Palmer

AMONG the attractive affairs given in honor of one of the season's brides-elect was the luncheon and lingerie shower with which Miss Bernice Palmer entertained yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Leonarda Fisher, daughter of Dean and Mrs. John Fisher of University of Southern California, whose engagement to Alan Kemp Lang of Cincinnati was announced recently.

Mr. Lang was graduated from the University of Denver and studied at Massachusetts Tech and is associated with the University of Cincinnati. Miss Palmer was assisted by Mrs. W. A. Greenwald and Mrs. E. R. Potter, sixty guests having been bidden. Rose and ivory color motif was used in flowers and appointments.

Here for Summer

Mrs. N. V. Taylor, Mrs. Tilford Jones and small daughter Audrey Louise Jones, all of Houston, Tex., are at the Miramar in Santa Monica, planning to remain for the remainder of the summer and are enjoying visiting with many friends here.

Goldman-Tannenbaum

The ballroom of the Mary Louise was the setting for a lovely summer wedding Sunday evening, when Miss Lilyan Goldman, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Goldman, became the bride of H. J. Tannenbaum, son of Jacob Tannenbaum, with Rabbi Henry I. Radlin officiating, in the presence of 200 guests. Ivory satin and chiffon were chosen by the bride, the French imported gown fashioned with tight-fitting bodice and bouffant skirt of many ruffles, self-trimmed with handmade roses. The veil of Princess lace and tulle was arranged in cap effect with crown of seed pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a shower of orchids, gardenias and lilies of the valley and was given in marriage by her father.

Flesh pink satin with lace and net flounces was used in the frock of Miss Olga Goldman, maid of honor, and bouquet of tea roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaids, in chiffon frocks of pastel shades, and carrying arm bouquets of peach-colored sweet peas included the Misses Mollie Tannenbaum, Rose Winer, Elizabeth, and Evelyn Rosenberg. Irwin M. Desser was best man and the ushers were David Miller, Edward Stack, Samuel Franklin and Victor Hurwitz. Miss Clare Liberty sang preceding the ceremony.

The ballroom was beautifully decorated, the aisle leading to the altar being outlined with tall baskets of delicate-hued gladioli, bridal wreath and ferns, and tied with white tulle ribbon, while the altar was banked with palms, ferns and a profusion of white blossoms, with cathedral candelabra and lighted tapers arranged on either side.

Following a reception, Mr. and Mrs. Tannenbaum left by motor for a honeymoon in the north. Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Lee Lasky of Seattle, Mrs. H. Gersh of San Francisco, Mrs. H. Joelson and Mrs. N. Lazur of New York, Mrs. L. Goodman and Mrs. C. T. Finklestein of Montreal, and A. Morantz of Calgary.

Interesting Dinners

A number of interesting dinner parties were given last Saturday evening at the Sea Breeze Club, Santa Monica, among the hosts being Henri Didot, French Consul, who had as honor guest Pierre Southier, Jean Millet and Raymond Guyot, while Judge and Mrs. Sproul entertained as honor guests Judge and Mrs. Fleming, and Mischa Terr was guest of honor of Illya Bronson.

Ninety-first Birthday Anniversary

In celebration of the ninety-first birthday anniversary of Maj. S. H. M. Byers, noted poet and writer, Mrs. J. T. Trenery entertained members of Maj. Byers's family with a delightful luncheon party at the Mary Louise Tuesday afternoon. Those enjoying the occasion were Miss Margaret Thompson, Mrs. David Lyons, Miss Vivian Lyons, Miss Mary Swift Trenery, Mr. J. T. Trenery, the honor guest and the hostess.

To Wed in the North

The wedding of Miss Josephine Kennedy and Paul Thomas Young will take place tomorrow at 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Johnson, 698 Colusa avenue, Berkeley. Mrs. Johnson is a sister of the bride and Mr. Johnson has been a business man in Berkeley for the past twenty-five years.

The wedding will be a quiet home affair, with only relatives present. The bride will wear a tea rose chiffon gown, her only ornament being a diamond brooch which is her gift from the bridegroom. Her traveling costume is of wine-colored velvet. Mrs. Lucy Vance Seeburt of San Francisco, formerly a supervisor of music in the Oakland public schools, will sing Kreisler's "Old Refrain," using words written for the occasion by Mrs. William S. Young, mother of the bridegroom. His brother, Walter S. Young of Los Angeles, will play several selections on the piano. The home will be decorated throughout with pale pink roses, gladioli, foxgloves and maidenhair fern.

The bride was born in San Francisco and grew up in Wheaton, Ill. She was graduated from Wheaton College and at the University of Illinois medical college, and was engaged in medical missionary work in China for three years. For the past three years she has been on the staff of the public school health department of Los Angeles, and for a short time before that in the same work in the Berkeley schools, and on the staff of the Berkeley health center. Recently she has been teaching in the department of physiology at the University of Illinois, taking there the degree of master of science.

Dr. Paul Thomas Young is associate professor of psychology at the State University of Illinois. He was born in Los Angeles and was graduated from Occidental College. He passed two years in graduate study at Princeton University and two years at Cornell, where he took the Ph.D. degree in psychology. He taught in Minnesota State University for two years before going to the University of Illinois. He passed the year 1927 in Berlin as national research fellow in the biological sciences. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi, the American Psychological Association and other academic organizations, and is author of numerous papers upon psychological topics published in the technical journals. His father, Rev. Dr. William Stewart Young of Los Angeles, will perform the ceremony.

PLAYGROUNDS CIRCUS TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

All the regular circus characters, including the animals, clowns, the fat lady and strong man, will be present tonight when the children of Evergreen and Whittier municipal playgrounds put on a "circus" at the former play area on East Fourth street, J. C. Henderson, the supervisor of municipal playground activities, announced today. Tonight's performance is part of a series of "circuses" which are being held at municipal playgrounds throughout the city this summer. After tonight's performance the "circus" will pack up and move to Wall-street playground where the children of that play area will put on their own show tomorrow night.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

author of "The Food You're Nibbling"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him care of the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, July 28th:

Sunday

Breakfast — Coddled egg, small piece of ham, waffle.

Lunch — Fresh berries with milk or cream (no sugar.)

Dinner — Baked chicken, Melba toast dressing, asparagus, head lettuce and celery, ice cream (small portion.)

Monday

Breakfast — Cottage cheese, Melba toast, sliced pineapple.

Lunch — Grapes as desired.

Dinner — Boiled fresh tongue, vegetables en casserole, celery, Jello or Jell-well with cream.

Tuesday

Breakfast — French omelet, toasted Triscuit, stewed prunes.

Lunch — Watermelon as desired.

Dinner — Salisbury steak, cooked spinach, McCoy salad, baked pears.

Wednesday

Breakfast — Whole-wheat raisin muffins, crisp bacon.

Lunch — Ice cream with berries.

Dinner — Leg of mutton, cooked string beans, salad of grated raw carrots on lettuce, pineapple whip.

Thursday

Breakfast — Poached egg on Melba toast, stewed apricots.

Lunch — Ripe plums as desired.

Dinner — Roast pork, cooked spinach, squash, celery and ripe olives, baked apple.

Friday

Breakfast — Retoasted breakfast food with milk or cream (no sugar.)

Lunch — Melon as desired.

Dinner — Baked sea bass, cooked string beans, egg plant, salad of sliced tomatoes, plain Jello.

Saturday

Breakfast — French omelet, Melba toast, baked apple.

Lunch — Ice cream with a fresh acid fruit.

Dinner — Stuffed and rolled round steak, head lettuce, prune whip.

"Vegetables en casserole: One bunch of small carrots, one bunch of small turnips, one cupful of green peas, one cupful of chopped celery, small head of cauliflower broken into small pieces.

Cut turnips and carrots as desired and mix with the other vegetables and fill casserole. Add a small amount of water, cover and bake thirty minutes. This makes a nice, thick vegetable "stew," very savory and with a sustaining, wholesome odor. Add a generous lump of butter to each portion served hot from the casserole.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Adhesions and Constipation

Question: B. J. H. writes: "I would like to know what the symptoms of adhesions are. Was operated on for ruptured appendix about a year ago and suffered no ill effects until a couple of weeks ago. Have had continual headache, as if from stomach, usually constipated, and pains in back that lead up to back of head."

Answer: Adhesions binding the intestines together are a common cause of constipation. The only way you can be sure whether or not you have adhesions is to have an X-ray examination made. Adhesions may produce symptoms in almost any part of the body if they are of sufficient strength to interfere with the functional activity of the stomach, intestines, or other abdominal organs.

No Starch for Diabetics

Q.: H. O. asks: "Will you please tell me if the entire wheat bread is starchy, and if it is good for diabetics instead of gluten bread?"

A.: Entire wheat bread or plain white bread has a preponderance of starch over all food elements. Gluten bread has slightly less starch, but the diabetic should not use bread of any kind, as he can get along very nicely if no starches are used, but may be forced to take insulin if he insists on using any form of carbohydrates.

Corners of Mouth Sore

Q.: G. H. asks: "Will you kindly tell me what causes the corners of the mouth to get sore? Also the remedy for this disagreeable trouble?"

A.: Soreness in the corners of the mouth may be caused from an irritated stomach or from abscessed teeth. The saliva becomes poisonous or irritating and during deep runs out of the corners of the mouth and causes the burning. Keep your teeth clean and avoid stomach irritation by regulating your diet so as not to have stomach hyperacidity.

He Flees Wife and Wedded Life

Bertis R. Chamberlain declared he was tired of married life and wanted to get away from it as far as he could so he obtained a position with the Dollar Steamship Lines and got himself stationed in Shanghai, according to his wife, Mrs. Lillian I. Chamberlain, who appeared before Superior Judge Doty yesterday asking for a divorce. The decree was granted.

The couple were married at Los Angeles on March 3, 1926, and separated on May 13, 1927.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded in this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers helps on planning and feeding the child from 4 weeks to 6 years, personal care and diet for the nursing mother, convalescence, clothes for the new baby, sleeping, washing, bathing, illnesses, nursemaid, personal hints, bad habits, training to cleanly habits, periods of burning, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, slaves and tots and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular question is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

WISE CHOICE OF NURSERY FURNITURE WITH AN EYE TO THE FUTURE

A leaflet on "Necessary Furnishings for the Nursery" is available for the usual self-addressed, stamped envelope inclosed with your request and sent to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of the Your Baby and Mine department of The Times.

The selection of the nursery furniture is as fascinating a venture as the preparation of the layette and with more far-reaching consequences. If we make a mistake in our choice of too long clothes, or too many small woolens, baby obligingly outgrows these mistakes in a few short months—but the faulty choice of the wrong type of bed or too tiny a bassinet or colors that we dislike will face us for many months to come.

Furniture should be washable and simple in line. Whether the crib is wood or iron, or the bassinet willow or splint, is of small consequence providing a sponge and warm water can be used to return it to its pristine freshness without much trouble. We consider frills and furbelows on baby's bassinet one of the pitfalls to be avoided. Our dislike is entirely understandable. We once saw a sight which we shall not soon forget. It was a dainty bassinet covered with blue silk and delicate point de sprit and with smashing pink satin bows at the handles. When removed for cleaning the horrified young mother discovered in each delicate fold—shall I say it right out in company!—long lines of bedbugs! The young housewife, never having seen one in her life, was unprepared for the idea that her apartment could possibly harbor such occupants, with the result that baby slumbered in their company until the fortunate day when his bedtime frills were removed. Of course, that couldn't happen often, but that it could happen and go so long unsuspected has forever shattered my appreciation for decorated bassinets. I am faithful to plain, enameled beds.

In the present-day modernistic nurseries, every color of the rainbow runs riot. No more white and glistening hospital-like interiors to dazzle and blind baby. Soft blues, yellows, lavenders and greens are used in every conceivable combination.

The willow costumer fits into small rooms and will be useful for years. For even more permanent use, a chiffonier is excellent or the ideal type of container with drawers on one side and a closet-like arrangement on the other.

If cribs are chosen, the rods must be close together so that by no means can baby's head be thrust between them. The sides should be high so that he cannot climb or fall over them. The bed should be substantial with a view to years of hard use.

The best floor covering in my estimation is a painted or oiled floor with a large rug, or an all-over carpet. Small rugs are dainty and easily cleaned, but they are precarious footing for mother or nurse and home for baby on an icy sidewalk. One of these things which do not happen often, but have been known to happen. Other suggestions will be answered in this column. Write us your problems.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

PEANUT MUFFINS

Two cupfuls of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, half a teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth of a cupful of peanut butter, two tablespoonfuls of shortening, one cupful of milk, sift the flour, measure, and sift again with the baking powder, sugar and salt, cream the shortening with peanut butter and add to the dry ingredients, add the milk, beat well, place in oiled muffin tins, and bake in a hot oven for about twenty minutes.

CASSEROLE OF RICE AND MEAT

One cupful of cooked rice, two cupfuls of cold cooked meat, a seasoning of salt, paprika, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of celery salt, one small onion, chopped fine, one egg, two tablespoonfuls of cracker crumbs, one cupful of hot water or stock, one-half a teaspoonful of poultry seasoning, chop the meat fine, add all of the seasonings, a chopped onion, beaten egg, cracker crumbs and stock, line the bottom and sides of a well-oiled mold or small bread tin one-half an inch thick with the cooked rice, place the meat mixture in the center, cover the top with a layer of rice, place the mold in a tin of hot water, cover with an oiled paper and bake for forty-five minutes, serve with an onion or tomato sauce.

JELLIED TOMATO SALAD

One cupful of tomato soup, one cupful of bouillon, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, one teaspoonful of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one and a half tablespoonfuls of gelatine, two tablespoonfuls of cold water, one-half a pound of creamed cheese, two tablespoonfuls of cream, heat the tomato, and bouillon together, add the seasonings, and the gelatine, which has been softened in cold water, pour half of the mixture into individual molds, then add a layer of the cream cheese, that has been worked to a paste with the cream, carefully pour over the rest of the tomato aspic, allow to become firm, unmold on a nest of lettuce leaves, and serve with mayonnaise.

PINEAPPLE DATE CREAM

Soak two tablespoonfuls of gelatine in half a cupful of water, add one-half a cupful of hot pineapple juice and allow to cool, take two cupfuls of whipped cream and when the gelatine begins to thicken fold it into the whipped cream, add one-half a cupful of cocoanut, three or four slices of pineapple that has been cut in small pieces, and one cupful of dates cut in small pieces, place in sherbet glasses, allow to chill, garnish with slices of pineapple and dates stuffed with a blanched almond.

DEATH INQUIRY TO BE MADE

Circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Jennie Peterson, 23 years of age, of 918 South Bread street, Los Angeles, will be investigated by the county grand jury today, Percy Hammon, deputy District Attorney in charge of grand jury matters, announced last night.

The announcement was made shortly after a Coroner's jury conducting an inquest in Azusa returned a verdict holding Dr. G. E. Darrow, Azusa physician, responsible for the woman's death because of an asserted illegal operation.

Mrs. Peterson, according to Sheriff's office investigators, died Tuesday morning in Dr. Darrow's office while on the operating table. An inhalator squad was summoned immediately in an attempt to revive her but they did not succeed.

Later in the day, Dr. Darrow and Harry Smith, 20, who is asserted to have paid for the operation, were taken into custody for questioning.

by the defense, which contended that previously he signed a statement at Hollenbeck Heights police station declaring that Sierra was shot by Roberto (Shorty) Ocana. This statement, the youth testified, was made under duress to Detective Lieutenant Romero.

Romero, who was present at the trial on Wednesday, left for Big Bear Lake early yesterday. Judge Frederickson was informed. The officer, accused by Garcia, recently was acquitted in Municipal Court on charges of beating Axel Hayrinen, cement contractor, following an arrest.

IMPROVEMENT PLEA MADE

County Road Commissioner Jones yesterday asked the Council for permission to initiate proceedings for the widening, extending and improving of Vermont avenue from Ocean street to Anaheim street, and Amaranth avenue from Weston to Vermont avenues. The request was referred to the City Engineer and Public Works Committee.

Sheriffs' Relief Association Will Have Barbecue

The Sheriffs' Relief Association of Los Angeles county will hold its sixth annual barbecue, the entire proceeds of which will be credited to the relief fund for the benefit of sick and disabled peace officers of Los Angeles county, Sunday at Rose Hill Park, Huntington Drive and Monterey Road.

One of the outstanding features of the affair will be the taking of motion-pictures of all those wishing to be photographed, under the supervision and direction of Harry Mann. Bessie Love, Monte Blue, Gus Edwards, John Mack Brown, James Hall, Harold Lloyd and William Haynes have all promised to be present.

VERDICT FOR J. W. ALFORD DISALLOWED

Promoter on Trial for Mail Fraud Must Put on Defense Witnesses

A motion by the defense for a directed verdict of acquittal in the trial of John W. Alford, Los Angeles promoter, charged with misuse of the mails in an asserted land-selling scheme, yesterday was denied by United States District Judge Sawtelle, before whom the trial is being conducted.

The motion followed the closing of the government's case, the defense setting forth that certain charges against the promoter had not been substantiated.

Several defense witnesses, including a number of former salesmen in Alford's employ, testified during the afternoon. Prosecution of the case is being handled by Asst. U. S. Atty. Armstrong. It is expected the matter will be given to the jury early next week.

LIGHTING MAPS DRAWN

The street-lighting engineer yesterday filed with the Council the assessment district map for the installation of lighting appliances in Echo Park avenue between Sunset Boulevard and Temple street.

COURT DECIDES GUILT OF SIKES

Reversal Ordered Only on Burglary Charge

Appeal Echoes Asserted Tea Party Robbery

Witness at Preliminary Later Found Dead

Echoes of the famous tea-party robbery, in which a group of Los Angeles society women were robbed by bandits of their money and jewelry, were heard in the District Court of Appeal yesterday, when an appeal from conviction was denied. Evan B. Seitz, alias Bill Sikes, one of the men tried in Superior Court as a result of the asserted conspiracy.

Seitz was convicted, with Mrs. Ollie Lowe, society matron, of participating in the $35,000 hold-up on April 12, 1927, during the course of a women's party at which Mrs. Lowe played hostess. She later was accused of giving the party for the purpose of having her guests robbed of their money and jewelry.

Seitz was found guilty on three charges of robbery, two counts of attempt to commit robbery and one count of burglary. The higher court reversed the burglary conviction only and upheld the judgment of conviction on the other counts.

Phil Rosen, Spring-street gambler, whose bullet-riddled body later was found in the Palos Verdes hills, testified at Seitz's preliminary hearing that Seitz had approached him with a proposition to go in for "something safe" at a tea party where there were to be some women who would wear "a lot of diamonds —no holler to it, everything covered by insurance and everything fixed." Rosen's sudden death occurred before he could testify at Seitz's trial in Superior Court.

BANK WOMEN WILL MEET IN BAY CITY

Western Group Planning Elaborate Entertainment for Eastern Visitors

The seventh annual national convention of the Association of Bank Women will be held in conjunction with the convention of the American Bankers' Association from September 30 to October 3, in San Francisco, according to announcement here yesterday by Miss Grace S. Stoermer, director of the women's banking department of the Bank of Italy and vice-president of the national organization.

Miss Stoermer, a regional vice-president of the woman's association during the last five years, was in charge of welcoming arrangements for the nation's women bankers when the association met in national convention in Los Angeles three years ago. She will take an active part in arranging the national convention program at San Francisco this year.

Miss Mina M. Bruere, assistant secretary of the Central Union Trust Company of New York, is president of the national association; Miss Agnes M. Kenny, manager, women's department of the First Wisconsin National Bank of Milwaukee, is vice-president; Miss Louella H. Ensworth, manager, women's department, the Northern Trust Company, Chicago, is treasurer, and Mrs. Cecilia H. Lawson, director, service department, the Manhattan Savings Institution, New York, is recording secretary.

The members of the western division are anticipating a large delegation from the East and elaborate plans are being made for their entertainment.

Confusion Over Old Symphony Group Clarified

Mrs. Dean Mason, president of the original Los Angeles Symphony, announced yesterday that a misunderstanding has arisen in connection with published accounts concerning the reorganization of the group under the name Symphony of Los Angeles, and that the Los Angeles Symphony has its name protected by copyright, making it impossible for any other organization to infringe on it.

The announcement followed accounts of the work of Mme. Norma Lutge, impresario, who is sponsoring a group of seventy musicians who have been rehearsing for two months and expect to open a concert season shortly.

Mrs. Mason said the Los Angeles Symphony, although not active in concert work at present, still exists as an organization.

Fishing Launch May Not Run to Gambling Ship

Revocation of the concession if any passengers are transferred to gambling ships is one of the conditions specified by the Playground and Recreation Commission in granting a concession yesterday to F. W. De Long to operate fishing launches from the municipal pier at Cabrillo Beach to and from Horseshoe Banks.

The concession is only for ninety days and in payment for it De Long must pay to the commission 10 per cent of his gross receipts. He must also conform to a lengthy set of regulations in addition to the one mentioned.

AMARANTH CARD PARTY

Ramona Court, No. 32, Order of Amaranth, will have a card party this evening in the green room of the Masonic Temple, Pico and Figueroa streets. Bridge and Five Hundred will be played. There will be prizes and refreshments. All members of the order and their friends are invited.

WIFE OF SPECIALTY CONCERN HEAD BURIED

Mrs. Rose Hazel Alcock, wife of L. W. Alcock, manager of the Motor Tool Specialty Company, was laid to rest at Forest Lawn Memorial Park yesterday. Mass was said at 9 a.m. at St. Gregory's Church. Mrs. Alcock died Monday. She was 27 years of age and a native of Southern California. Besides her husband, she leaves a son, Lyral Alcock, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lechler of Piru, four brothers and four sisters.

Salvation Army to Honor Bell

Divisional headquarters of the Salvation Army at 922 West Ninth street will be the scene next Monday, beginning at 7:30 p.m., of a welcome home meeting in honor of the return to Los Angeles of Brigadier James Bell, Southern California divisional commander, from a three months' visit to his home in Scotland.

The affair is being arranged by Lieut.-Col. John D. Sharp.

NEW KIWANIS CLUB WILL BE ORGANIZED

A new Kiwanis club, the 128th in the California-Nevada district, will be organized next Monday evening at the Royal Palms Club, San Pedro, it was announced yesterday by E. L. Lucas, field representative of Kiwanis International. The club is being sponsored by the Inglewood Kiwanis. Delegations from all clubs in the district, including Tom Elson, lieutenant-governor of Division No. 1, will attend the chartering.

Cool as an OCEAN breeze

Defeat these warm days with a nice crisp bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes and fruit for breakfast. Kellogg's furnish energy without "heating" the body. They are so easy to digest they help you keep cool all day long!

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are delicious for lunch and dinner too. So crisp and refreshing. Serve with cool milk or cream. Give them to the children for supper.

Insist on Kellogg's—the original Corn Flakes. Always oven-fresh. Always extra crisp.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY 1403

The Story of the World War 173—The Supreme War Council

by J. CARROLL MASH

FROM THE BEGINNING OF THE WORLD WAR THE ARMIES OF THE ALLIED NATIONS HAD BEEN OPERATING AS INDEPENDENT COMMANDS, EACH CHIEFLY CONCERNED WITH THE SECTOR IT OCCUPIED.

THE VARIOUS GENERAL STAFFS WERE IN CONSTANT COMMUNICATION, BUT THERE WAS NO COMPLETE HARMONY OF ACTION.

THE CENTRAL POWERS, HOLDING A SHORTER, INNER LINE, COULD MORE READILY RUSH THEIR RESERVES TO ANY THREATENED POINT.

THE ITALIAN DISASTER AT CAPORETTO (OCTOBER, 1917), SHOWED THE NEED OF AN INTER-ALLIED HIGH COMMAND.

NOVEMBER 7, 1917, AN ALLIED MILITARY CONFERENCE AT RAPALLO, ITALY, RESULTED IN THE CREATION OF A SUPREME WAR COUNCIL FOR THE PURPOSE OF SECURING CONCERTED ACTION AMONG THE ALLIED ARMIES. THIS WAS THE FIRST STEP TOWARD A UNIFIED COMMAND.

EACH ALLIED NATION ON THE WESTERN FRONT SENT ITS PRIME MINISTER, ANOTHER MEMBER OF ITS GOVERNMENT AND A GENERAL TO THE COUNCIL. GENERAL TASKER BLISS, WHO IN SEPTEMBER, 1917, HAD SUCCEEDED GENERAL HUGH SCOTT AS CHIEF OF STAFF OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY, REPRESENTED AMERICA IN THE COUNCIL.

THE COUNCIL, HELD ITS FIRST MEETING AT VERSAILLES IN DECEMBER OF 1917. MARSHAL FOCH PROPOSED THAT EACH OF THE ALLIED NATIONS TROOPS TO A CENTRAL RESERVE FORCE WHICH COULD BE RUSHED TO ANY PART OF THE FRONT IN CASE OF AN EMERGENCY, AS AT CAPORETTO.

O. S. LAIR RITES TO BE TOMORROW

Realty Man Had Been Prominent in Various Southland Activities

Funeral services for Owen Stanley Lair, 53 years of age, secretary-treasurer of the W. Ross Campbell Company and a prominent figure in Los Angeles real estate circles, who died in Monrovia Wednesday morning, will be conducted tomorrow afternoon in the chapel of the Mountain View Cemetery, Pasadena. Dr. Merle Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Pasadena, will be in charge of the services.

Mr. Lair became associated with the Campbell company in 1918, serving as manager of that organization's property management division. He later was made sales director and finally secretary-treasurer and elected to the directorate. Mr. Lair also was treasurer of the Mortgage Bond Company. He was a member of the Los Angeles Realty Board, the California Real Estate Association and the National Association of Real Estate Boards, and served on many committees and held high offices in these organizations.

Mr. Lair was for many years a member of the Jonathan Club, a Thirty-second Degree Mason, a member of the First Methodist Church of Pasadena and president of the Southern California Chapter, Alumni of the University of Tennessee, from which he was graduated in electrical engineering. For seventeen years Mr. Lair was identified with the Western Electric Company.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Bess W. Lair, nee Weisiver; his mother, Mrs. D. L. Lair of Denver, and three sisters, Miss Cora B. Lair, Tulsa, Okla.; Mrs. C. E. Bennett, Silver City, N. M., who came to Pasadena for the service, and Mrs. W. L. McClelland of Denver. The body will be taken to Springfield, Mo., where Mr. Lair was born, November 7, 1876.

Grant Oil Tool Patent Upheld

Patents owned by the Grant Oil Tool Company on rotary underreamers, extensively used in oil-well drilling operations, are declared to be valid in a decision filed yesterday by United States Commissioner Head, sitting as special master in chancery in a suit of the tool company against the H. C. Smith Manufacturing Company.

The difference between the two companies has been under litigation for nearly a year. In the decision it is indicated that the under-reamers manufactured and sold by the H. C. Smith Manufacturing Company are an infringement. Recommendation is made that the Grant Tool Company be granted an injunction restraining the H. C. Smith Manufacturing Company from hereafter manufacturing, using or selling the assertedly infringing under-reamers. Provision also is made for an accounting of profits and damages for the asserted infringement.

Wife Divorces Wood's Nephew

Jacob H. Wood, Jr., said to be a nephew of the late Gen. Leonard Wood, was divorced by his wife, Gladys Marjorie Wood, in the court of Superior Judge Rosenkranz, it appeared from records of the case on file yesterday.

Mrs. Wood testified that her husband left her, without cause, and that despite her tearful pleadings, he refused to return to her.

SKYWAYS COP BEGINS DUTIES

Ready to Go After Offending Aviators

Culver City Aerial Policeman Takes Oath
Maj. Bob Blair sworn in by City Clerk Garnett as Chief of Police Hendry watches the ceremony. Sally Starr, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer actress, presents the new officer with his badge.

HEREAFTER the aviator who flies too low or stunts suddenly may hear behind him the siren of a black-and-orange plane with a police shield on it.

Culver City boasts one of the few aerial policemen in the world. He is Maj. Bob Blair, Army aviator, now with the Culver City police. He was sworn in yesterday by City Clerk Garnett, and Sally Starr, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer actress, pinned on his new badge at the ceremonies at the Culver City police airport. Blair's office was created by Chief of Police Hendry.

The new aerial policeman also represents the United States Department of Commerce, which gives him authority to have aviators' licenses revoked in case of infractions of law. He will patrol the skies to prevent low flying and dangerous stunting over the city, and to maintain aerial traffic lanes. He also will warn aviators away from studios during the filming of sound pictures.

The new police plane is a Stearman open two-seater, with 5-J Whirlwind motor.

DOPE RAID NETS FIVE PRISONERS

Eighty-nine Prescriptions for Narcotics, Recently Stolen, Recovered

With the arrest of four men and a woman on charge of violating the Harrison Narcotic Act, following a raid on a house at 535 Willow street, police, State and Federal fficers yesterday recovered eighty-nine of a batch of 180 numbered narcotic prescriptions recently reported stolen and for which an intensive search has been prosecuted in haunts of the underworld.

Those taken in custody gave their names as Joseph Creamer, his wife, Ruth; Nicholas Portz, Claude Logsdon and O. Percy Howe. The latter two, police charge, are addicts. They say Howe is an ex-convict.

Three of the eighty-nine prescriptions, according to the raiding officers, were ready for presentation for filling at any drug store, the names of established physicians having been forged to them. The remainder were complete except for forged signatures. In addition to the blanks, it is asserted, a large quantity of narcotics was confiscated.

The raid was led by Detective-Lieutenant Yoakum, head of the police narcotic squad.

Angeleno Wins in Photography

A $250 prize was delivered yesterday to Gordon Scott of 727 South Spring street for a photograph he submitted in a nation-wide amateur photographers' contest conducted by the Eastman Kodak Company. Scott's entry won second prize in the architectural studies classification of the contest, in which hundreds of thousands of amateur photographers competed.

Two other Southern California amateurs who won major prizes are Barton Bachmann of 619 Eleventh street, Redlands, $300 first prize in still life classification, and Mrs. C. R. Woodbury of 419 North Milton avenue, Whittier, $100 in the enlargement contest. Eighteen Angelenos won $10 awards.

Monnette Again Library Chief

The library board at its weekly session unanimously re-elected Orra E. Monnette as president. He recently was reappointed by Mayor Porter in recognition of his many years of service in assisting to build up a library system which now ranks fourth in the United States public libraries.

Mr. Monnette thanked his fellow-board members for the honor paid him and said the friendships and opportunities afforded him through his connection with the library are among the most prized relationships of his busy career. Francis J. Conaty was re-elected vice-president and accepted the office with appreciation.

Werdin Renamed Fire Board Head

With only three of its members present, the Fire Commission yesterday organized for the ensuing year, as the charter specifies this step must be taken before the end of July. Ernest R. Werdin was re-elected president and Rex W. Laws was re-elected vice-president.

The other member present was P. J. Wilson. Commissioner William N. Wenning arrived at the meeting after the election had been held. The term of the fifth commissioner, George W. Rochester, has expired, but Mayor Porter has not yet appointed anyone to replace him.

STREET LAND AVAILABLE

Final judgment has been rendered in favor of the city in the condemnation proceedings for the widening of Banning Boulevard between J and Anaheim streets, the City Attorney yesterday advised the Council, adding that the land is now available for street purposes.

MAPS SUBMITTED

The assessment district maps for the improvement of Brier avenue between Teviot street and Glendale Boulevard and for the Carlton Way and Glencoe avenue district were submitted to the Council yesterday by City Engineer Shaw and referred to the Public Works Committee.

ACTION IN TAXI CASE DELAYED

Application for More Fords Cabs Under Advisement

Hearing by Utilities Board Consumes All Day

Objector Refuses Answer to Lawyer's Query

After an all day hearing, attended by representatives of all the taxicab companies now operating in this city, the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation took under advisement the application of the General Cab Company for twenty-two additional cab permits and the same number of additional stand permits. The hearing was conducted in accordance with the board's new policy of requiring applicants for taxicab permits to show that public convenience and necessity require that they be issued.

At present the General company, which was formed to operate the new Ford taxicabs at a lower fare than that charged by any other company in the city, has only twenty-five cab permits and twenty-three stands. It originally had applied for sixty-eight additional permits, but since making the original application virtually has completed negotiations to purchase the Crown Cab Company, which has 102 cab permits and about seventy-five stands. Therefore, only twenty-two new permits were asked for yesterday, the argument being made that this number is required at this time even with the increased facilities to be provided by the absorption of the Crown company, inasmuch as it is hoped to retain most of that company's present business.

OBJECTIONS MADE

Most of the day was devoted to hearing witnesses called by Elmer Robinson, attorney for the General company, to establish the existence of a public necessity for the placing of the additional cabs on the street. The board, before closing the hearing, invited any person who objected to the granting of the permit to submit testimony to controvert the arguments which had been presented but the only one of the representatives of the opposition companies present who took advantage of the invitation was Arthur O. Smith, president of the Yellow Cab Company.

Lieut. J. B. Peyton of the police department also announced himself as an objector to the granting of the permits but questioned by Henry M. Burgeson, president of the board, brought out that the lieutenant appeared merely to enter a general objection by the traffic division of the department to overloading the downtown streets with more cabs than are necessary.

He said he had no interest in the particular application before the board and agreed that it is for the board to decide whether the number of cabs on the streets now are sufficient to supply the needs of the public.

REFUSES TO ANSWER

Mr. Smith submitted his opinion as an expert and backed it by figures covering the operations of his company to show that additional taxicabs are not needed in this city. When, in cross-examining him, however, Attorney Robinson asserted that the figures presented were not sufficient to bear out his contentions and asked him some additional details concerning the expenditures of his company, Mr. Smith characterized the questions as "impertinent" and refused to answer.

The attorney's final question was what Mr. Smith's reason for opposing the General company's application is. He replied that it was mainly because his company had improved conditions for its drivers and is averse to seeing what the company had done in that respect destroyed. Earlier in his testimony he had stated that his company had raised the standard of taxicab service in this city by raising the standard of its driver personnel.

The chief argument advanced by the General company to prove the existence of a genuine need for the placing of more cabs on the streets was the assertion that at present it has to refuse more than 350 calls for cabs a day because it hasn't the equipment to supply the demand. This assertion was made first by V. C. Shaffer, president of the company, and he was supported by two of the company's dispatchers, John Walker and Robert E. Britton.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Reservations from film players, song composers, vaudeville artists, and other "who's who" of Hollywood, forecast a brilliant premiere for "Futuristique," new musical revue which opens at the Pom Pom Hollywood, tonight, with elaborate costumes and settings designed by Lee Pontaine.

"Tapestry of Girls," an artist's models posing tableau from the Folies Bergere, Paris, will be an outstanding feature, with the Pom Pom girls also appearing in "Moonlight on the Riviera," bathing beach episode; "Eight Little Devils," rhythm number; "Parade of the Gendarmettes," drill routine, and "Futuristic Babies," dance specialty.

CONTINENTAL LUNCHEONS

Continental buffet luncheons are an innovation introduced at the Roosevelt main dining rooms on Tuesdays and Thursdays by Carl Schweitzer, the new supervising steward. Eugene Stark, managing director, featured these luncheons while he was manager at the Hillcrest Country Club, and has arranged to have them introduced at this time at the Roosevelt, as they are particularly suited to the summer season.

ENTERTAINMENT FEATURES

With Proff Moore and his orchestra, Paul Whiteman's Rhythm Boys and Danny O'Shea on the bill, the Montmartre Cafe is enjoying one of the finest programs of entertainment ever given in Los Angeles. Besides the two musical aggregations, the impromptu entertainment participated in by stage and screen players, with Danny O'Shea as master of ceremonies, is a highly successful feature of the entertainment.

GROUP PICKED TO HELP BLIND

Committee Will Launch New State Workshop

Law Gives $50,000 to Start Industry for Afflicted

Many Details on Project Up to Board Selected

A group of representative Los Angeles citizens, interested in social betterment, has been named by Earl E. Jensen, director of State Department of Institutions, to serve as a committee to work out plans for the proposed workshop for the blind to be established in this city. Establishment of such an institution was authorized by the last Legislature and approved by Gov. Young. The law becomes effective August 15, next. A total of $50,000 of State funds will be available for the project.

Those named by Jensen to the committee are Dr. Charles W. Decker, Mrs. Boyle Workman, H. D. Hicker, William Stevens and Sam Carpenter, Dr. Decker has been named chairman.

Although several days must elapse before the new law, creating the workshop for the blind becomes effective, Director Jensen declared yesterday that he is anxious to proceed with preliminary plans and that everything possible will be done by the committee to speed up the work and get the proposed shop ready for operation at an early date. As soon as the committee is ready to make a report, a call will be issued by Director Jensen to all the blind persons in Southern California who are interested in assisting in the program to confer with the committee, Jensen said.

The proposed workshop is designed as a training center and outlet for activities of the blind and it is fitting, Mr. Jensen pointed out, that before final plans are adopted, representative blind people should be consulted.

Jensen expressed keen pleasure yesterday over the acceptance by the committee members of the task before them.

Selection of a location for the shop, the choosing of employees, determination of the crafts to be taught and many other matters connected with the project are in the hands of the committee.

WINE TONIC FOE CAUSES ORAL CLASH

Councilmen Randall and Ingram Exchange Words Over Committee Conduct

Councilman Randall, who now is busy attempting to have the sale of wine tonics outlawed, yesterday engaged in a passage at arms with Councilman Ingram, who is chairman of the Public Welfare Committee, to which Randall's resolution on the matter has been referred.

The committee has not had a meeting this week and at the close of the Council session yesterday Mr. Randall demanded to know when his resolution will be considered.

"In due time," replied Councilman Ingram. "We have asked the City Attorney for an opinion to see if the Gandier ordinance (the old city liquor law) does not cover the situation. There are two sides to this question and you'll have your say."

Mr. Randall was persistent, and Ingram flashed back, "You run your committee and let me try to run my own."

BANKRUPT FRAUD CHARGED

Pasadena Doctor Accused of Making False Oath Concerning Expensive Auto

Accused of making a false oath in bankruptcy proceedings, Dr. William P. Seibert of 1611 Huntington Drive, South Pasadena, yesterday was named in a complaint issued by the office of the United States Attorney.

The accusation, according to Acting United States Attorney Peterson, who ordered the complaint against the doctor, resulted from an asserted act on the part of Seibert in transferring an expensive automobile to another person some time prior to March, 1927, at which time he went through bankruptcy proceedings. Later the automobile was returned to him, it is charged.

According to Peterson, the matter was brought to his attention by another physician, Dr. H. J. Strathearn, of 6381 Hollywood Boulevard, employer of Miss Emma Diener, a Swiss, formerly in the employ of the Seibert family. Seibert, it is asserted, transferred the automobile to Miss Diener, who, unwittingly became a party to the transaction and returned the automobile to her employer later.

Miss Diener now is in this country on an extension of leave, having been ordered deported for overstaying the time allotted her, Peterson said. An effort will be made to have the time further extended until the disposition of the case against Seibert, he said.

Former Arizona Mayor Dies Here

J. O. Keating, 75 years of age, one time Mayor of Florence, Ariz., and a member of the Territorial Legislature in 1905-07, died at Los Angeles today. The body was taken to Bresee Brothers Mortuary at 808 South Figueroa street. It will be taken to Florence for interment. Two daughters, Mrs. Mary Friday, 4140 Second avenue, Los Angeles, and Mrs. E. Ayers, of Houston, Tex., survive him.

Mr. Keating came to Los Angeles three months ago for treatment. In 1907 Mr. Keating was the author of a bill which provided for the construction of a bridge over the Gila River, at Florence.

Concert Pianist Claims Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ziegler

MISS GILLINGHAM WEDDED

Ceremony Celebrated in Church of the Flowers; Honeymoon Postponed Six Months

In the soft glow of a candle-lit altar Miss Patricia C. Gillingham last night at 7 o'clock became the bride of Robert Ziegler, musician and concert pianist of this city, at the Little Church of the Flowers, Glendale, with friends and relatives as witnesses to the ceremony.

The bride, in a gown of ivory satin and tulle veil with turban headdress, carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and golden Ophelia roses. Her attendants were Mrs. Ann O'Rourke of Beverly Hills, matron of honor, and a niece, Barbara Gillingham, the flower girl. Capt. Harry Oelrich served the groom as best man. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the Beverly-Wilshire Hotel. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, J. E. Gillingham of this city.

Ziegler, who is the concert pianist of the Carthay Circle Theater, received his musical education at the Royal Conservatory of Music at The Hague. He is a brother of Frans Ziegler, portrait artist.

On account of Mr. Ziegler's concert engagements, the couple were unable to leave for a honeymoon but in six months they expect to sail for Europe for a trip of several months' duration.

PROTEST GETS RESULTS

Because property owners pleaded that the project is not immediately necessary, and that petition circulators had misrepresented the situation, the Council referred to the Public Works Committee the improvement of Vose street between Hester avenue and Sepulveda Boulevard. Hearing of protests against the improvement of City View avenue between St. Louis and Britania streets was continued until January 9, next.

FUNERAL OF MRS. ROSOK TOMORROW

Former School-teacher Helped Train Many of City's Leaders

Funeral services for Mrs. Dagmar J. Rosok of Bisbee, Ariz., former Los Angeles school - teahare who died here Wednesday, will be conducted tomorrow at 11 a.m. at St. Paul's Cathedral, 615 South Figueroa street.

Mrs. Rosok, 48 years of age, died following a major operation. She was the wife of I. A. Rosok, general manager of the Arizona Edison Company, and had in her classes at the old Normal School and Manual Arts High School many students who now are leaders in Los Angeles.

Before coming to Los Angeles in 1907, Mrs. Rosok attended the public schools of St. Paul, Minn., and was graduated from the University of Minnesota with membership in Sigma Xi, honorary scientific fraternity.

Mrs. Rosok also attended Stanford University and taught school until her marriage in 1913. She was a member of St. Paul's Cathedral, president of the Young Women's Christian Association at Bisbee, member of the Pearl Chapter of Eastern Star and member of Daughters of Isis.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Rosok leaves a son, Norman M. Rosok, and a brother, Constan Jensen, a local attorney.

DEPUTIES IN MERCY ROLE

The pursuit and capture of criminals is not the only duty of deputy sheriffs, it was revealed yesterday when Capt. William J. Bright, chief of the homicide investigation detail, ordered his men to watch the highways and intercept a man named T. L. Jones of Greenville, Tex., to advise him that a death message awaits him at his home city.

The message which came to the Sheriff's office is brief and does not reveal details. It reads:

"Please watch highways for Texas car, Pontiac model, license No. 596-404, driven by T. L. Jones—death message. Call hotels." The telegram is signed J. T. McIntyre.

Capt. Bright requested the aid of all nine substations and requested his deputies to communicate with all Los Angeles hotels in an attempt to reach Mr. Jones.

EIGHT STUDENT PILOTS CHOSEN

Goodyear Names Group to be Given Training

Two Winners Natives of Southland

Will Qualify as Captains of Zeppelins

Eight young men, two of them natives of Southern California, will embark this morning on a course which is scheduled to end with six of them qualified to take the controls of the world's largest and most modern carriers of the air—a fleet of giant Goodyear Zeppelins to be placed in operation over the Pacific Ocean in 1932.

Out of a crowd of 300 applicants the eight dirigible pilot aspirants were selected last night to compete for the six billets on an intensive three-year course, which the Goodyear organization will offer. It was not announced at what stage of the course two of the selected eight will be dropped.

With the arrival in Los Angeles of the Goodyear blimp Volunteer, under the command of Lieuts. Karl Lange and Bud Campbell, an opportunity was offered to all young men of the local Goodyear organization to compete for a place in the lighter-than-air class.

TWO SOUTHLANDERS

Lieut. Lange first selected fifteen men from the 300 to demonstrate their capabilities as members of the ground crew for the Volunteer. Each of the eight men have passed the Department of Commerce physical examination required for a transport pilot license.

On the basis of technical education, experience and general aptitude the local Goodyear executive committee made final selection of the eight men last night. Those on the committee are: John Mapel, president, Goodyear of California; E. J. Thomas, vice-president; J. K. Hough, sales manager, and H. J. Young, comptroller.

Frank J. Collins of Monrovia, and Fred Lueders of Santa Barbara, are the two Southern Californians to win a place in the student group. Collins was a student of economics at the University of California at Los Angeles, while Lueders is the son of a Santa Barbara art professor.

The other six student pilots range from musicians to navy mechanics.

OTHER WINNERS

Herbert McDuffie Moore of La Mars, Iowa, is a musician and graduate of a technical college.

Allan Thornton Hunt graduated from the United States Naval Academy and has a military record as an officer in the Marine Corps.

Richard C. Colburn also is an Annapolis graduate and qualified as an airplane pilot at Brooks Field, Tex. He is a native of Connecticut.

Donald C. Powers of Michigan is a veteran navy aviation mechanic. He was stationed during the World War at Coco Solo and has gained a wealth of experience on lighter-than-air ships.

Charles F. Hill was not selected because of any technical education or experience, but won a place in the class because of his natural aptitude for flying and ability to learn, the committee reported.

Wells P. Hall of Grand Forks, N. D., likewise won recognition and will fight for a place in the final selection.

The training program will commence immediately at the local Goodyear flying field with preliminary ground work. Then the men will be sent to Akron, O., for free balloon training under the direction of Jack Boettner, veteran airship pilot and chief pilot of Goodyear-Zeppelin.

Training on ships of the Volunteer class will follow before the men board rigid dirigibles for senior instruction. It is probable, Goodyear officials indicated, that the final part of the training also will be conducted in Los Angeles, as it is anticipated at least one rigid ship will be moored here within the next two years.

Kern Grapes Start Moving

LERDO, July 23.—The first large commercial shipment of Kern county grapes this season was made from this district today when a carload of the Dizmar variety was shipped for export to New Zealand, L. A. Burtch, agricultural commissioner, reported. From now until about August 10 shipments are expected to increase steadily in volume until the peak has been attained for grapes of the table varieties, the commissioner said.

The first carload of Thompson seedless grapes was to be shipped from the Arvin district today, he reported.

NO MORE DOGS FOR THIS BOY

Davey Bruckman

BOY BITTEN BY MAD DOG WILL LIVE

Compton Lad Has Narrow Escape from Rabies Due to Delay in Case

Davey Bruckman, 911 West Poplar street, Compton, will not die from the rabies. The 9-year-old boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bruckman, was bitten by a mad dog last week while delivering bills on West Spruce street.

After being attacked by the animal, which later was declared to have had a positive case of the rabies, the boy ran away and his identity was not learned until Captain of Police Judd De Witt found him in a house-to-house canvas of the Spruce-street neighborhood and took him to the Compton Health Center for treatment.

The teeth of the animal apparently did not penetrate deeply. Marks of the fangs were visible on his foot and on his arm. His shirt was badly torn.

At the Health Center he was given treatment and will be carefully watched. After the death of the dog, an examination was made of its brain by county health authorities and it was stated that the animal had a positive case of rabies.

COOKING CLASS TODAY LAST BEFORE RECESS

The Times cooking school program for this afternoon is as follows: Apricot souffle, stuffed avocado salad, sunshine cake (request,) filled cookies and cocoa bread. These will be prepared by Mrs. Mabelle (Chef) Wyman in the Demonstration Auditorium of the Southwest Building, 139 South Broadway. As announced earlier in the week, the Times cooking classes will take a short vacation and this is the last demonstration prior to the vacation. Classes will be resumed on Tuesday, August 30.

CONFESSED SLAYER WILL ESCAPE TRIAL

CLAYTON (N. M.) July 23. (AP)—Sheriff A. W. Tanner of Union county does not want Sam Watson, 69 years of age, confessed slayer of a Folsom (N. M.) saloon keeper in 1893, because Tanner doesn't believe he could try Watson if he had him. The Sheriff refused to finance a trip for Watson from Spokane, Wash., to New Mexico to stand trial for murder. He said as far as he is able to determine, all of the persons who might have been used as witnesses against Watson are dead.

KHJ ANNOUNCES BILL OF VARIETY

Allman-Peterson Duet One of Tonight's Features

Tabloid Radio Minstrel Also Included in Program

Continuity Presentation Will be Out of Ordinary

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

KHJ, the Don Lee station, is to present some excellent programs tonight during the evening hours. At 7 o'clock Elvia Allman and Ralph Peterson will team up for a duet number, "You Did," from "The 5 o'Clock Girl."

A special arrangement of Lange's "Nalla," by the orchestra, will be followed with "My Inspiration Is You;" the Rimsky-Korsakov "Flight of the Bumble Bee" and "March of the Marionettes." The male quartet will sing, "Where Is the Song of Songs."

Then a tabloid minstrel radio version at 7:30 will feature old-time melodies and gag lines. The Roamers, KHJ male quartet, will be heard in novelty numbers.

The 8 o'clock broadcast will endeavor to portray, through the medium of music, the rushing reverberation of mighty rivers, the rustling noises of the forest, of the meadow and the wigwam.

The interpretations will be done by the studio symphony and the singing ensemble. "Pale Moon," "From an Indian Pueblo," "Land of Sleepy Water," "Hiawatha's Melody of Love" and others in similar theme will be included in the continuity offering.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Inglaterra Reza Porque Llueva

LONDRES, Julio 23.—Ha llegado a tal grado la sequía por toda Inglaterra, que las autoridades eclesiásticas están encareciendo la necesidad de elevar a Dios plegarias especiales pidiendo la lluvia.

Los obispos de Bradford, Ripon y Wakefield han sugerido al clero de sus diócesis, que están todas en Yorkshire, condado donde ha sido mayor la sequía, que se hagan oraciones especiales en sus iglesias "hasta que no cese de manera completa la actual sequía."

Se Traspasa una Empresa de Contrabando de Licor

PORT COLBORNE (Ontario), Julio 23.—El más considerable exportador de licor en Bridgeport acaba de traspasar todo su negocio a un contrabandista de aguardiente del Río de Detroit. Tal noticia se sabe aquí de fuente auténtica.

El referido matutero posee y ha estado explotando una flotilla de dieciocho lanchas. Témese que el anunciado traspaso dé lugar a delitos de "hi-jacking" y de otras clases, tan luego como el nuevo propietario de Detroit llegue y se ponga en actividad.

Doyle y Wells Abogarán por un Matador "Misericordioso"

TOULON (Francia), Julio 23.—Según comunicaciones recibidas aquí hoy de Sir Arthur Conan Doyle y H. G. Wells, estos dos famosos escritores ingleses desean prestar declaraciones favorables a Richard Corbett, el joven que mató a su madre de un balazo para evitarle los cruentos dolores del cáncer. El jurado de este compasivo parricida comenzará en Octubre próximo.

Corbett, hijo de padre inglés y madre francesa, estaba tan angustiado de ver sufrir tan horrorosamente a la autora de sus días, que le dio un balazo y luego se dio él otro. El suceso ocurrió en Mayo último en su casa de Hyers, cerca de ésta. El muchacho se restableció tras varias semanas de hospital.

Corbett, su padre, que tenía un banco en Hyers, murió hace algunos años. Era muy conocido de la colonia británica de la Riviera, particularmente de Wells, que vive en los alrededores de Hyers.

Mueller Pasa Tranquilo la Noche

HEIDELBERG, Julio 23.—El canciller Hermann Mueller, jefe del gabinete alemán, que se está restableciendo de una operación que se le practicó en el seno biliar, pasó con tranquilidad la noche de ayer; pero dicen sus médicos que no se halla, ni mucho menos, fuera de peligro.

Al paciente lo tiene muy molesto el intenso calor que hace; pero su temperatura ha sido normal.

Las Dos Esposas de un Mismo Hombre se Resuelven a Vivir Juntas

OAKLAND, Julio 23.—Clifford Callahan, convicto de bigamia, ha sido sentenciado hoy a diez años de reclusión en la penitenciaría de San Quintín. Según el testimonio prestado durante el juicio, Callahan posee tres esposas.

Dos de ellas, la que se llamó Angelina Williams, de Berkeley, y la que, soltera, llevó el nombre de Ava Montgomery, y es de Los Angeles, se proponen vivir juntas con los tres hijos de Callahan, mientras este último purga su condena en la prisión. Angelina va a trabajar para sostener el hogar, y Ava va a ser la señora de casa.

Callahan fue aprehendido en Los Angeles, luego que regresó de Missuri, donde se había casado con una tercera mujer.

Un Sospechoso de Haber Apuñaleado Presta Testimonio en su Favor

Mathew Guidera, acusado de haber atacado con cuchillo y bastón a la señora Mary Sherrill, ocupó ayer la barra de los testigos, en su propia defensa, en la sala del juez superior Schmidt.

Declaró Guidera que, hallándose sentado en la playa con su acompañadora, ésta le echó en cara que no le daba más que $380. "Eso es apenas alimento para pollos", dijole la señora, según declaró el reo. "A mí me hacen falta $10,000."

Entonces, según el relato del acusado, la señora Sherrill sacó una hoja de navaja barbera, y dijo que iba a darse un tajo.

El Alcalde Porter Revista a los Cadetes en el Puerto

Haciendo a un lado, por un rato, las labores de reorganización urbana, el alcalde Porter se dirigió ayer a nuestro puerto, y allí pasó en revista a los 154 cadetes que están recibiendo instrucción, y a sus doce oficiales. Tienen su campamento de instrucción militar ciudadana en la reservación del Puerto MacArthur. El campamento se disolverá el próximo martes, tras un mes de ejercios militares.

Street Car Employees Here Saved From "Investigation" as Police Arrest Detroit Man on Warrant of Ten Irate Friends, But Victim Blames Sly Slicker

Street-car employees here are not to be spied upon by Charles E. Seib, alias George E. Williams, who yesterday was arrested at 244 South Olive street, where he has been living since arriving from Detroit a week ago. Local police are holding Seib for the Detroit officers, who wired they have a warrant sworn out by ten of his irate friends. Seib says he was used as a cat's-paw by a slick swindler and Detective Lieutenant Reed, who arrested him, says he believes it. Seib's story is weird.

In Detroit Seib was approached by a man he identified as J. F. Walker, who represented himself as confidential investigator of the Detroit street railways. Walker said he was projecting a very secret investigation requiring the service of ten trusty men. Seib was taken on as the first one, after he posted with Walker a $300 cash bond to assure proper secrecy. He enlisted ten equally trustful friends from whom he collected $300 each which he turned over to Walker. After a week of secretive investigating, Walker told Seib he was going to Los Angeles to investigate street-car men. He ordered Seib to meet him here.

Seib, his wife and little child came here by bus. Their money was exhausted. After waiting five days for Walker to keep his rendezvous, Seib hopped a freight train and started back for Detroit, leaving his wife working in a hotel. Seib got as far as San Bernardino and then returned here to learn the police were looking for him. He went to Central Police Station yesterday and surrendered after learning that the ten friends who gave up $300 apiece have accused him of swindling them.

Seib says it's all a mistake and that Walker got all the "cash bonds."

SALESMEN & CLOSERS, READ THIS.

Can you leave town for 90 days? If so, see Mr. Mar, the $5,000,000 country club deal on Monterey Bay, opened 3 days ago and is selling like hot-cakes. We haven't half enough men to handle our prospects; real qualified buyers walking around after the lectures without being talked to. We are running them in by boat, giving a real lunch, but we have got to have more men and we need them quick.

WE WILL FURNISH YOUR EXPENSES TO THE PROPERTY, AND GIVE YOU COMFORTABLE LIVING QUARTERS FREE. That means you can save $25 to $50 a week. Come with plenty of money in your pockets and an enjoyable sumer behind you.

Also there are some jobs open which will last for three years. This is your big chance, take advantage of it. Call Mr. Morgan Friday morning PROMPTLY at 10 o'clock.
